Crucible Announces Reorganization

4 New Directors Named, Stock Action Planned

The addition of a widely-known American industrial leader to the Crucible Steel Co. board of directors and a proposed redemption of the entire issue of Crucible common stock was announced today at Pittsburgh.

Norton Simon, chairman of the Hunt Food & Industries finance committee and chairman of the board of the Wheeling Steel Corp., was added to the Crucible board along with three other new members.

Three current members of the board resigned to make way for the reorganization.

Joel H. Hunter, Crucible president, said recent action in the market suggesting large accumulations of stock by undisclosed persons led him and the board to invite Hunt Foods and Simon to take an active role in the direction of the company through membership on the board and acquisition of substantial investment.

Named with Simon were Jack R. Clumek, vice chairman of Hunt's finance committee; Robert M. Morris, president of Wheeling Steel, and Raymond Rich, chairman of the McCall Corp.

They take the seats formerly held by Richard Aishton, retired banker; Robinson Barker, vice president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., and E. L. Smith, chairman of the SCN Corp.

Simon was in addition elected chairman of the Crucible finance committee, which will include Hunter, Clumec, Rich and James Higgins, senior vice president of the Mellon National Bank & Trust Co.

Simon said he was pleased to take part this way and said Hunt's substantial investment "is an indication of the high regard for Crucible management and the value of its stock."

Wheeling Steel is a producer of carbon steel and does not produce products competitive with Crucible.

A special meeting of the Crucible board has been called for Friday to consider redemption of the entire issue of common stock.

Hunter noted that no decision has been reached—"the matter will be dealt with Friday."

The $100 par value of stock is callable at $103, but for a 30-day period can be converted into 3.44 shares of common stock.

There are 99,882 shares of preferred stock outstanding.

If all were converted, the common shares would increase from 3,879,069 to about 4,222,760.

Hunter said concerning rumors of a link with U. S. Smelting that he never had been in contact with officials of that corporation.

Johnson's State Of Union Message Awaited Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson goes before Congress tonight with a war and peace report expected to provide for continuing his "Great Society" domestic program.

In a State of the Union address to be carried by radio and television networks at 9 p.m. EST, Johnson planned to bring members up to date on his Viet Nam peace offensive aimed at starting negotiations with the Communists to end the Southeast Asia fighting.

There was no advance indication that he would be able to announce any response from a memorandum covering U.S. peace objectives passed directly to North Vietnamese representatives.

But while Radio Hanoi continued to berate the President's call for unconditional discussions, the absence of any formal public rejection of the memorandum stirred some hopes in Congress that there may be grounds for believing they might yet materialize.

A presidential pledge to continue the search for peace was expected to soften the grim possibility that the war may have to be accelerated if the Communists persist in refusing to talk.

Aides indicated Johnson may come up with some over-all total, ranging between $110 billion and $115 billion, for a new budget. Any such total, for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, would not include the $12 billion to $13 billion in additional funds administration officials have been talking about to finance the war.

Johnson said in a letter from which AFL-CIO President George Meany quoted Tuesday that he is "determined to press ahead in building the Great Society." Meany had expressed fears in a letter to the President that mounting war costs might force a cutback in domestic programs, such as the war on poverty.

The union leader said that through efficient management eliminating outmoded functions, and reductions in some other areas, Johnson said substantial savings had been found to finance the social programs the first session of Congress voted.

Even though he holds expenditures in the latter field to about this year's level, Johnson seems likely to face demands for reductions from a Congress that appears bent on making the Viet Nam war its overriding order of business.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, told about the Meany letter, made it clear that if the war is escalated, he thinks domestic spending will have to be cut.

"All my life," he said, "I have been devoted to the American dream. But I don't think it can be accomplished overnight when there's a war on."

Dirksen and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford arranged to hold a news conference 15 minutes after the President concludes his address. Republicans may come up next week with a statement of their position on Viet Nam and its impact on domestic programs.

Shastri Funeral Held

India's Political Future Eyed By Nation's Leaders

NEW DELHI, India, (AP) — Leaders of India's ruling Congress party began discussing the political future today as the body of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was consigned to funeral flames by the holy Jumna River.

More than a million mourning Indians looked on as Shastri's eldest son, Hari Kishan, touched a blazing torch to the funeral pyre of sandalwood in accordance with Hindu rites.

A few moments before this final act, Shastri's successor, Prime Minister Gulzarilal Nanda, climbed the steps to the top of the pyre and stood silently, his face agonized with grief.

Standing nearby were Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and many other foreign representatives.

Despite their grief, Nanda and Uumaraswami Kamaraj, president of the Congress party, met early today to discuss election of a new parliamentary leader who traditionally is asked to form a new government.

There was no indication whether this meant that a challenge to Nanda was developing in the party. As home minister he was No. 2 man in Shastri's Cabinet, and his elevation after Shastri's death was automatic. At present he is believed likely to hold the top job until general elections next year.

At least three strong political figures are known to want the post of prime Minister. They are Defense Minister Y.B. Chavan; Mrs. Indira Gandhi, information minister and daughter of the late Jawaharlal Nehru, and right-wing leader Morarji Desai.

Nanda served for five days as interim prime minister after

U.S. Troops Kill 23 Reds In Big Push

Uncover, Destroy Network Of Tunnels Near Iron Triangle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. troops killed 23 Viet Cong and uncovered and destroyed a network of tunnels more than a mile square today as they continued their biggest push of the war to drive the guerrillas from the edge of the Iron Triangle.

The day's report raised the Communist toll in five days of Operation Crimp to 107 insurgents killed and 80 captured. Weapons and supplies seized included 122 personal guns, 20 automatic weapons, a mortar, a recoilless rifle, 25,000 rounds of ammunition and 71 tons of rice.

As the Americans kept up their destructive blows on the edge of the Saigon River 25 miles northwest of the capital, U.S. and Vietnamese spokesman reported 236 American and Vietnamese soldiers killed or missing last week compared with 714 Viet Cong killed or captured.

A U.S. military spokesman said American casualties for the week were 43 killed, 202 wounded and two missing or captured. The week before American casualties were 34 dead, 116 wounded and five missing or captured.

The South Vietnamese reported 118 of their men killed and 73 missing last week but refused to give the number of wounded.

More than two dozen B52 Stratofortresses swept in from Guam to continue their almost daily bombardment of Viet Cong targets. They dropped more than 750,000 pounds of bombs on a Communist stronghold near the Cambodian border and a Viet Cong settlement south of Da Nang.

With the steady rise of Communist casualties and materiel losses in Operation Crimp, initial disappointment among U.S. officers gradually yielded to some measure of satisfaction, although the big sweep still had not resulted in a major battle with the guerrillas.

There was no indication of any letup in the operation, which involves more than 8,000 troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry

Flames Break Out Just After Husband Leaves For Work

A Hookstown housewife and her two oldest sons evacuated her four other children from their two - story brick home early this morning when fire broke out in the furnace room under the kitchen.

Mrs. Eunice Petkovich of Washington St., Hookstown, said she got up to attend to her 1½-year-old son Jeffrey at 6:20 when she noticed the hallway on the second floor was filled with smoke.

"The first thing I did was to arouse the two oldest boys, Jon, 16 and Joe, 15, and they helped me get Jary, 11, Michael, 9, Polly, 4, and Jeffrey out of the house. We put them in the car and wrapped blankets around them to keep them warm," Mrs. Petkovich said.

"My husband, Jon, had left for work at the St. Joe Lead Co. in Monaca about 6. One of the neighbors called him and told him of the fire after the Hookstown department had been summoned," she said.

The department arrived at the house at 6:50 and had the fire under control by 8. The entire kitchen and living room of the home was destroyed and the rest of the dwelling suffered water and smoke damage.

Mediators Push New York Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Mediators get together with Mayor John V. Lindsay today to outline steps they think should be taken to end New York's lengthening transit crisis.

After another long day and night of negotiations with solution seemingly no closer, Dr. Nathan P. Feinsinger, head of the three-man mediation group, said:

"We plan to indicate to (Lindsay) the procedures which the panel believes should be followed to resolve this dispute and bring about a resumption of work at the earliest possible moment."

If rumors had been bargaining table agreements Tuesday the strike would have been ended.

Throughout the day the city was abuzz with rumors that the strike would be over within hours.

In Washington, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said, "If the figures that have been given me prove correct, they are not so far apart and they ought to get a settlement in a day or so."

But when the negotiations finally broke up at 2:05 a.m. today a solution was not in sight, dashing the hopes of the 7.5 million persons left stranded by the strike.

The mediators gave no hint of what recommendations they would make to Lindsay.

Douglas MacMahon, acting chief of the striking AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, had all but derailed proposals made by Lindsay for means other than negotiations to end the 12-day walkout of bus and subway workers.

Feinsinger said he had reported to Lindsay "the substance of the reports submitted by the Transit Authority and the striking TWU and Amalgamated Transit Union, AFL-CIO.

He said the replies to the three alternatives proposed by the mayor did not "in their present form at least" provide "a basis for agreement on the use of recommendations by ei-

Brazil Deaths In Landslides Mount To 131

Officials Fear Toll May Pass 150 With New Slides Expected

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Torrential rains threatened new landslides in Rio de Janeiro today as authorities reported the known dead in two days of flood had reached 131. They feared the toll would surpass 150.

An estimated 40 more deaths from floods were reported in nearby Niteroi, and other casualties were reported in the mountain resorts of Petropolis, Teresopolis and Cachoeira de Macacu. Communication breakdowns prevented details reaching Rio.

The Rio morgue was crowded with the bodies of 122 victims, and police believed more than 200 have perished in floods and slides set off by the worst downpour in the history of this 400-year-old city.

Nearly one foot of rain has fallen in the past day and the Weather Bureau foresaw no letup.

Restraining Order Lifted

Way Cleared For Hearing At Lisbon On Tax Tangle

A federal court at Pittsburgh Tuesday lifted a restraining order granted last April and, in effect, cleared the way for a hearing on an action in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in which an East Liverpool man questions the right of the municipal governments in East Liverpool and Midland to collect income taxes from him because he is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Judge Louis Rosenberg dissolved the order which he had issued in Pittsburgh nine months ago restraining the City of East Liverpool and Eugene Thomas of College St., a Crucible employe, from taking further court action against the steel company until the tax muddle between the two communities had been resolved.

Thomas filed his action last April 1 in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon asking a declaratory

Way Cleared For Hearing At Lisbon On Tax Tangle

A federal court at Pittsburgh Tuesday lifted a restraining order granted last April and, in effect, cleared the way for a hearing on an action in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in which an East Liverpool man questions the right of the municipal governments in East Liverpool and Midland to collect income taxes from him because he is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Judge Louis Rosenberg dissolved the order which he had issued in Pittsburgh nine months ago restraining the City of East Liverpool and Eugene Thomas of College St., a Crucible employe, from taking further court action against the steel company until the tax muddle between the two communities had been resolved.

Thomas filed his action last April 1 in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon asking a declaratory

Winter Puts Mercury Near Zero In District

Winter dealt the district its chilliest siege yet overnight, with the mercury dipping close to the zero mark in some areas.

A reading of 4 degrees above was recorded by Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, while Montgomery Dam at Industry listed a 10 above.

But the weatherman has promised a slight easing, forecasting increasing cloudiness and a little warmer Thursday after a low of 9 to 13 degrees tonight.

County To Mail Statements

Real Estate Taxes Jump For 41 Of 49 Districts

LISBON — Real estate tax statements for the 1965 period will be mailed within 10 days and will carry a payment deadline of Feb. 28, County Treasurer Vincent Judge has announced.

Rates will be higher in East Liverpool, Lisbon and 41 of the 49 tax districts, Judge added.

This is due not as a result of reappraisals, but because of levies or bond issues approved by voters last year.

EAST LIVERPOOL, with a real estate tax rate of $41.20 for each $1,000 valuation, is second to Lisbon.

Lisbon leads with a rate increase from $37.70 to $42.10. East Liverpool is second with a tax jump of from $37.50 to $41.20, due to the school district's approval of a bond issue and levy for new schools.

The lowest rate in the county is the Columbiana Exempted Village School District with $29.60.

Lisbon's school tax, highest in the county, is 20 cents more than that of Salem, second highest.

Four districts have lower rates this year and two others will pay the same as they did last year.

—:—

Youth For Christ To Hold Meeting

A "Quiz Olympics" Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at the Salvation Army Citadel on E. 4th St. will feature the first rally of the year of the Columbiana Youth for Christ.

The Senior High official quiz tournament will get under way to determine who will represent Columbiana County during the YFC Ohio convention at Kent State in June.

The Junior High will continue to hold practice quizzes.

Ralph Compa, chairman of the YFC Board of Directors, will present a brief new year's message Saturday night.

A representative of the committee sponsoring "The Restless Ones" film will be on hand with tickets for those wishing to purchase them.

Congressman Rooney To Seek Re-Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Fred B. Rooney, D-Pa., announced today his candidacy for re-election this year.

Rooney said the announcement removes him from any consideration as a possible gubernatorial candidate this year. He had been mentioned as a possible candidate.

He said the Democratic Party has an "impressive list of dedicated and highly qualified candidates" from which to choose a nominee.

Chester Auto Hits Woman

A 22-year-old East End woman was injured early Tuesday night when bumped by an auto at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mulberry St., but her daughter, 3, apparently escaped unhurt, police reported.

Mrs. Mary Roach of 959 Pennsylvania Ave. was treated at City Hospital after complaining of a pain in her left hip. Her daughter, Theresa, knocked down by the same auto, had no apparent injuries, the hospital said.

Police said the mother and daughter were struck about 7 p. m. by a 1959 model convertible driven by Lawrence M. Haun, 28, of Post Office Box 98, Chester.

Haun was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

Haun was fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The motorist told Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes he pulled away from the traffic light at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mulberry St. and the mother and child "ran" from the curb into his path. Mrs. Roach told the officer the traffic light was in her favor as she crossed the street from north to south.

Wellsville Youths Are Penalized In 'Breaking' Case

LISBON — Two 18-year-old Wellsville youths Tuesday were given three - month suspended sentences in Southwest Area County Court on a charge of breaking into a locked motor vehicle.

Pleading guilty before Judge J. L. MacDonald were Terry E. Medley and Terry L. Thompson. They were arrested by Wellsville police.

In other court action, three motorists were fined $10 each or the following charges—Elaine E. Richards, 45, of Canfield, speeding; Jeffrey L. Needham, 24, of Salineville, failing to obey a traffic light, and Walter S. Davis, 77, of Minerva, failing to stop in an assured clear distance.

James R. Stewart, of Lisbon R. D. 3 forfeited a $30 bond on an overloaded vehicle charge and Charles Bogdan Jr., 42, of Clarksville, Pa., a $15 bond on a speeding charge.

Farnan Elected Head Of Midland Legion Post Club

Peter Farnan was elected president of the Midland Legion Club during the annual meeting Monday night at American Legion Post 481.

Other officers named were Salvatore Katich, vice president; Truman Rodfong, secretary; Joseph Mulach, treasurer, and Tom Kennedy, George Bradshaw, Richard Nohe, Lester Trainer, William Robertson, Edward Cilli and Goldie Scalera, directors.

Seventy attended. A smorgasbord dinner was served. Annual reports were heard.

judgment and a determination of his rights under tax withholding in the two communities. At the same time, he was a defendant in a criminal action in Municipal Court alleging he had failed to file tax returns in East Liverpool.

The Common Pleas Court action had been set for hearing last April 30, but it was postponed after the federal court at Pittsburgh issued its restraining order at the request of Crucible. The steel company asked, in effect, that Thomas and the City of East Liverpool be barred from proceeding further in any court against Crucible until there had been a determination of its position in the tax puzzle.

Crucible said it was holding $40,000 which it had deducted from the wages of its employes residing in East Liverpool. It asked the court to determine to whom the funds should be paid. But East Liverpool later filed a disclaimer, admitting the money should be paid to Midland Borough.

An Ohio community has no power to force an employer in another state to withhold tax money from the wages of one of its residents. East Liverpool's disclaimer on the $40,000 went a long way toward settling the tax muddle.

JUDGE ROSENBERG'S ruling apparently means that Common Pleas Court now can proceed to hear the civil action by Thomas, naming as defendants the City of East Liverpool and Crucible.

Thomas asserted in his petition in the Lisbon court that the Midland imcome tax, withheld from his pay at the Midland plant, takes one per cent of his gross earnings. Then, he declared, he is required to pay another eight-tenths of one per cent by filing an individual return with the East Liverpool income tax office.

His petition alleges that the Midland tax ordinance went into effect Aug. 12, 1962, and the current East Liverpool tax ordinance has been in effect since March 1962. (The tax since has been renewed).

Pointing out that the two laws account for taxation totaling 1.8 per cent of his gross income, Thomas claims that the taxation is illegal because the Ohio Constitution limits any city to a maximum of one per cent without a vote of the people. The Constitution provides that if any subdivision imposes a tax of one per cent or more on income, it must be submitted to a vote of the people before it can go into effect.

Thomas sought a temporary restraining order to prevent the steel company or the city from collecting or levying the tax until the question has been determined in the court.

ABOUT A month after Thomas filed the Lisbon action, Crucible entered its case in the federal court, naming as defendants the City of East Liverpool, the Borough of Midland and Thomas, "individually and as a class representing all employes of the plaintiff's Midland Works who reside in East Liverpool."

It was at a hearing last September that the City of East Liverpool disclaimed any right to the $40,000 which Crucible had withheld from its workers' wages. Before the disclaimer, Judge Rosenberg had said that Crucible was properly apprehensive.

He pointed out, however, that East Liverpool's ordinance, based on residency, does not require Crucible to withhold taxes. Crucible, therefore, does not have to worry about paying a double tax, he said.

In his ruling, the judge commented: "These East Liverpool employes of Crucible may need protection, but it is not the function or obligation of Crucible to protect them in this connection."

As to Thomas, Judge Rosenberg gave him 20 days to file an answer if he wants to make any claim on his Midland tax withheld at Crucible.

India

Nehru's death 19 months go but was pushed aside in favor of Shastri.

Shastri died early Tuesday in the Soviet city of Tashkent, apparently of a heart attack, after an exhausting week of peace negotiations with President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan. The cremation climaxed a mass outpouring of grief for the unassuming little leader who in 19 stormy months had won the admiration and affection of India's troubled millions.

"Long live Lal Bahadur Shastri" welled up from the vast throng as the funeral procession passed along the crowded route to the cremation site. The crowd stretched as far as the eye could see and appeared as large as that at the funeral of Nehru in May 1964.

The throng surged across the route at one point, forming a wall between the flower-decked gun carriage carrying Shastri's body and the cars in which Kosygin and Humphrey were riding.

Secret Service guards quickly surrounded Humphrey's car and Soviet guards encircled Kosygin. Club-swinging Indian police closed in, pushing back the crowds seeking the special grace they believe one achieves by gazing at the body of an exalted person.

Shastri's body had lain in state all night at his official residence at No. 10 Jan Path Road, with his weeping widow, Lalita, keeping a last vigil.

Lindsay had said Monday in a stern, almost angry statement that if the strike were not settled that day he would ask the mediation panel to follow one or two alternatives.

One, make specific recommendations on all terms of a settlement; two, to agree to the appointment of a fact-finding commission to investigate and present the basis for an impartial settlement; three, to arrange an agreement between the parties to accept any new procedure other than the first two, such as advisory or binding arbitration.

judgment and a determination of his rights under tax withholding in the two communities. At the same time, he was a defendant in a criminal action in Municipal Court alleging he had failed to file tax returns in East Liverpool.

The Common Pleas Court action had been set for hearing last April 30, but it was postponed after the federal court at Pittsburgh issued its restraining order at the request of Crucible. The steel company asked, in effect, that Thomas and the City of East Liverpool be barred from proceeding further in any court against Crucible until there had been a determination of its position in the tax puzzle.

Crucible said it was holding $40,000 which it had deducted from the wages of its employes residing in East Liverpool. It asked the court to determine to whom the funds should be paid. But East Liverpool later filed a disclaimer, admitting the money should be paid to Midland Borough.

An Ohio community has no power to force an employer in another state to withhold tax money from the wages of one of its residents. East Liverpool's disclaimer on the $40,000 went a long way toward settling the tax muddle.

JUDGE ROSENBERG'S ruling apparently means that Common Pleas Court now can proceed to hear the civil action by Thomas, naming as defendants the City of East Liverpool and Crucible.

Thomas asserted in his petition in the Lisbon court that the Midland imcome tax, withheld from his pay at the Midland plant, takes one per cent of his gross earnings. Then, he declared, he is required to pay another eight-tenths of one per cent by filing an individual return with the East Liverpool income tax office.

His petition alleges that the Midland tax ordinance went into effect Aug. 12, 1962, and the current East Liverpool tax ordinance has been in effect since March 1962. (The tax since has been renewed).

Pointing out that the two laws account for taxation totaling 1.8 per cent of his gross income, Thomas claims that the taxation is illegal because the Ohio Constitution limits any city to a maximum of one per cent without a vote of the people. The Constitution provides that if any subdivision imposes a tax of one per cent or more on income, it must be submitted to a vote of the people before it can go into effect.

Thomas sought a temporary restraining order to prevent the steel company or the city from collecting or levying the tax until the question has been determined in the court.

ABOUT A month after Thomas filed the Lisbon action, Crucible entered its case in the federal court, naming as defendants the City of East Liverpool, the Borough of Midland and Thomas, "individually and as a class representing all employes of the plaintiff's Midland Works who reside in East Liverpool."

It was at a hearing last September that the City of East Liverpool disclaimed any right to the $40,000 which Crucible had withheld from its workers' wages. Before the disclaimer, Judge Rosenberg had said that Crucible was properly apprehensive.

He pointed out, however, that East Liverpool's ordinance, based on residency, does not require Crucible to withhold taxes. Crucible, therefore, does not have to worry about paying a double tax, he said.

In his ruling, the judge commented: "These East Liverpool employes of Crucible may need protection, but it is not the function or obligation of Crucible to protect them in this connection."

As to Thomas, Judge Rosenberg gave him 20 days to file an answer if he wants to make any claim on his Midland tax withheld at Crucible.

Nehru's death 19 months go but was pushed aside in favor of Shastri.

Shastri died early Tuesday in the Soviet city of Tashkent, apparently of a heart attack, after an exhausting week of peace negotiations with President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan. The cremation climaxed a mass outpouring of grief for the unassuming little leader who in 19 stormy months had won the admiration and affection of India's troubled millions.

"Long live Lal Bahadur Shastri" welled up from the vast throng as the funeral procession passed along the crowded route to the cremation site. The crowd stretched as far as the eye could see and appeared as large as that at the funeral of Nehru in May 1964.

The throng surged across the route at one point, forming a wall between the flower-decked gun carriage carrying Shastri's body and the cars in which Kosygin and Humphrey were riding.

Secret Service guards quickly surrounded Humphrey's car and Soviet guards encircled Kosygin. Club-swinging Indian police closed in, pushing back the crowds seeking the special grace they believe one achieves by gazing at the body of an exalted person.

Shastri's body had lain in state all night at his official residence at No. 10 Jan Path Road, with his weeping widow, Lalita, keeping a last vigil.

The Burden Rests With Quill

All significant strikes sooner or later become national problems. The New York City transportation strike is being taken to heart wherever Americans discuss the impact of unionism on their lives.

Mike Quill, the union czar of New York transportation, reminds many of John L. Lewis when he was czar of the coal industry. Both men have had a shrewd understanding of unionism's relationship to partisan politics. Both have exploited the relationship to the hilt.

Mr. Lewis once tried to depose a president of the United States, without success. James R. Hoff tried it, too. Mr. Quill, it is being pointed out by observers of New York politics, is trying to disgrace a New York mayor who was not of his choosing.

But as Samuel Gompers warned, unionists who play politics on a partisan basis are playing the other fellow's game. John V. Lindsay, new mayor of New York, is not in as much danger of being disgraced as Mr. Quill — for a reason Mr. Quill would be the last man in the world to understand.

He should ask Mr. Lewis what happens to a unionist who loses a political battle.

Mr. Lindsay was elected by New Yorkers tired of the way things had been going. They wanted a change.

Mr. Quill represents an old order in New York affairs — the blustering labor leader who wields a big stick over rabbity politicians.

But the big stick this time is hitting New Yorkers — and Mayor Lindsay isn't a rabbity politician. He's the man New Yorkers elected because they were tired of politicians who ran for cover every time Mike Quill brandished that blackthorn cane he carries.

India Has A New Problem

The new prime minister of India, Gulsarilal Nanda, is 67, six years older than Lal Bahadur Shastri, whose death jolted India's government structure the third time in less than two years.

Before his death late in May 1964, Jawaharlal Nehru had shaken up his cabinet, preparing for the eventuality he knew was not far off. Nanda became interim prime minister at that time, until Shastri had been duly elected by the India Parliament. He now assumes the same role in a new emergency.

Nehru was one of the strong men of his era. His very strength raised the question of succession. Who would follow the giant? Who would follow Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Joseph Stalin — the strong men of their day?

When Nehru's successor assumed the responsibilities of his office, he became an incongruous figure in a nation famed for its incongruities. Shastri undoubtedy was a man of great talent and high purpose. He was a great patriot, a well-poised philosopher, the possessor of flawless integrity.

But he and other Indian political leaders had stood so long in the shadow of Nehru they were obscure figures grown old in waiting. It is not known in the West who will come next, but it should be a dynamic man at the height of his physical power. If no one like that is forthcoming, India has a problem.

Let's Wait And See

It is a pleasant surprise to hear the Soviet Union has been a successful peacemaker in the dispute between India and Pakistan. They have agreed under Soviet peacemaking auspices to withdraw their troops by Feb. 25 to the lines they held before fighting broke out last August.

But it was a pleasant surprise last Sept. 23 to hear India and Pakistan had agreed to a truce in what couldn't have been anything else but a fruitless and wasting war of attrition. The peacemaker then was U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations.

Everybody was cheered by the news that an unnecessary and illogical war, with frightening overtones of religious zeal, had been called off in its early stages. Only one thing was wrong with the truce.

It was announced on Sept. 23 and broken the same day.

The United Nations Security Council pleaded with both India and Pakistan to honor what they had agreed to honor, but only now, in January 1966, after all hope of peace had been shattered, they are just getting around to a new agreement.

It would be wise to wait and see before exulting in another triumph of peacemaking. Peacemakers haven't been doing well lately. If the Russians have a formula that works, they will be in great demand.

Or wouldn't non-Communist countries be able to believe in peace arranged under Communist auspices?

Cooperation In Medicare

Blue Cross Association of Chicago, Aetna Life and Casualty Co. and Travelers Insurance Co. will serve as agents for the U.S. Government to help administer the hospital insurance provisions of medicare. They will be paid nothing for their services.

Hospitals not wanting to be represented by any of the three may make other nominations or deal directly with the Social Security Administration.

What is the incentive for this cooperation?

Simply that many of the sources of opposition to medicare when it was in the debating stage now are cooperating to the hilt to get it off on the right foot. Even the American Medical Association now is officially committed to assist the program in every way possible, though not all members of the AMA are in a cooperative mood.

But the insurance industry as a whole has shifted from vigorous opposition to acceptance of the inevitable. Some insurance companies feel that serving medicare as fiscal agents will strengthen their competitive position in selling other forms of health insurance.

Private insurance companies that have gone into the over-65 market may regret losing business to the government, but by and large the field is not regarded as a rich source of profit for commercial insurance. Because it has been estimated that medicare coverage will pay for something than half the total health costs of the aged, there is room for supplementary coverage by private insurers.

Behind The Transit Mess

By Raymond Moley

It can easily be imagined that the innumerable people who came to the New York World's Fair during the past year and a half and found traveling in the great city reasonably comfortable must be amazed to hear how, beginning on New Year's Day, the city could be paralyzed by a Transit Workers' strike. Their amazement must grow as they hear that this paralysis could be ordered by one man, Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union.

Quill operated in defiance of the law, the courts, the city government, the press and public opinion generally. In all the preliminaries and in the actual strike itself he expressed sadistic joy in the punishment he was inflicting upon millions of people who must live and work in the city.

TO UNDERSTAND how this could be, one must go back over the political history of the city for nearly 50 years. The very physical characteristics of the city made subways a practical and necessary means of mass transportation. The bus system which grew up has been little more than an adjunct to the subways.

The subways were built and operated for a considerable number of years by private companies, as were the bus systems.

The Democratic machine came back into power in 1917 after four years of John Purroy Mitchell's reform administration. John Hylan became the machine mayor. He leveled his demagogic attacks upon the transportation companies and made a fetish of the 5-cent fare. There was a 10-cent fare on the main bus system.

It became obvious that the subways could not provide proper, efficient and decent service at five cents, and so under Hylan and, after him, James J. Walker, service deteriorated and new extensions to serve a growing city were not built. Finally, the city took over most of the transportation systems, helping them out with subsidies.

During LaGuardia's 12 years in the city hall there was sufficient courage to permit the subway fare to go to 10 cents and then to 15. New lines were built and service improved.

THEN AFTER LaGUARDIA the machine came back, and during the 12 years just ended there was Mayor Robert F. Wagner. As a true son of his father, Sen. Wagner, Mayor Wagner not only permitted but encouraged the rise of Quill and his TWU.

From time to time when contracts were up for renewal, Wagner and Quill had quite dramatic and rather amusing debates, accompanied by dire threats of strikes at the year end. But a settlement always followed those amiable discussions, and the wages and benefits of the workers went up and up.

Over the last 10 years Quill secured wage increases totaling 55.4 per cent. This was a greater increase than in practically any other form of employment.

Since the 15-cent fare was inadequate to support the wage increases, subsidies were provided which were paid by all taxpayers. When the city was short of money, it went hat in hand to Albany.

Nothing was ever really settled, and Quill approached the deadline this year when Wagner was to be succeeded by the new mayor, John V. Lindsay. Quill was more arrogant than ever and heaped personal abuse upon the incoming mayor.

HIS DEMANDS were absurdly high. To meet them would have required an additional $680 million.

Quill himself admitted that this "package" was a mere gesture by cutting it to $130 million after a strike was called. Wagner left the baby in Lindsay's lap.

The main point is that New York transit workers' wages are the highest in any major American city, and the comparable fare is the lowest. A New York motorman gets $3.46 an hour. In Boston the figure is $3.04; in Chicago, $3.01; in Philadelphia, $2.85, and in Cleveland, $2.81.

This is where the situation stood as the new year opened: politically determined rates of fare and subsidies upon subsidies. The whole business makes no sense.

It responds to no rule of justice. It has no economic basis. It is purely political, and it is the outcome of years of appeasement of an arrogant union whose votes have been deemed essential to the regime in the city hall.

'Turn Out That Blankety-Blank Light'

Lindsay Scores Points In Tieup

By Victor Riesel

For John Vliet Lindsay, this city's first angry mayor, with an antagonism towards amateurism and a proclivity to perfection, Jan. 6, downed as a gray, rainy puzzlement.

Victor Riesel

As he walked the slippery wet streets toward City Hall, which by some reckonings is not far from the White House, he knew that many were waiting for him to fall on his face.

He did not. Instead by day's end he had executed the swiftest, shrewdest political maneuver which proved that, while he had been drenched, he was hardly wet behind the ears. By the time Thursday had blended itself into the bleary-eyed, early hours of Friday, Lindsay no longer was the boy mayor but had vaulted into the big leagues alongside another pro called Lyndon Johnson.

On Thursday, Lindsay had a chaotic city on his hands. To ease the transit crisis he had secretly offered the Transport Workers Union one of the best labor pacts in history.

His offer had been relayed to Mike Quill via the hot-line strung into the hospital room of labor's own self-made Dracula. The money offer came to an increase of over $40 million. It ran well over the 4½ to 5 per cent pay package won by the United Steelworkers and United Auto Workers in '65 and '64.

Lindsay had said he would dig up the money, even if it meant taking funds from other services—and then would struggle to keep those services going. It was, in effect, almost everything Mike Quill wanted. Everybody could look good.

COUNTY KERRY'S own Oliver Twist had asked for $680 million and by taking $40 or $45 million would make it appear that the new mayor had indeed won a victory.

Furthermore, Quill could go to his union rank and file with virtually all they really had expected.

And some eight million people would be unsnarled. Lindsay could then start running the city for the first time since he took office a week earlier—and he would not have had to call on the aid offered by such labor relations experts as Bob Kennedy, Nelson Rockefeller and Lyndon Johnson.

The young mayor had reason to believe the subway and bus strike, which had been disrupting the commercial and financial and produce exchange centers of the world, would end that night. He had offered more than had even Mike Quill's friend, ex-Mayor Robert Wagner.

True, labor leaders were in jail. But then, labor leaders had been jailed for strike action several times during the preceding administrations here.

It was a tense day. Word came to the tiny intelligence center in City Hall that Quill's allied legions were on the march. Harry (four-hour-day) Van Arsdle, a hard driving dedicated labor leader of one million Central Labor Council members, was planning mass demonstrations in support of the imprisoned Quill.

BIG JOE CURRAN'S National Maritime Union (NMU) had pulled crews off several commercial freighters in the harbor. One of his executive aides had approached John Bowers, executive vice president of the International Longshoremen's Association with a request for waterfront action which could slow the entire port—without halting Viet Nam-bound freighters.

Bowers rejected any such supporting boycott action despite the NMU's advice that it could be stated that the failure of some dock "gangs" to get to the piers had created safety hazards on the waterfront.

At about 4 p.m. Quill's answer to the Lindsay offer was a big "No!"

Quill, his battle ramparts now the white bed sheets of Bellevue Hospital, had decided to hold out for more millions of dollars—and for the drubbing of the man he had called a pipsqueak.

Lindsay was on the spot all alone. But not for long.

ABOUT 6:10 P.M. he telephoned President Johnson who had told him previously he would take the call immediately. All right, said Lindsay, send in your conciliator.

With almost a single gesture, the President, after some pleasant words, put down one phone and called Labor Secretary Wirtz on the other, much to the latter's surprise. Go to New York he was told.

Wirtz knew he could not succeed. Mike Quill had rejected him as a chief mediator as early as Dec. 5. But Wirtz flew in, ate a cold roast beef sandwich at Lindsay's desk, shook hands with labor leaders, listened politely, talked professionally and flew home sleepily.

No one had wanted him to come in—including himself. Really, not even the President. Certainly not the three-man mediation board. Nor the union. Nor Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

TO THE JITTERY CITY it looked good. Score one for Lindsay.

It defused the explosive temper of the populace at the height of history's greatest traffic jam. Score two for Lindsay.

It proved that Lindsay was not stubbornly attempting to make a hero of himself. Score three for Lindsay.

It evidenced the fact that not even a presidential emissary could move the union into getting the city moving again until Quill said go. Score four for Lindsay.

It preserved the non-partisan image Lindsay is so eager to paint—a young Republican willing to go humbly to the old sage, Mr. Democrat himself.

In the early hours of Friday, John Vliet Lindsay and Lyndon Baines Johnson were in it together. Quill could not shillelagh City Hall without clubbing the White House.

Now both are occupied by old pros.

Union Black Eye

By David Lawrence

Transit Strike Hurts Labor Image

Organized labor throughout the country has just received the worst black eye it has experienced in a half century. This comes as a consequence of the colossal damage inflicted by union leaders in New York City's transit strike.

David Lawrence

Nobody has ever dreamed that, short of a rebellion to overthrow the established government, any organized group of citizens in the United States would be able by acts of their leaders to defy a city and state government and do it all under the theoretical "right to strike."

Criticism is coming from far and wide. As the New York Herald Tribune put it on Sunday, there is "No Absolute Right To Strike." The editorial says in part:

"A strike may be barred by specific statute, as strikes of government employes are barred in New York State. A strike may jeopardize the community, the nation itself.

"A strike may be called to effect a political purpose—to usurp, as the Transit Union has done, the right to make political decisions which is vested in elected officials and legislatures. Such strikes go out of the sphere of legitimate pressures to effect legitimate economic ends and become assertions of the right to revolution. And against such assertions the community has the right and duty to protect itself."

CONGRESS CONVENED this week, and no issue is more in need of prompt legislative enactments than the protection of private property against wanton attack by the extremists who abuse the "right to strike." Unfortunately, most of the labor leaders of the country have remained silent. Instead of speaking out against an improper use of union power, they have exhibited a strange indifference that is being interpreted generally as acquiescence in what has happened in New York City in the last 10 days.

The AFL-CIO, which is a kind of trade association of labor unions, has no authority over the operations of its member unions and is largely a lobbying organization which at the moment is still demanding that Congress repeal what is known as the "right to work" law. This enables the states at present to decide for themselves whether they wish to allow contracts to be made between employers and unions compelling workers to join a union or lose their jobs.

Opposition to the repeal is widespread but labor leaders have felt confident that a majority in Congress would go along with the concept of compulsory unionization.

THE TIME HAS COME, however, to let the measure be thoroughly debated and comprehensively amended. If, for instance, compulsory unionization is to be permitted, here are some of the safeguards that should be stipulated by law:

1. No man shall be fired from his job if, after joining a union, he is dissatisfied with its operations and wishes to resign.

2. No union leader should be permitted to negotiate in a collective-bargaining conference unless a detailed outline of the demands has been approved beforehand by secret vote of the members.

3. Every counter-proposal of management, together with a statement of its position, should be made immediately available to all union members so that they can, by secret ballot, vote to accept or reject it.

4. Any union whose members are employed by federal or state or city governments should be forbidden to strike and, if a strike is authorized by vote of the members, the latter as well as the leaders must be made subject to fines and other penalties in the event that existing law is disobeyed.

Lawsuits on this point should be permitted to be filed either by dissenting union members or by citizens whose property is damaged or by governmental agencies.

THERE ARE MANY well-organized and efficiently operated unions, and these have the least trouble with management but the big unions lately have become as influential as if they themselves constituted a political party.

These unions are subject to dictatorship. The average union members, including the Transit Workers in New York City, for example, probably do not approve of much of what the leaders do, but they are helpless to exert their will. Often they are not too well informed as to what is being done in their name.

Unions are necessary in large industries particularly, but the union members as well as the public are entitled to protection by law against misbehavior, arrogance and extremism by union leaders.

The Burden Rests With Quill

All significant strikes sooner or later become national problems. The New York City transportation strike is being taken to heart wherever Americans discuss the impact of unionism on their lives.

Mike Quill, the union czar of New York transportation, reminds many of John L. Lewis when he was czar of the coal industry. Both men have had a shrewd understanding of unionism's relationship to partisan politics. Both have exploited the relationship to the hilt.

Mr. Lewis once tried to depose a president of the United States, without success. James R. Hoff tried it, too. Mr. Quill, it is being pointed out by observers of New York politics, is trying to disgrace a New York mayor who was not of his choosing.

But as Samuel Gompers warned, unionists who play politics on a partisan basis are playing the other fellow's game. John V. Lindsay, new mayor of New York, is not in as much danger of being disgraced as Mr. Quill — for a reason Mr. Quill would be the last man in the world to understand.

He should ask Mr. Lewis what happens to a unionist who loses a political battle.

Mr. Lindsay was elected by New Yorkers tired of the way things had been going. They wanted a change.

Mr. Quill represents an old order in New York affairs — the blustering labor leader who wields a big stick over rabbity politicians.

But the big stick this time is hitting New Yorkers — and Mayor Lindsay isn't a rabbity politician. He's the man New Yorkers elected because they were tired of politicians who ran for cover every time Mike Quill brandished that blackthorn cane he carries.

India Has A New Problem

The new prime minister of India, Gulsarilal Nanda, is 67, six years older than Lal Bahadur Shastri, whose death jolted India's government structure the third time in less than two years.

Before his death late in May 1964, Jawaharlal Nehru had shaken up his cabinet, preparing for the eventuality he knew was not far off. Nanda became interim prime minister at that time, until Shastri had been duly elected by the India Parliament. He now assumes the same role in a new emergency.

Nehru was one of the strong men of his era. His very strength raised the question of succession. Who would follow the giant? Who would follow Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Joseph Stalin — the strong men of their day?

When Nehru's successor assumed the responsibilities of his office, he became an incongruous figure in a nation famed for its incongruities. Shastri undoubtedly was a man of great talent and high purpose. He was a great patriot, a well-poised philosopher, the possessor of flawless integrity.

But he and other Indian political leaders had stood so long in the shadow of Nehru they were obscure figures grown old in waiting. It is not known in the West who will come next, but it should be a dynamic man at the height of his physical power. If no one like that is forthcoming, India has a problem.

Let's Wait And See

It is a pleasant surprise to hear the Soviet Union has been a successful peacemaker in the dispute between India and Pakistan. They have agreed under Soviet peacemaking auspices to withdraw their troops by Feb. 25 to the lines they held before fighting broke out last August.

But it was a pleasant surprise last Sept. 23 to hear India and Pakistan had agreed to a truce in what couldn't have been anything else but a fruitless and wasting war of attrition. The peacemaker then was U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations.

Everybody was cheered by the news that an unnecessary and illogical war, with frightening overtones of religious zeal, had been called off in its early stages. Only one thing was wrong with the truce.

It was announced on Sept. 23 and broken the same day.

The United Nations Security Council pleaded with both India and Pakistan to honor what they had agreed to honor, but only now, in January 1966, after all hope of peace had been shattered, they are just getting around to a new agreement.

It would be wise to wait and see before exulting in another triumph of peacemaking. Peacemakers haven't been doing well lately. If the Russians have a formula that works, they will be in great demand.

Or wouldn't non-Communist countries be able to believe in peace arranged under Communist auspices?

Cooperation In Medicare

Blue Cross Association of Chicago, Aetna Life and Casualty Co. and Travelers Insurance Co. will serve as agents for the U.S. Government to help administer the hospital insurance provisions of medicare. They will be paid nothing for their services.

Hospitals not wanting to be represented by any of the three may make other nominations or deal directly with the Social Security Administration.

What is the incentive for this cooperation?

Simply that many of the sources of opposition to medicare when it was in the debating stage now are cooperating to the hilt to get it off on the right foot. Even the American Medical Association now is officially committed to assist the program in every way possible, though not all members of the AMA are in a cooperative mood.

But the insurance industry as a whole has shifted from vigorous opposition to acceptance of the inevitable. Some insurance companies feel that serving medicare as fiscal agents will strengthen their competitive position in selling other forms of health insurance.

Private insurance companies that have gone into the over-65 market may regret losing business to the government, but by and large the field is not regarded as a rich source of profit for commercial insurance. Because it has been estimated that medicare coverage will pay for something than half the total health costs of the aged, there is room for supplementary coverage by private insurers.

Behind The Transit Mess

By Raymond Moley

It can easily be imagined that the innumerable people who came to the New York World's Fair during the past year and a half and found traveling in the great city reasonably comfortable must be amazed to hear how, beginning on New Year's Day, the city could be paralyzed by a Transit Workers' strike. Their amazement must grow as they hear that this paralysis could be ordered by one man, Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union.

Quill operated in defiance of the law, the courts, the city government, the press and public opinion generally. In all the preliminaries and in the actual strike itself he expressed sadistic joy in the punishment he was inflicting upon millions of people who must live and work in the city.

TO UNDERSTAND how this could be, one must go back over the political history of the city for nearly 50 years. The very physical characteristics of the city made subways a practical and necessary means of mass transportation. The bus system which grew up has been little more than an adjunct to the subways.

The subways were built and operated for a considerable number of years by private companies, as were the bus systems.

The Democratic machine came back into power in 1917 after four years of John Purroy Mitchell's reform administration. John Hylan became the machine mayor. He leveled his demagogic attacks upon the transportation companies and made a fetish of the 5-cent fare. There was a 10-cent fare on the main bus system.

It became obvious that the subways could not provide proper, efficient and decent service at five cents, and so under Hylan and, after him, James J. Walker, service deteriorated and new extensions to serve a growing city were not built. Finally, the city took over most of the transportation systems, helping them out with subsidies.

During LaGuardia's 12 years in the city hall there was sufficient courage to permit the subway fare to go to 10 cents and then to 15. New lines were built and service improved.

THEN AFTER LaGUARDIA the machine came back, and during the 12 years just ended there was Mayor Robert F. Wagner. As a true son of his father, Sen. Wagner, Mayor Wagner not only permitted but encouraged the rise of Quill and his TWU.

From time to time when contracts were up for renewal, Wagner and Quill had quite dramatic and rather amusing debates, accompanied by dire threats of strikes at the year end. But a settlement always followed those amiable discussions, and the wages and benefits of the workers went up and up.

Over the last 10 years Quill secured wage increases totaling 55.4 per cent. This was a greater increase than in practically any other form of employment.

Since the 15-cent fare was inadequate to support the wage increases, subsidies were provided which were paid by all taxpayers. When the city was short of money, it went hat in hand to Albany.

Nothing was ever really settled, and Quill approached the deadline this year when Wagner was to be succeeded by the new mayor, John V. Lindsay. Quill was more arrogant than ever and heaped personal abuse upon the incoming mayor.

HIS DEMANDS were absurdly high. To meet them would have required an additional $680 million.

Quill himself admitted that this "package" was a mere gesture by cutting it to $180 million after a strike was called. Wagner left the baby in Lindsay's lap.

The main point is that New York transit workers' wages are the highest in any major American city, and the comparable fare is the lowest. A New York motorman gets $3.46 an hour. In Boston the figure is $3.04; in Chicago, $3.01; in Philadelphia, $2.85, and in Cleveland, $2.81.

This is where the situation stood as the new year opened: politically determined rates of fare and subsidies upon subsidies. The whole business makes no sense.

It responds to no rule of justice. It has no economic basis. It is purely political, and it is the outcome of years of appeasement of an arrogant union whose votes have been deemed essential to the regime in the city hall.

'Turn Out That Blankety-Blank Light'

Lindsay Scores Points In Tieup

By Victor Riesel

For John Vliet Lindsay, this city's first angry mayor, with an antagonism towards amateurism and a proclivity to perfection, Jan. 5, downed as a gray, rainy puzzlement.

Victor Riesel

As he walked the slippery wet streets toward City Hall, which by some reckonings is not far from the White House, he knew that many were waiting for him to fall on his face.

He did not. Instead by day's end he had executed the swiftest, shrewdest political maneuver which proved that, while he had been drenched, he was hardly wet behind the ears. By the time Thursday had blended itself into the bleary-eyed, early hours of Friday, Lindsay no longer was the boy mayor but had vaulted into the big leagues alongside another pro called Lyndon Johnson.

On Thursday, Lindsay had a chaotic city on his hands. To ease the transit crisis he had secretly offered the Transport Workers Union one of the best labor pacts in history.

His offer had been relayed to Mike Quill via the hot-line strung into the hospital room of labor's own self-made Dracula. The money offer came to an increase of over $40 million. It ran well over the 4½ to 5 per cent pay package won by the United Steelworkers and United Auto Workers in '65 and '64.

Lindsay had said he would dig up the money, even if it meant taking funds from other services—and then would struggle to keep those services going. It was, in effect, almost everything Mike Quill wanted. Everybody could look good.

COUNTY KERRY'S own Oliver Twist had asked for $680 million and by taking $40 or $45 million would make it appear that the new mayor had indeed won a victory.

Furthermore, Quill could go to his union rank and file with virtually all they really had expected.

And some eight million people would be unsnarled. Lindsay could then start running the city for the first time since he took office a week earlier—and he would not have had to call on the aid offered by such labor relations experts as Bob Kennedy, Nelson Rockefeller and Lyndon Johnson.

The young mayor had reason to believe the subway and bus strike, which had been disrupting the commercial and financial and produce exchange centers of the world, would end that night. He had offered more than had even Mike Quill's friend, ex-Mayor Robert Wagner.

True, labor leaders were in jail. But then, labor leaders had been jailed for strike action several times during the preceding administrations here.

It was a tense day. Word came to the tiny intelligence center in City Hall that Quill's allied legions were on the march. Harry (four-hour-day) Van Arsdle, a hard driving dedicated labor leader of one million Central Labor Council members, was planning mass demonstrations in support of the imprisoned Quill.

BIG JOE CURRAN'S National Maritime Union (NMU) had pulled crews off several commercial freighters in the harbor. One of his executive aides had approached John Bowers, executive vice president of the International Longshoremen's Association with a request for waterfront action which could slow the entire port—without halting Viet Nam-bound freighters.

Bowers rejected any such supporting boycott action despite the NMU's advice that it could be stated that the failure of some dock "gangs" to get to the piers had created safety hazards on the waterfront.

At about 4 p.m. Quill's answer to the Lindsay offer was a big "No!"

Quill, his battle ramparts now the white bed sheets of Bellevue Hospital, had decided to hold out for more millions of dollars—and for the drubbing of the man he had called a pipsqueak.

Lindsay was on the spot all alone. But not for long.

ABOUT 6:10 P.M. he telephoned President Johnson who had told him previously he would take the call immediately. All right, said Lindsay, send in your conciliator.

With almost a single gesture, the President, after some pleasant words, put down one phone and called Labor Secretary Wirtz on the other, much to the latter's surprise. Go to New York he was told.

Wirtz knew he could not succeed. Mike Quill had rejected him as a chief mediator as early as Dec. 5. But Wirtz flew in, ate a cold roast beef sandwich at Lindsay's desk, shook hands with labor leaders, listened politely, talked professionally and flew home sleepily.

No one had wanted him to come in—including himself. Really, not even the President. Certainly not the three-man mediation board. Nor the union. Nor Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

TO THE JITTERY CITY it looked good. Score one for Lindsay.

It defused the explosive temper of the populace at the height of history's greatest traffic jam. Score two for Lindsay.

It proved that Lindsay was not stubbornly attempting to make a hero of himself. Score three for Lindsay.

It evidenced the fact that not even a presidential emissary could move the union into getting the city moving again until Quill said go. Score four for Lindsay.

It preserved the non-partisan image Lindsay is so eager to paint—a young Republican willing to go humbly to the old sage, Mr. Democrat himself.

In the early hours of Friday, John Vliet Lindsay and Lyndon Baines Johnson were in it together. Quill could not shillelagh City Hall without clubbing the White House.

Now both are occupied by old pros.

Union Black Eye

By David Lawrence

Transit Strike Hurts Labor Image

Organized labor throughout the country has just received the worst black eye it has experienced in a half century. This comes as a consequence of the colossal damage inflicted by union leaders in New York City's transit strike.

David Lawrence

Nobody has ever dreamed that, short of a rebellion to overthrow the established government, any organized group of citizens in the United States would be able by acts of their leaders to defy a city and state government and do it all under the theoretical "right to strike."

Criticism is coming from far and wide. As the New York Herald Tribune put it on Sunday, there is "No Absolute Right To Strike." The editorial says in part:

Club Given Talk On College Plans

Paul Brittain of East Palestine discussed the proposed community college for Columbiana County during a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

Brittain, a trustee of the Columbiana County unit, said one of the reasons the project was started is that $1¾ million has been made available in state funds.

Brittain gave the background on the formation of the board, stating there are seven trustees, one from each community in the county.

In pointing to the need, Brittain said the state average for persons continuing their education after graduation from high school is 11 per 1,000, while in the county it is only 5.3 per 1,000.

Brittain screened a film prepared by the Michigan Community College Association describing what a community college is and what it does.

Twenty attended, including a delegation from the East Palestine Kiwanis Club.

George Wilson was elected to a vacancy on the Board of Directors created last week when Harold Reed was named a vice president.

Plans Are Advanced For Reunion Of Class

Plans were advanced for the first reunion of the 1950 class of East Liverpool High School at a committee meeting Tuesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan annex. Don Hoppel, chairman, presided.

The event is set for July 16 at the Inn Town Motel on W. 3rd St. Reservations are to be made by May 1. A buffet dinner will be served from 7 to 8 p.m., followed with a program and dancing.

The next meeting will be May 3. For additional information members are to call 385-7990.

Finance Officer Post Filled At Chester Legion Meeting

Ernest John was appointed finance officer by Comdr. John Fred Morris during the meeting of Chester American Legion Post 121 Monday night at the post home. John will complete the unexpired term of the late Curtis C. Wallace.

Lewis Carte Jr. of Wellsburg, chairman of the Lincoln Gettysburg Address Contest to be conducted in sixth-grade classes of West Virginia schools, was present to explain the contest.

Morris appointed William Maple, Dwight Allison, Elvet Finley and Robert House as a committee to supervise the contest in Hancock County elementary schools.

Accompanying Carte were Carl Yarling, former department vice-commander and section chairman of the American Legion oratorical contest, and Wilbur Ontrosky, past commander of the Wellsburg post.

Harold Lee Rhodes of 217 Grant St. Newell, was accepted as a member of Post 121.

Robert House, second vice-commander, reported on post activities in December and announced that social nights will resume on the second Friday of each month beginning February.

Charles W. Morris, adjutant, reported that 424 members have signed up to date and that the post lacks only 26 to meet its quota.

Jess Wedgwood reported on Christmas baskets distributed.

M. J. Sweeney, post service officer, announced that one post member has been admitted to the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh. He also discussed the meeting of 1st District service officers in Moundsville last Sunday and announced a meeting of all Legion service officers will be held at Jackson's Mill April 15-17.

A child will be sponsored to attend the annual "King and Queen for a Day" program of the 40 & 8 Society April 21 and 22 in Charleston. John Merriman announced that 18 children have been signed up in the 1st District, comprising Hancock, Brooke, Marshall, Wetzel and Ohio counties.

Dale K. Allison served as chaplain in the absence of Cy Smith.

Refreshments were served by Ed Huff and the committee.

The next meeting will be Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the post home.

City Park Board Airs New Budget

The new City Park Commission discussed its proposed 1966 budget Tuesday night at its monthly meeting in Mayor George E. Willshaw's office at City Hall.

John Parsons, chairman, said no final determination was made on the figures, which will be submitted to Council later. The commission also decided to seek a conference with Council to discuss baseball fields that will be used in the new season, Parsons said.

Most of the session was spent in briefing Robert Owen, newly - appointed member of the commission. Owen was appointed by Willshaw, effective Jan. 1, to succeed James Moss, whose term expired. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 8, at City Hall.

Driver, 24, Penalized After Hancock Crash

NEW CUMBERLAND — Marlin Reese, 24, of Bridgeville, Pa., was fined $100 costs, with an option to serve 30 days in the Hancock County jail, at a hearing conducted here Tuesday by Squire John D. Herron.

Club Given Talk On College Plans

Paul Brittain of East Palestine discussed the proposed community college for Columbiana County during a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

Brittain, a trustee of the Columbiana County unit, said one of the reasons the project was started is that $1¾ million has been made available in state funds.

Brittain gave the background on the formation of the board, stating there are seven trustees, one from each community in the county.

In pointing to the need, Brittain said the state average for persons continuing their education after graduation from high school is 11 per 1,000, while in the county it is only 5.3 per 1,000.

Brittain screened a film prepared by the Michigan Community College Association describing what a community college is and what it does.

Twenty attended, including a delegation from the East Palestine Kiwanis Club.

George Wilson was elected to a vacancy on the Board of Directors created last week when Harold Reed was named a vice president.

Plans Are Advanced For Reunion Of Class

The event is set for July 16 at the Inn Town Motel on W. 3rd St. Reservations are to be made by May 1. A buffet dinner will be served from 7 to 8 p.m., followed with a program and dancing.

The next meeting will be May 3. For additional information members are to call 385-7990.

Finance Officer Post Filled At Chester Legion Meeting

Ernest John was appointed finance officer by Comdr. John Fred Morris during the meeting of Chester American Legion Post 121 Monday night at the post home. John will complete the unexpired term of the late Curtis C. Wallace.

Lewis Carte Jr. of Wellsburg, chairman of the Lincoln Gettysburg Address Contest to be conducted in sixth-grade classes of West Virginia schools, was present to explain the contest.

Morris appointed William Maple, Dwight Allison, Elvet Finley and Robert House as a committee to supervise the contest in Hancock County elementary schools.

Accompanying Carte were Carl Yarling, former department vice-commander and section chairman of the American Legion oratorical contest, and Wilbur Ontrosky, past commander of the Wellsburg post.

Harold Lee Rhodes of 217 Grant St. Newell, was accepted as a member of Post 121.

Robert House, second vice-commander, reported on post activities in December and announced that social nights will resume on the second Friday of each month beginning February.

Charles W. Morris, adjutant, reported that 424 members have signed up to date and that the post lacks only 26 to meet its quota.

Jess Wedgwood reported on Christmas baskets distributed.

M. J. Sweeney, post service officer, announced that one post member has been admitted to the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh. He also discussed the meeting of 1st District service officers in Moundsville last Sunday and announced a meeting of all Legion service officers will be held at Jackson's Mill April 15-17.

A child will be sponsored to attend the annual "King and Queen for a Day" program of the 40 & 8 Society April 21 and 22 in Charleston. John Merriman announced that 18 children have been signed up in the 1st District, comprising Hancock, Brooke, Marshall, Wetzel and Ohio counties.

Dale K. Allison served as chaplain in the absence of Cy Smith.

Refreshments were served by Ed Huff and the committee.

The next meeting will be Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the post home.

City Park Board Airs New Budget

The new City Park Commission discussed its proposed 1966 budget Tuesday night at its monthly meeting in Mayor George E. Willshaw's office at City Hall.

John Parsons, chairman, said no final determination was made on the figures, which will be submitted to Council later. The commission also decided to seek a conference with Council to discuss baseball fields that will be used in the new season, Parsons said.

Most of the session was spent in briefing Robert Owen, newly - appointed member of the commission. Owen was appointed by Willshaw, effective Jan. 1, to succeed James Moss, whose term expired. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 8, at City Hall.

Probers Hope More In KKK Will Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional investigators voiced hope today that more defecting Ku Klux Klan members will come forward and testify as the focus of the inquiry swings from Louisiana to Mississippi.

The most dramatic session in the months-old Klan investigation by the House Committee on Un-American Activities came Tuesday when John H. Gipson of Slidell, La., testified he participated as a member of a Klan "wrecking crew" in the whipping of a young white man.

Gipson also told how he backed out at the last minute from a plan to burn two Negro churches, which later went up in flames. He testified he quit the Klan in disgust and is now trying to "right the wrong."

Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said in an interview Gipson's example should be most helpful in persuading other disillusioned Klan members to come forward with their stories.

"I have confidence and hope that this will be the case," he said.

A committee source, declining edly citing constitutional guarantees to be quoted by name, said the group knows of several potential witnesses who might be so persuaded.

But after Gipson's testimony, the wall of silence promptly rose again around witnesses summoned and identified by committee investigators as Klan officials. Most witnesses have refused to testify, usually invoking their constitutional rights under the Fifth Amendment.

James Malcolm Edwards, a Jonesboro, La., chiropractor, named as the grand dragon of the United Klans of Louisiana, the biggest of the Klan federations, gave the committee his name and nothing else, repeatedly citing constitutional guarantees.

31 Crewmen Missing As Vessel Sinks

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-one crewmen are missing today — and at least 11 are feared dead — after a Spanish freighter with a crew of 38 sank in a fierce North Atlantic storm.

Six crewmen from the stricken freighter, Monte Palomares, were plucked to safety Tuesday as the Coast Guard hunted for other survivors. One other is known dead.

Four crewmen rescued by the American freighter Steel Maker said the vessel's master and many others drowned, but they reported they saw 18 others alive and five more on a raft.

The Coast Guard cutter Escanaba picked up two more survivors on the raft and the dead crewman.

The vessel, en route from Norfolk, Va., to Barcelona, Spain, sank Monday in heavy seas 840 miles northeast of Bermuda. She was carrying a cargo of grain that shifted, causing a bad list in 30-foot seas.

Another stricken freighter, the Lapsis, also radioed for help, but she remained afloat 240 miles away with a cracked deck. The Coast Guard cutter Androscoggin was standing by, ready to take the Greek ship's 30 crewmen aboard.

The Coast Guard cutter Androscoggin today took aboard the skipper and 29 crewmen of the Greek freighter Lampsis who had abandoned ship about 240 miles from where the Monte Palomares sank.

The Coast Guard here said the men were removed in the cutter's lifeboats, and none was injured. They abandoned ship at 1:17 a.m. Weather at the scene was good.

The Lampsis had several bad cracks in her hull and deck. The cracks extend below the water line.

Water in the engine room rose to a depth of 15 feet within 30 minutes shortly before the ship was abandoned, radio messages said.

Collision Of 2 Buses Kills 30 In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Two buses collided head on Tuesday 95 miles north of Bangkok, killing 30 persons, officials reported. It was the worst traffic accident in Thailand's history.

There were conflicting reports on the number of injured, with some estimates running as high as 100. Communications with the area were bad, and the injured were taken to several hospitals.

Commissioners Fill 2 County Home Posts

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday added two new employes to the staff at the County Home near here.

Approved on the recommendation of Home Supt. Robert Boyce were Peter Chestnut of Gavers as a boiler fireman and Mrs. Clara Lydic of East Rochester R. D. 1 as a domestic. Each is to receive $180 a month.

The commissioners also approved a travel allowance of $5 for County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft to attend a meeting in Canton today of the northeastern Ohio welfare directors.

Officer Gets Time Off For 3-Way Crash

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today he has ordered a five-day payless suspension for Patrolman Leonard Richard, operator of a cruiser that was involved in a three-way traffic mishap Dec. 18 on the California Hollow section of the Freeway.

The director said he suspended Richard on charges that "he of left his halted cruiser unattended on the main traveled portion of a public highway."

The charges were filed by Chief A. J. Radeschi and sustained in a hearing conducted by the director. State law requires the director to conduct a hearing in such cases, giving both sides an opportunity to explain their case, and then sustain, modify or dismiss the chief's charges.

The patrolman's suspension will become effective at 12:01 a.m. today, the director said. He said Richard has received a written notice of the action, as required by law.

The police report at the time of the crash said Richard was headed north in a 1965 cruiser, driving in the passing lane of the four-lane highway, and put on his turn signal to indicate he intended to turn through the divider at the city limits.

The police report said a car driven by Richard Olenski, 38, of Cleveland halted behind the cruiser, which was stopped at the break in the divider. According to the police report, Richard started to walk back to Olenski to ask him to back up so that the cruiser could make the turn.

Then, police reported, a car driven by Eli Vickers, 42, of Akron slammed into the rear of Olenski's halted auto and shoved it into the rear of the cruiser and a metal guard rail. Five persons in all were hurt in the mishap, but the officer was uninjured.

Vickers, cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance, subsequently was fined in Municipal Court.

Leader Boosted For Governor By Man He Fired

HARRISBURG (AP) — Former Gov. George M. Leader is being boosted for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1966 by a man he dismissed from his cabinet nine years ago.

The endorsement of leader by John R. Torquato, Cambria County Democratic chairman, came on the eve of a regional meeting of party leaders here today.

Appeal Funds Help Correct Birth Defects

Funds raised in the annual March of Dimes appeal help correct birth defects in thousands of youngsters and aid in continuing research into the causes, Richard G. Brian of Vine St. county campaign chairman, explained today.

He said a recent nationwide epidemic of German measles will be responsible for birth defects in 15,000 to 20,000 babies born in 1966.

Launched Jan. 1, the March of Dimes will continue throughout the month.

"Despite this toll, German measles is responsible for only a few of the many hundreds of birth defects known to medical science — defects which occur in an estimated 250,000 babies each year," Brian said.

The chairman pointed out that scientists whose work is supported by the March of Dimes have been working on the German measles problem for months and that $318,852 in funds from the campaign will go into accelerated research to perfect a vaccine.

In addition, the March of Dimes also is expanding what is already the largest single national source of private support for the diagnosis and treatment of birth defect victims, Brian asserted. More than 50 centers now are in operation at medical schools and community hospitals where medical experts are seeking better methods of treating children with birth defects.

"It is not enough just to be against birth defects," Brian said. "We must provide the best possible care for babies who are born defective. That is what the March of Dimes is all about."

State Auditor Seeks Full Four-Year Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud filed today for the Republican nomination for a full four-year term.

The former Ohio House speaker was appointed auditor last Sept. 20 by Gov. James A. Rhodes to complete the unexpired term of the late Roger W. Tracy.

But because of a ruling by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Cloud will serve by appointment only until a short-term auditor is elected and qualified in the Nov. 8 election.

"I have confidence and hope that this will be the case," he said.

A committee source, declining to be quoted by name, said the group knows of several potential witnesses who might be so persuaded.

But after Gipson's testimony, the wall of silence promptly rose again around witnesses summoned and identified by committee investigators as Klan officials. Most witnesses have refused to testify, usually invoking their constitutional rights under the Fifth Amendment.

James Malcolm Edwards, a Jonesboro, La., chiropractor named as the grand dragon of the United Klans of Louisiana, the biggest of the Klan federations, gave the committee his name and nothing else, repeatedly citing constitutional guarantees.

31 Crewmen Missing As Vessel Sinks

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-one crewmen are missing today — and at least 11 are feared dead — after a Spanish freighter with a crew of 38 sank in a fierce North Atlantic storm.

Six crewmen from the stricken freighter, Monte Palomares, were plucked to safety Tuesday as the Coast Guard hunted for other survivors. One other is known dead.

Four crewmen rescued by the American freighter Steel Maker said the vessel's master and many others drowned, but they reported they saw 18 others alive and five more on a raft.

The Coast Guard cutter Escanaba picked up two more survivors on the raft and the dead crewman.

The vessel, en route from Norfolk, Va., to Barcelona, Spain, sank Monday in heavy seas 840 miles northeast of Bermuda. She was carrying a cargo of grain that shifted, causing a bad list in 30-foot seas.

Another stricken freighter, the Lapsis, also radioed for help, but she remained afloat 240 miles away with a cracked deck. The Coast Guard cutter Androscoggin was standing by, ready to take the Greek ship's 30 crewmen aboard.

The Coast Guard cutter Androscoggin today took aboard the skipper and 29 crewmen of the Greek freighter Lampsis who had abandoned ship about 240 miles from where the Monte Palomares sank.

The Coast Guard here said the men were removed in the cutter's lifeboats, and none was injured. They abandoned ship at 1:17 a.m. Weather at the scene was good.

The Lampsis had several bad cracks in her hull and deck. The cracks extend below the water line.

Water in the engine room rose to a depth of 15 feet within 30 minutes shortly before the ship was abandoned, radio messages said.

Collision Of 2 Buses Kills 30 In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Two buses collided head on Tuesday 95 miles north of Bangkok, killing 30 persons, officials reported. It was the worst traffic accident in Thailand's history.

There were conflicting reports on the number of injured, with some estimates running as high as 100. Communications with the area were bad, and the injured were taken to several hospitals.

Commissioners Fill 2 County Home Posts

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday added two new employes to the staff at the County Home near here.

Approved on the recommendation of Home Supt. Robert Boyce were Peter Chestnut of Gavers as a boiler fireman and Mrs. Clara Lydic of East Rochester R. D. 1 as a domestic. Each is to receive $180 a month.

The commissioners also approved a travel allowance of $5 for County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft to attend a meeting in Canton today of the northeastern Ohio welfare directors.

Officer Gets Time Off For 3-Way Crash

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today he has ordered a five-day payless suspension for Patrolman Leonard Richard, operator of a cruiser that was involved in a three-way traffic mishap Dec. 18 on the California Hollow section of the Freeway.

The director said he suspended Richard on charges that "he left his halted cruiser unattended on the main traveled portion of a public highway."

The charges were filed by Chief A. J. Radeschi and sustained in a hearing conducted by the director. State law requires the director to conduct a hearing in such cases, giving both sides an opportunity to explain their case, and then sustain, modify or dismiss the chief's charges.

The patrolman's suspension will become effective at 12:01 a. m. Friday, the director said. He said Richard has received a written notice of the action, as required by law.

The police report at the time of the crash said Richard was headed north in a 1965 cruiser, driving in the passing lane of the four-lane highway, and put on his turn signal to indicate he intended to turn through the divider at the city limits.

The police report said a car driven by Richard Olenski, 38, of Cleveland halted behind the cruiser, which was stopped at the break in the divider. According to the police report, Richard started to walk back to Olenski to ask him to back up so that the cruiser could make the turn.

Then, police reported, a car driven by Eli Vickers, 42, of Akron slammed into the rear of Olenski's halted auto and shoved it into the rear of the cruiser and a metal guard rail. Five persons in all were hurt in the mishap, but the officer was uninjured.

Vickers, cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance, subsequently was fined in Municipal Court.

Leader Boosted For Governor By Man He Fired

HARRISBURG (AP) — Former Gov. George M. Leader is being boosted for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1966 by a man he dismissed from his cabinet nine years ago.

The endorsement of leader by John R. Torquato, Cambria County Democratic chairman, came on the eve of a regional meeting of party leaders here today.

Appeal Funds Help Correct Birth Defects

Funds raised in the annual March of Dimes appeal help correct birth defects in thousands of youngsters and aid in continuing research into the causes, Richard G. Brian of Vine St., county campaign chairman, explained today.

He said a recent nationwide epidemic of German measles will be responsible for birth defects in 15,000 to 20,000 babies born in 1966.

Launched Jan. 1, the March of Dimes will continue throughout the month.

"Despite this toll, German measles is responsible for only a few of the many hundreds of birth defects known to medical science — defects which occur in an estimated 250,000 babies each year," Brian said.

The chairman pointed out that scientists whose work is supported by the March of Dimes have been working on the German measles problem for months and that $318,852 in funds from the campaign will go into accelerated research to perfect a vaccine.

In addition, the March of Dimes also is expanding what is already the largest single national source of private support for the diagnosis and treatment of birth defect victims, Brian asserted. More than 50 centers now are in operation at medical schools and community hospitals, where medical experts are seeking better methods of treating children with birth defects.

"It is not enough just to be 'against' birth defects," Brian said. "We must provide the best possible care for babies who are born defective. That is what the March of Dimes is all about."

State Auditor Seeks Full Four-Year Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud filed today for the Republican nomination for a full four-year term.

The former Ohio House speaker was appointed auditor last Sept. 20 by Gov. James A. Rhodes to complete the unexpired term of the late Roger W. Tracy.

But because of a ruling by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Cloud will serve by appointment only until a short-term auditor is elected and qualified in the Nov. 8 election.

LUCKY GEMS FOR YEAR

Many people have long enjoyed wearing genuine gems associated with their month of birth or astrological sign. During the Middle Ages especially, the study of astrology attained almost the dignity of a science. Astrologers at that time recommended one or more stones to each person as being lucky for them, warning them against wearing others. For example, wearing pearls was considered unlucky for Mary Queen of Scots and Elizabeth of England. Ruby on the other hand was considered a very lucky gem for Henry VIII.

Over the centuries, many lists of recommended gems have appeared. As a means of standardizing old legends, the Jewelry Industry Council and the American Gem Society officially adopted the following list in 1952 to be used by jewelers. It is as follows:

January—Garnet
February—Amethyst
March—Aquamarine or Bloodstone
April—Diamond
May—Emerald
June—Pearl, Moonstone or Alexandrite
July—Ruby
August—Peridot or Sardonyx
September—Sapphire
October—Opal or Tourmaline
November—Topaz or Citrine
December—Turquoise or Zircon

However, in addition to this list, there are gems for certain days and weeks of the month corresponding to the exact time of birth. There are also special gems associated with certain Saints' names. We will be happy to explain these to you when you come in to select your birthstone.

Midland Survives Section 8 Battle At Hopewell, 47-44

Leopards Win In Battle With Clock; B. Lake Nets 19 Points

By JOHN COMO
Review Sports Writer

The rallying Midland Leopards bounced back from near disaster twice Tuesday night and escaped from Hopewell gymnasium with a 47-44 Section 8 victory.

Midland never led in the contest until the 5:25 mark of the final period. The Leopards pulled the game out in the last 25 seconds, during which they took the ball out of bounds twice with 12 seconds left.

The frantic finale started at the 25-second mark when Jeff Lake scored the go-ahead point on the first of a two-shot foul, 45-44. He missed the second shot and after a battle for the rebound, Hopewell was awarded the ball out of bounds.

On the way up the court, Albert Palsa was called for charging just as he crossed the 10-second line and Midland got the ball out of bounds again with 14 seconds remaining.

THE LEOPARDS put the ball in play and ate up two seconds before the time-keeper sounded the horn and reported that Palsa had committed his fifth personal.

Midland put the ball in play again and ran the clock down to eight seconds, but this time it was discovered that the Vikings had just four players on the court, so the clock was reverted back to 12 seconds and Midland had to try to run out the clock again.

This time the Leopards ran the time down to two seconds and Brent Lake iced the come-from-behind thriller with a jump shot from the side for the final 47-44 count.

Palsa had knotted the score at 44-44 when he broke loose on the scoring end of a fast break with 1:25 showing on the clock.

—:—

THE WIN enabled Midland to keep intact its league winning streak at 31 games and provided a 2-0 league mark on the year. Hopewell dropped to a 1-1 conference record.

Overall season play sees Midland standing 10-3 and the Vikings dropping to 9-3.

Outstanding defense helped spark the winning fourth-quarter rally for the Leopards as they held Hopewell to five points on a goal and three free throws while scoring 13. Midland trailed, 39-34, entering the fourth.

—:—

HOPEWELL started with a rush and held an eight - point lead at one time in the first period, 12-4, and ended with a 14-6 quarter edge.

Midland bounced back in the second period to trail by only 22-21 count at halftime. Rich Mahurt paced the comeback with five points and the Lake brothers added four each.

Walt Ivkovich, who tallied 10 points in the first half, scored seven in the third period to lead the Vikings in an attempted rout as they pulled into a 10 - point lead, 34-24, at the 2:30 mark. He finished high for Hopewell with 17.

Brent Lake had tied the contest at 23-23 in the opening minute of the quarter, but Hopewell ripped off nine straight points in the next three minutes as the Leopards fell victim to turnovers and lack of rebounding power.

IVKOVICH and George Medich paced the Viking spree with five and four points respectively.

Brent Lake, game high scorer with 19, paced the Leopards in a quarter-ending rally with seven points in the final two minutes to bring Midland within five points of the Vikings.

John Williams tallied six points on two goals and two free throws to open the final quarter and provide Midland with its initial lead, 40-39.

MEDICH returned the lead to Hopewell with two free throws and then Brent Lake hit on two successive goals to hand Midland its greatest margin in the contest at 44-41 with 3:20 left.

Medich cut the margin to two points by hitting the first of a two-shot foul with 3:08 remaining.

Midland held the ball until the 1:25 mark when Sandy Martins shot from the corner and missed and set up the tying bucket by Palsa.

Hopewell suffered a major loss at the end of the third period when John Milanovich 6-2 forward fouled out.

MIDLAND shot 29 per cent from the court on 17 of 59 shots.

Hopewell struck for 34 per cent, hitting on 16 of 44.

The Vikings took the edge in rebounding 31-30, with Medich controlling 12 and Ivkavich 10. Mahurt led Midland with nine rebounds.

Midland captured the reserve tilt, 49-42, with Dave Vanlier showing the way with 19 points.

Rich Adams paced the losers with 16.

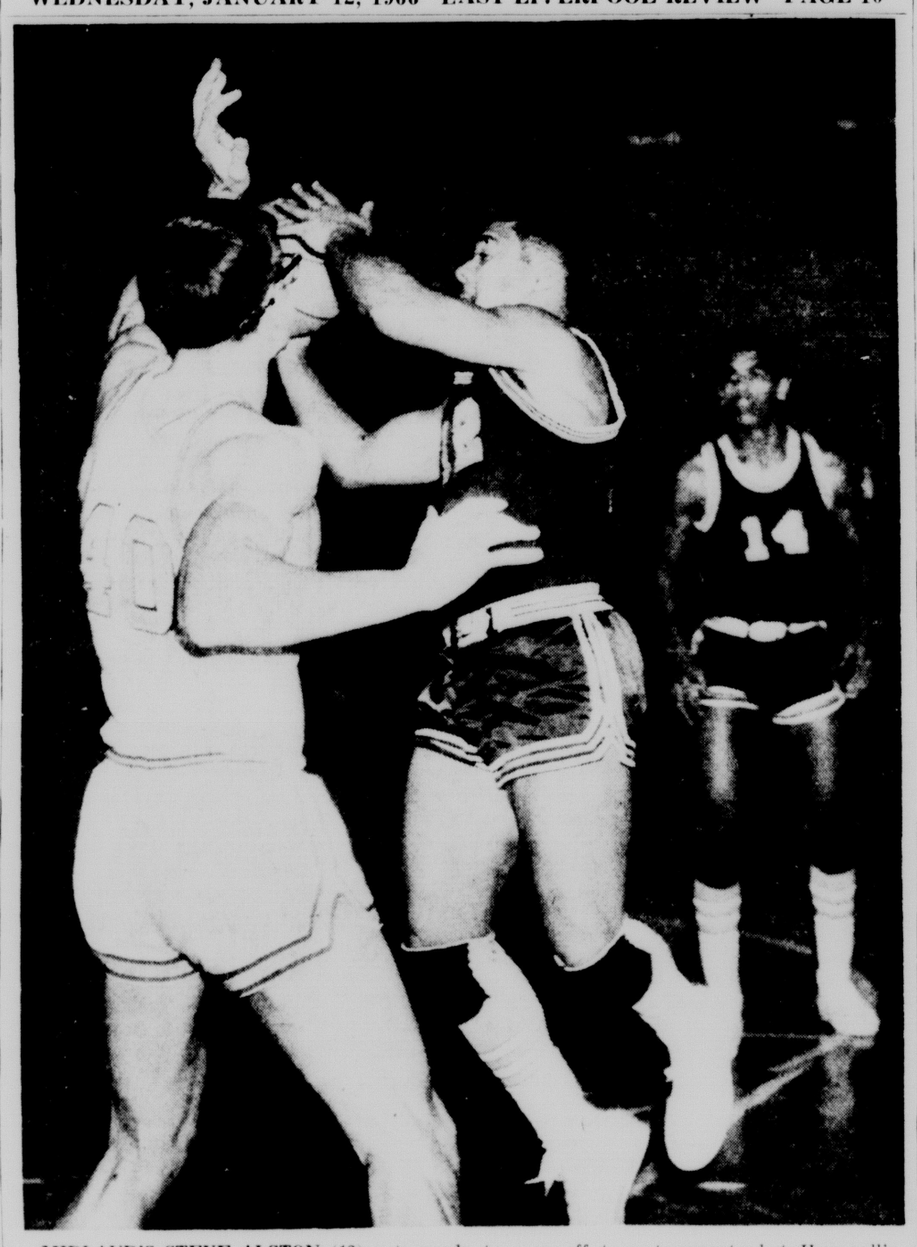
Oak Glen Beaten In Final Minute, 72-69

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1966 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 10



MIDLAND'S STEVE ALSTON (12) gets ready to pass off to a teammate but Hopewell's John Milanovich (40) has other ideas as he attempted to block Alston during action in the second half of the Midland-Hopewell game Tuesday night at Hopewell.

★ ★ ★ Follansbee Goes To Foul Line; Thayer Gets 29 ★ ★ ★

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Oak Glen let a 10-point lead slip through its hands in the final eight minutes as Follensbee went to the foul line and cashed in four times in the last 23 seconds for a thrilling 72-69 victory Tuesday night at Follansbee.

The contest marked the second straight cliff hanger where Oak Glen has been involved following a narrow victory over Beaver Local Friday but this time Coach Bob Starkey's team wound up on the losing end.

THE VICTORY was the third in a row for the Blue Wave of Follansbee which had dropped its first four contests before hitting the win trail. Oak Glen now shows a 3-5 record.

Oak Glen held a 59-49 lead with 6:17 remaining in the game but Mike Becklehimer proved the hero for Follansbee when he stepped to the line with 23 seconds to go and tied the game at 68-68 with his first free throw then put the Blue Wave in front, 69-68, on his second successful effort.

SUBSTITUTE Mike Keefe added the topping by converting two fouls with seven seconds to go.

The two stars of last night's encounter were not around for the finish. Tom Thayer, who came up with a brilliant shooting exhibition to score 29 points for Oak Glen, fouled out at a crucial time with 1:42 left in the game and Oak Glen in front 68-65.

Follansbee's stellar guard Jack Kostor, a 5-10 scoring whiz who had been averaging almost 30 points per game, fouled out with 33 seconds left after tossing in 24 points.

BEFORE leaving Kostor scored a bucket with 37 seconds left to bring his team within one point, 68-67.

The little guard had set out part of the third period after being called for his fourth personal foul midway in the quarter. He wound up with 11 field goals and two fouls.

Thayer hit on 13 of 23 shots and tallied 14 points the first half then came on to enjoy his finest eight minutes by scoring 11 points in the third period.

In addition to his scoring, Thayer grabbed 15 rebounds for the Golden Bears.

—:—

DAN CLARK was next in line with 15 points as he and Thayer were the lone Oak Glen starters in the double figures.

Becklehimer finished with 19 points and Ron Robson added 14 for Follansbee.

The defeat came to Oak Glen even though the Bears hit a good 49 per cent of their shots making 30 of 61. Follansbee took 90 shots and made 28 for 31 per cent.

The edge came at the foul line. Both teams were tied in field goals but Follansbee was more accurate from the foul line making 15 of 21 while Oak Glen hit 12 of 22.

—:—

THE CONTEST see-sawed as the lead changed hands on several occassions.

Oak Glen grabbed a 15-10 first quarter lead but Follansbee, with Kostor scoring 10 points in the second period, bounced back and moved in front 34-31 at halftime.

Thayer evened things in a hurry with a three points play to open the third period and tied the count at 34-34. The score was tied at 44-44 and again at 48-48 before Oak Glen took a 52-49 edge as the third period closed.

—:—

THE GOLDEN Bears opened the fourth period as if they would storm to their fourth victory of the season by scoring seven straight points in the first two minutes of the last quarter.

Gary Ring opened with two fouls. Clark added a field goal and foul and Bob Graham dropped in two points which sent the score to 59-49 with 6:17 to go.

From that time, Follansbee continually nipped away at the lead until securing it in the closing seconds.

The Follansbee reserves won the preliminary game, 87-65.

South Side Edge At Foul Stripe By Crafton, 69-65

South Side was dealt its third straight Section 22 loss, 69-65, with the foul line making the difference Tuesday night at Crafton.

The two teams battled to a 35-35 halftime tie with Crafton taking a slim 55-51 lead in the fourth period.

South Side owned a 29-28 edge in field goals but made only 7 of 16 fouls while Crafton dropped in 13 of 19 for the difference.

Ken Peden continued his consistent scoring pace by tallying 26 points while Dave Ashcroft added 19 in a losing cause. Ray Marshall paced Crafton with 22 markers.

Dave Palmer Is Lost To WVU Floor Squad

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Dave Palmer, starting guard on the West Virginia University basketball team, will be out for the rest of the season with torn ligaments in his right leg, Coach Bucky Waters announced Tuesday.

Palmer injured the leg last Thursday in a game with New York University. Waters said Palmer's leg was operated on Tuesday morning and a cast put on immediately afterward.

The 6-foot Palmer, from Mercer, Pa., was averaging 9.6 points per game and led the team in free throw accuracy with an 89.6 per centage.

Monaca Trounces Western, 111-43

Monaca, a pre-season favorite to sweep Section 8 honors this season, hit on 58 per cent of its shots to eclipse the century mark in a 111-43 romp at Western Beaver Tuesday night.

The Indians made 47 of 80 attempts and were deadly from the foul line hitting 17 of 19 free throws.

It was no contest from start to finish as Monaca rolled to its second league victory but faces its big test in a showdown with Midland at Monaca Friday night.

Monaca stormed to a 26-13 first quarter lead and was on top 48-23 at halftime in outclassing the Beavers.

Twelve Monaca players shared in the scoring with Steve Rudich leading the attack with 20.

Western Beaver which shot 37 per cent was paced by Clarence Andrews and Ray Hendershot with 14 each.

Jucker May Take Post Guiding Spanish Team

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Ed Jucker is thinking of branching out from winning NCAA basketball championships—he's setting his sights on leading the Spanish national team in the 1968 Olympics.

"Everything is still in an exploratory stage now; there's no contract or anything like that," the former University of Cincinnati head coach said Tuesday night.

Jucker was commenting on published reports from Barcelona that he had been picked to lead the Spanish team at Mexico City. He resigned as UC coach last spring after a 14-12 season, but stayed on at the university where his teams posted a 113-28 record in five seasons.

The Bearcats'—and Jucker's—great years were in 1961 and 1962 when they won the NCAA championship and in 1963 when they missed out by two points in overtime after reaching the finals.

"I think it would be quite interesting to coach an Olympic team," said Jucker, who admitted that he can't speak Spanish, "but I imagine I could catch on."

He said he had not heard directly from the Spanish Federation of Sports, but "I suppose the letter should get here any day now that it's been announced."

"I wrote to them back around October and said I would definitely be interested," Jucker said.

LUCKY GEMS FOR YEAR

Many people have long enjoyed wearing genuine gems associated with their month of birth or astrological sign. During the Middle Ages especially, the study of astrology attained almost the dignity of a science. Astrologers at that time recommended one or more stones to each person as being lucky for them, warning them against wearing others. For example, wearing pearls was considered unlucky for Mary Queen of Scots and Elizabeth of England. Ruby on the other hand was considered a very lucky gem for Henry VIII.

Over the centuries, many lists of recommended gems have appeared. As a means of standardizing old legends, the Jewelry Industry Council and the American Gem Society officially adopted the following list in 1952 to be used by jewelers. It is as follows:

January—Garnet
February—Amethyst
March—Aquamarine or Bloodstone
April—Diamond
May—Emerald
June—Pearl, Moonstone or Alexandrite
July—Ruby
August—Peridot or Sardonyx
September—Sapphire
October—Opal or Tourmaline
November—Topaz or Citrine
December—Turquoise or Zircon

However, in addition to this list, there are gems for certain days and weeks of the month corresponding to the exact time of birth. There are also special gems associated with certain Saints' names. We will be happy to explain these to you when you come in to select your birthstone.

Conference Delegates Set By Local Chapter Of DAR

Conference delegates were elected during the annual business session of Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Monday night at the home of the regent, Mrs. Arthur Cloran of Calcutta.

Mrs. Cloran, Mrs. Stanley Rose, Mrs. R. L. Cawood and Mrs. Frank Dales were named delegates to the state convention March 14-16 at Toledo. Alternates are David Zimmer, Mrs. William E. Kaiser, Mrs. Earl Lones and Mrs. George Hales.

Delegates elected to the Continental Congress the week of April 19 at Washington are Mrs. Cloran, Mr. and Mrs. Rose, with Mrs. Cawood and Mrs. James W. Batey alternates.

Mrs. Cawood, approved school chairman, reported $194.75 given to DAR schools. Mrs. Harold Gallimore, librarian, said $71.45 was spent for books sent to the schools.

Mrs. Kaiser reported a large state flag was presented the high school band. The flower chairman, Mrs. John Fraser, said 11 remembrances were sent to shut-in members.

Named to the nominating committee were Mrs. Lones, Mrs. Zimmer and Mrs. Charles Haugh.

Mrs. Clorean opened the meeting with the January message of Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, president-general of the national society.

Mrs. Howard Martin, chaplain, conducted devotions and Mrs. Kaiser led the flag salute. The group recited "The American's Creed" by William Tyler Page.

"Mass Disobedience Endangers The Nation" was discussed by Miss Nell Robinson, national defense chairman.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table, covered with a pink cloth overlaid with white embroidered nylon. The centerpiece of spring flowers was flanked by pink tapers in silver candelabra. Mrs. Rose poured at the silver service.

The hostess committee was Mrs. T. Gerald Ryan, Mrs. Dean Wilhelm, Mrs. John Duffy and Mrs. Anderson Pugh.

The next session Feb. 22 will feature a "Washington Birthday Tea" at Mary Patterson Memorial when guest day will be observed. Keith Langdon, director, and members of the Thespian Club of East Liverpool High School will present a patriotic playlet.

No. 1 Devils Win In Last 2 Seconds

Duke Sneaks Past Clemson, 87-85; Rice Continues Record In Reverse

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We can't expect any fabulous record," said George Carlisle, coach of the Rice Owls, before the college basketball season opened.

He was so right.

In contrast to the Duke Blue Devils, the country's No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, who edged Clemson 87-85 Tuesday night for their 10th in a row, the Owls lost their 24th straight.

They absorbed a 97-79 defeat at the hands of Texas Christian at Fort Worth to make their current record 0-12. Their carryover string of defeats from last season, when they compiled a 2-22 over-all record, also is 12. Their last victory came against Baylor 59-56 last January.

Actually Rice has lost 25 in a row, but the Owls' defeat by the AAU Phillips Oilers is listed an exhibition by the NCAA and not counted in the official records.

The Owls have one consolation. Even if they lose all of their remaining 11 games this season, they will not break the record for most consecutive losing games by a major college. The Citadel holds the mark at 37.

Steve Vacendak's layup with only two seconds left gave Duke its squeaker win over Clemson. Playing at home, Clemson came from six points back to tie the Blue Devils at 85-85 on Jim Sutherland's jumper from the corner with 50 seconds to go.

Duke called time out and passed the ball around, playing for a final shot. Vacendak took it from five feet out and sank an underhand layup to win the game. Vacendak was high for the Blue Devils with 28 points. Randy Mahaffey's 23 topped the Tigers.

Duke's victory gave the Blue Devils first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 4-1 record.

Illinois regained sole possession of first place in the Big Ten with an 80-64 victory over Wisconsin at Champaign and Texas A&M clung to the lead in the Southwest Conference by holding off Arkansas 75-72 at College Station, Tex.

The sixth-ranked Providence Friars, the only other team in The AP Top Ten to play Tuesday, whipped Rhode Island 86-79 at Kingston, R.I., behind Jimmy Walker's 38 points.

Davidson, playing at home, got a scare from The Citadel, but won 81-77. Stan Felsinger's basket with 16 seconds to go gave Columbia an 67-66 victory over Fordham on the Rams' court while Baylor downed Texas 89-75 for the Bears' first victory over the Longhorns at Austin, Tex., in seven years.

Don Freeman, with 27 points, and sophomore Rich Jones, with 25, paced Illinois over the Wisconsin Badgers. John Beasley's 29 points sparked Texas A&M over Arkansas.

Montgomery Pours In 22 For Westgate

Bill Montgomery poured in 22 points coming within two of breaking his brother's 10-year-old record of 24, as Westgate scored a 53-41 victory over visiting Weirton Madonna Tuesday afternoon.

Following an 11-11 first quarter tie, Westgate went in command 22-17 at halftime and was on top 37-25 at the end of the third frame.

Montgomery hit on 11 field goals for his total while Musuraca and Chambers followed with nine each.

Paolisso paced Weirton with 18 points.

The victory was the second in seven games for Westgate which hosts Steubenville Central Thursday.

WESTGATE—53

Tiger-Griffith Fight In Making

NEW YORK (AP) — A middleweight title fight between champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and welterweight king Emile Griffith of New York appears in the making for Madison Square Garden in mid-March.

"We've agreed to the fight and I understand Tiger will talk about terms next week," said Griffith's co-manager Howard Albert today.

The 27-year-old Griffith has appeared in a record 12 welterweight title fights. He scored a near shutout in outclassing Texan Manny Gonzalez in a title defense at the Garden last month.

Tiger, 36, regained the middleweight crown by trouncing the man who dethroned him, Joey Giardello, in a 15-rounder at the Garden last Oct. 22.

Alworth Set For AFL Star Tilt Saturday

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League All-Stars brought their two-a-day drills to an end Tuesday amid Coach Sid Gillman's enthusiasm and word that San Diego receiver Lance Alworth will make the game.

"I've just been delighted," Gillman said of the workouts. "The quarterbacks are throwing well, we're catching the ball and we have a lot of snap."

Gillman said Alworth had received the go-ahead from the team physician to play against the Buffalo Bills in the post-season game Saturday at Rice Stadium.

Alworth brings the All-Stars' strength to 40 men.

The All-Stars, which began the week with two-a-day workouts, now will practice once each morning through Friday. The Bills have been going through one-a-days since their first session Monday.

First announcements said Alworth wouldn't play for the All-Stars because of a hairline rib fracture the flashy flankerback sustained in the championship game with Buffalo.

"We'll tape him up real good and protect with extra padding," Gillman said Tuesday.

This year's game boasts a new format. Previously, it matched All-Star teams representing the league's Eastern and Western divisions.

Rangers Lose Chief Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Rangers, mired in fifth place at the half-way mark of the National Hockey League race, have lost scoring flash Rod Gilbert for the remainder of the season.

New York's faint hope of overtaking fourth-place Toronto for the final post-season playoff spot all but evaporated Tuesday with the announcement that Gilbert, who led the club with 25 goals last year, will undergo spinal surgery Feb. 1.

The 24-year-old right wing, who has tallied 70 goals in 3½ seasons with the Rangers, will enter a New York hospital Jan. 24. Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa, the club physician who will perform the operation, said he expects the recovery period will be at least six months.

Gilbert, who was operated on five years ago for a back injury, reinjured his spine last summer. Wearing a steel brace, he played in 34 of the Rangers' first 35 games and scored 10 goals.

Halas Now Eyes Court In Effort To Retain Aide

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — That growl reverberating through the National Football League is from George (Papa Bear) Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

The 70-year-old professional football pioneer is doing a fast burn over the fact that assistant coach George Allen resigned to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams. So much so that the Bears are going to court today in an attempt to keep Allen from departing.

Halas filed a breach of contract suit Tuesday in an attempt to keep Allen, whose three-year contract at $19,000 a year doesn't expire until 1968, from going to Los Angeles.

Almost in the same vein of a key government man defecting, Halas claims Allen has not only taken all the Bear secrets with him to Los Angeles but also is undermining Bear chances for the National Football League title this year.

Not that anyone is ready to concede the Bears the 1966 championship, but Halas maintains that Allen has "special, exceptional and unique knowledge and skill as a coach which cannot be measured in monetary terms and cannot be adequately compensated."

"Unless he (Allen) is restrained," the complaint reads, "he will use this information in coaching the Rams against the Bears."

Allen resigned as a Bear assistant Saturday and signed an undisclosed contract as head coach of the Rams Monday night.

In his resignation letter to Halas, Allen said, "No man ever owed more to another than I do to you for all you have done for me. No one has ever had a more agonizing experience in arriving at a decision than I have had in bringing myself in this final act of resignation.

"The opportunity which has been offered to me to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams is one I feel I must accept. The job of realizing this ambition is marred only by the regret in leaving a team, and an association with you, which has given me the most rewarding years of my life."

Allen's letter had no affect on Halas.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the NFL, told Halas in a statement that "it has been traditional in the NFL and throughout sports that assistant coaches be permitted to take advantage of opportunity for advancement.

"On the basis of this historical precedence, in fact as it is now known, this office finds no cause at this time to interfere with the Los Angeles Rams' signing of George Allen as head coach. It is hoped that the matter can be amicably resolved by the two clubs."

Dan Reeves, president of the Rams, had a terse "no comment" after learning of Halas' action. Reeves maintains the Bears first gave permission for the Rams to approach Allen and then withdrew it. Halas claims he never gave such permission and called the signing of Allen "a flagrant case of tampering."

Allen, who reportedly returned from Los Angeles to Chicago Tuesday, could not be reached.

Thomas Has Own Plan For Stocking Of Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Thomas, who's been through this once before, has his own plan on stocking the American Football League's new Miami Dolphins.

Thomas handled the problem of putting a club together when the Minnesota Vikings were added to the National Football League five years ago and, although he's changed leagues, he hasn't altered his formula.

In New York to review game films of the eight existing AFL clubs who will stock the Dolphins with 32 players, Thomas says he'll pick the best players available from the stocking lists —regardless of position.

"We may wind up overstocked in something like defensive tackles," says Thomas, "but if they're the best available we may be able to trade for a better defensive back than might be on the list we're picking from.

"We're going to take the best football players available and make the necessary adjustments later."

The AFL stocking plan permits the eight existing clubs to freeze 23 players each. The Dolphins then will pick two players from each club before the existing teams freeze one more player and Miami picks two more men from each roster.

Thomas has the player lists but the Dolphins' director of personnel says the job of making choices isn't an easy one.

"I've seen games every weekend, says Thomas "and I know a player's college and pro background, but still it's hard to rate players after you go through the lists and get down to the top five or six."

2 Sign With Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Left-handed pitchers Frank Bork and Jim Shellenback, both with Columbus in the International League last season, have signed contracts for 1966, the Pittsburgh Pirates said Tuesday.

Midland Survives Section 8 Battle At Hopewell, 47-44

Leopards Win In Battle With Clock; B. Lake Nets 19 Points

By JOHN COMO
Review Sports Writer

The rallying Midland Leopards bounced back from near disaster twice Tuesday night and escaped from Hopewell gymnasium with a 47-44 Section 8 victory.

Midland never led in the contest until the 5:25 mark of the final period. The Leopards pulled the game out in the last 25 seconds, during which they took the ball out of bounds twice with 12 seconds left.

The frantic finale started at the 25-second mark when Jeff Lake scored the go-ahead point on the first of a two-shot foul, 45-44. He missed the second shot and after a battle for the rebound, Hopewell was awarded the ball out of bounds.

On the way up the court, Albert Palsa was called for charging just as he crossed the 10-second line and Midland got the ball out of bounds again with 14 seconds remaining.

THE LEOPARDS put the ball in play and ate up two seconds before the time-keeper sounded the horn and reported that Palsa had committed his fifth personal.

Midland put the ball in play again and ran the clock down to eight seconds, but this time it was discovered that the Vikings had just four players on the court, so the clock was reverted back to 12 seconds and Midland had to try to run out the clock again.

This time the Leopards ran the time down to two seconds and Brent Lake iced the come-from-behind thriller with a jump shot from the side for the final 47-44 count.

Palsa had knotted the score at 44-44 when he broke loose on the scoring end of a fast break with 1:25 showing on the clock.

—:—

THE WIN enabled Midland to keep intact its league winning streak at 31 games and provided a 2-0 league mark on the year. Hopewell dropped to a 1-1 conference record.

Overall season play sees Midland standing 10-3 and the Vikings dropping to 9-3.

Outstanding defense helped spark the winning fourth-quarter rally for the Leopards as they held Hopewell to five points on a goal and three free throws while scoring 13. Midland trailed, 39-34, entering the fourth.

—:—

HOPEWELL started with a rush and held an eight - point lead at one time in the first period, 12-4, and ended with a 14-6 quarter edge.

Midland bounced back in the second period to trail by only 22-21 count at halftime. Rich Mahurt paced the comeback with five points and the Lake brothers added four each.

Walt Ivkovich, who tallied 10 points in the first half, scored seven in the third period to lead the Vikings in an attempted rout as they pulled into a 10 - point lead, 34-24, at the 2:30 mark. He finished high for Hopewell with 17.

Brent Lake had tied the contest at 23-23 in the opening minute of the quarter, but Hopewell ripped off nine straight points in the next three minutes as the Leopards fell victim to turnovers and lack of rebounding power.

IVKOVICH and George Medich paced the Viking spree with five and four points respectively.

Brent Lake, game high scorer with 19, paced the Leopards in a quarter-ending rally with seven points in the final two minutes to bring Midland within five points of the Vikings.

John Williams tallied six points on two goals and two free throws to open the final quarter and provide Midland with its initial lead, 40-39.

MEDICH returned the lead to Hopewell with two free throws and then Brent Lake hit on two successive goals to hand Midland its greatest margin in the contest at 44-41 with 3:20 left.

Medich cut the margin to two points by hitting the first of a two-shot foul with 3:08 remaining.

Midland held the ball until the 1:25 mark when Sandy Martins shot from the corner and missed and set up the tying bucket by Palsa.

Hopewell suffered a major loss at the end of the third period when John Milanovich 6-2 forward fouled out.

MIDLAND shot 29 per cent from the court on 17 of 59 shots.

Hopewell struck for 34 per cent, hitting on 16 of 44.

The Vikings took the edge in rebounding 31-30, with Medich controlling 12 and Ivkavich 10. Mahurt led Midland with nine rebounds.

Midland captured the reserve tilt, 49-42, with Dave Vanlier showing the way with 19 points.

Rich Adams paced the losers with 16.

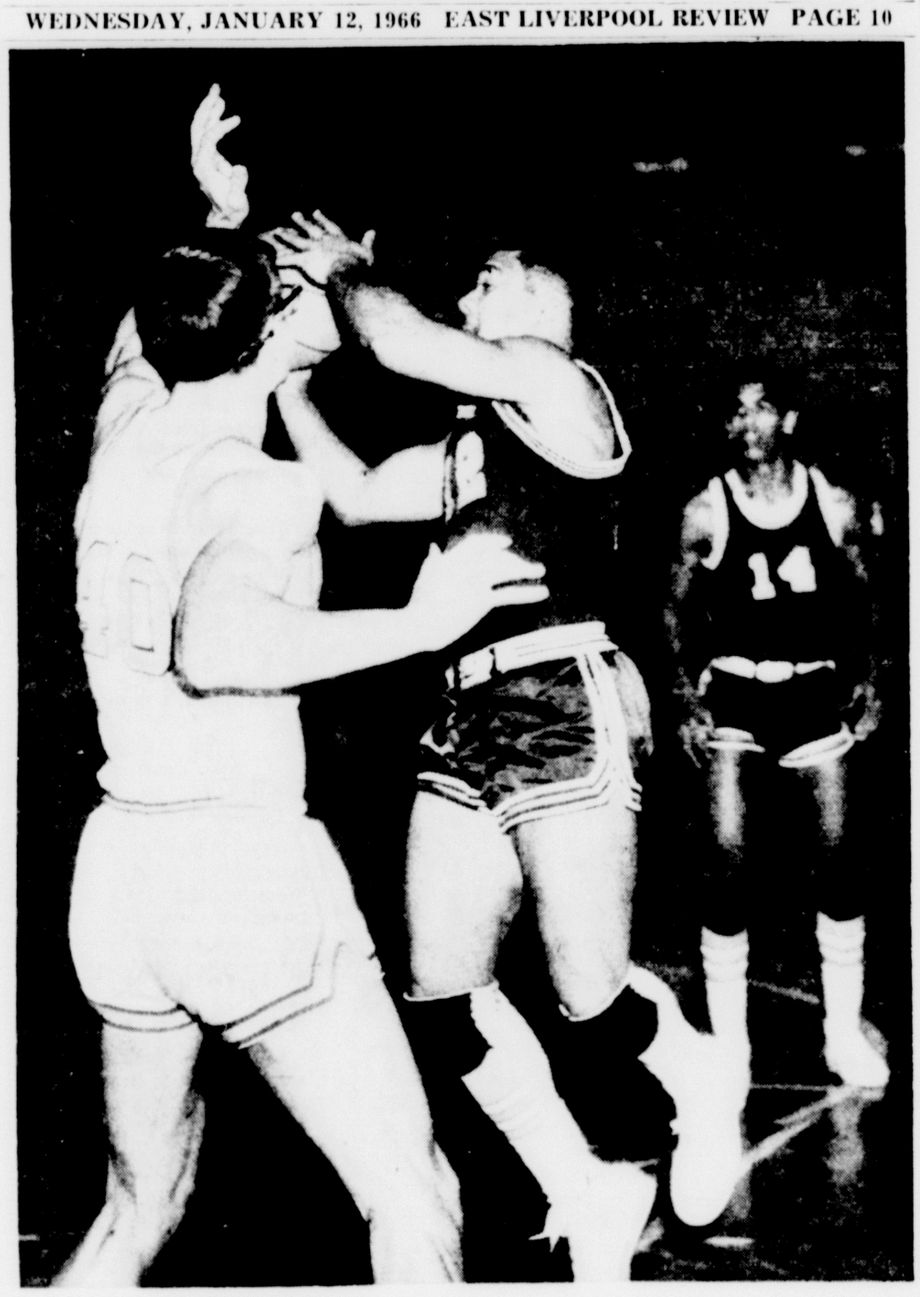
Follansbee Goes To Foul Line; Thayer Gets 29

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1966 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 10



MIDLAND'S STEVE ALSTON (12) gets ready to pass off to a teammate but Hopewell's John Milanovich (40) has other ideas as he attempted to block Alston during action in the second half of the Midland-Hopewell game Tuesday night at Hopewell.

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Oak Glen let a 10-point lead slip through its hands in the final eight minutes as Follensbee went to the foul line and cashed in four times in the last 23 seconds for a thrilling 72-69 victory Tuesday night at Follansbee.

The contest marked the second straight cliff hanger where Oak Glen has been involved following a narrow victory over Beaver Local Friday but this time Coach Bob Starkey's team wound up on the losing end.

THE VICTORY was the third in a row for the Blue Wave of Follansbee which had dropped its first four contests before hitting the win trail. Oak Glen now shows a 3-5 record.

Oak Glen held a 59-49 lead with 6:17 remaining in the game but Mike Becklehimer proved the hero for Follansbee when he stepped to the line with 23 seconds to go and tied the game at 68-68 with his first free throw then put the Blue Wave in front, 69-68, on his second successful effort.

SUBSTITUTE Mike Keefe added the topping by converting two fouls with seven seconds to go.

The two stars of last night's encounter were not around for the finish. Tom Thayer, who came up with a brilliant shooting exhibition to score 29 points for Oak Glen, fouled out at a crucial time with 1:42 left in the game and Oak Glen in front 68-65.

Follansbee's stellar guard Jack Kostor, a 5-10 scoring whiz who had been averaging almost 30 points per game, fouled out with 33 seconds left after tossing in 24 points.

BEFORE leaving Kostor scored a bucket with 37 seconds left to bring his team within one point, 68-67.

The little guard had set out part of the third period after being called for his fourth personal foul midway in the quarter. He wound up with 11 field goals and two fouls.

Thayer hit on 13 of 23 shots and tallied 14 points the first half then came on to enjoy his finest eight minutes by scoring 11 points in the third period.

In addition to his scoring, Thayer grabbed 15 rebounds for the Golden Bears.

DAN CLARK was next in line with 15 points as he and Thayer were the lone Oak Glen starters in the double figures.

Becklehimer finished with 19 points and Ron Robson added 14 for Follansbee.

The defeat came to Oak Glen even though the Bears hit a good 49 per cent of their shots making 30 of 61. Follansbee took 90 shots and made 28 for 31 per cent.

The edge came at the foul line. Both teams were tied in field goals but Follansbee was more accurate from the foul line making 15 of 21 while Oak Glen hit 12 of 22.

—:—

THE CONTEST see-sawed as the lead changed hands on several occasions.

Oak Glen grabbed a 15-10 first quarter lead but Follansbee, with Kostor scoring 10 points in the second period, bounced back and moved in front 34-31 at halftime.

Thayer evened things in a hurry with a three points play to open the third period and tied the count at 34-34. The score was tied at 44-44 and again at 48-48 before Oak Glen took a 52-49 edge as the third period closed.

THE GOLDEN Bears opened the fourth period as if they would storm to their fourth victory of the season by scoring seven straight points in the first two minutes of the last quarter.

Gary Ring opened with two fouls. Clark added a field goal and foul and Bob Graham dropped in two points which sent the score to 59-49 with 6:17 to go.

From that time, Follansbee continually nipped away at the lead until securing it in the closing seconds.

The Follansbee reserves won the preliminary game, 87-65.

South Side Edge At Foul Stripe By Crafton, 69-65

South Side was dealt its third straight Section 22 loss, 69-65, with the foul line making the difference Tuesday night at Crafton.

The two teams battled to a 35-35 halftime tie with Crafton taking a slim 55-51 lead in the fourth period.

South Side owned a 29-28 edge in field goals but made only 7 of 16 fouls while Crafton dropped in 13 of 19 for the difference.

Ken Peden continued his consistent scoring pace by tallying 26 points while Dave Ashcroft added 19 in a losing cause. Ray Marshall paced Crafton with 22 markers.

Dave Palmer Is Lost To WVU Floor Squad

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Dave Palmer, starting guard on the West Virginia University basketball team, will be out for the rest of the season with torn ligaments in his right leg, Coach Bucky Waters announced Tuesday.

Palmer injured the leg last Thursday in a game with New York University. Waters said Palmer's leg was operated on Tuesday morning and a cast put on immediately afterward.

The 6-foot Palmer, from Mercer, Pa., was averaging 9.6 points per game and led the team in free throw accuracy with an 89.6 per centage.

Monaca Trounces Western, 111-43

Monaca, a pre-season favorite to sweep Section 8 honors this season, hit on 58 per cent of its shots to eclipse the century mark in a 111-43 romp at Western Beaver Tuesday night.

The Indians made 47 of 80 attempts and were deadly from the foul line hitting 17 of 19 free throws.

It was no contest from start to finish as Monaca rolled to its second league victory but faces its big test in a showdown with Midland at Monaca Friday night.

Monaca stormed to a 26-13 first quarter lead and was on top 48-23 at halftime in outclassing the Beavers.

Twelve Monaca players shared in the scoring with Steve Rudich leading the attack with 20.

Western Beaver which shot 37 per cent was paced by Clarence Andrews and Ray Hendershot with 14 each.

Jucker May Take Post Guiding Spanish Team

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Ed Jucker is thinking of branching out from winning NCAA basketball championships—he's setting his sights on leading the Spanish national team in the 1968 Olympics.

"Everything is still in an exploratory stage now; there's no contract or anything like that," the former University of Cincinnati head coach said Tuesday night.

Jucker was commenting on published reports from Barcelona that he had been picked to lead the Spanish team at Mexico City. He resigned as UC coach last spring after a 14-12 season, but stayed on at the university where his teams posted a 113-28 record in five seasons.

The Bearcats'—and Jucker's—great years were in 1961 and 1962 when they won the NCAA championship and in 1963 when they missed out by two points in overtime after reaching the finals.

"I think it would be quite interesting to coach an Olympic team," said Jucker, who admitted that he can't speak Spanish, "but I imagine I could catch on."

He said he had not heard directly from the Spanish Federation of Sports, but "I suppose the letter should get here any day now that it's been announced."

"I wrote to them back around October and said I would definitely be interested," Jucker said.

NBA's East Five Romps Over West

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics is used to winning, but he likes a little challenge in it.

"There wasn't much of a challenge, was there?" said Auerbach after he coached the East to a lopsided 137-94 victory over the West in the National Basketball Association's 16th All-Star Game Tuesday night.

The only surprise was a second stringer — Adrian Smith of the Cincinnati Royals — winning the Most Valuable Player award. Smith, who at 6-foot-2 is one of the smallest players in the NBA, grabbed scoring honors with 24 points and took home a shiny, red convertible for being voted the MVP by sports writers.

"I told them to go out there and win the ball game, not worry about that car that was up for the most valuable player," said Auerbach, who gained his fourth straight victory as coach of the East squad, which now holds an 11-5 edge over the West in the annual classic.

The East, led by Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia and Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, turned the game into a rout in the first quarter when they built an 18-point margin over the outclassed West team. The East led 63-36 at the half and was ahead by 33 points at the end of the third period, 101-64.

A disappointed Fred Schaus of Los Angeles, coach of the West team, said, "I haven't seen too many All-Star teams with the depth of the East team. They simply had too much personnel."

The East sank 53 of 118 field goal attempts for 45 per cent. The West made only 35 of 120 shots.

The West's hopes faded in the second quarter when high-scoring Jerry West of Los Angeles suffered an eye injury in a collision with three other players and was forced to leave the game. His injury was not believed serious but he was taken to a hospital for an examination. He was released after treatment.

Eddie Miles of Detroit led the West scoring with 17 points.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain thrilled the crowd of 13,653 by stuffing several shots and ended with 21 points. John Havlicek of Boston chipped in with 18 points. Robertson contributed 17 and Willie Reed of New York had 16.

Smith, 29, in his fifth season in the NBA, said being voted the top player "was the biggest thrill of my life. I never thought I would achieve anything like this. I was just happy to be a member of the team."

It was Smith's first All-Star Game. He was one of two players chosen for each team by the coaches. The others were selected by sports writers.

West Suffers Injury To Eye In NBA Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry West, Los Angeles Lakers' guard, suffered an abrasion of the cornea Tuesday night in the National Basketball Association's All-Star Game, but was released after treatment at a hospital.

Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus said it was indefinite whether West would play in the Lakers' game against the Boston Celtics tonight.

Koufax Voted Male Athlete During 1965

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Pitching great Sandy Koufax struck out the opposition in sweeping another national award. He was voted the Male Athlete of the Year for 1965 in the annual poll conducted by The Associated Press.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' star collected 224 first-place votes on 303 ballots cast by sports writers and sportscasters in the year-end poll.

Sandy heard the news in San Diego, where he is following his favorite off-season hobby, golf. He was entered in the pro-amateur event today which precedes the San Diego Open Tournament.

By coincidence, the handsome southpaw was also here to receive another award, that of California Athlete of the Year for 1965 in a state poll conducted each year by The Associated Press.

"I thank everyone for this national honor, but I still must say baseball is a team game and I owe a great deal to my teammates with the Dodgers," Koufax said.

"I was pleased in winning the California award and now it's even greater to be rewarded in The Associated Press' national poll.

"There are so many deserving athletes," Sandy continued, "I am flattered and honored. It's quite a feeling to even be considered, much less win it. Next year I hope one of my teammates wins.

"I want to thank all the writers and sportscasters for their support. They have always been kind and gracious to me throughout my career."

This was a second time around for Koufax. He won the national award in 1963.

Second in the poll for 1965 was Princeton basketball star Bill Bradley. On the basis of three points for first place, two for second and one for third, Sandy received 778 points and Bradley 153.

Koufax had a 26-8 won-lost record, plus two vital victories in the World Series against Minnesota, set a major league strikeout record of 383 and also hurled his fourth no-hitter, a perfect game.

Battle Expected On Academic Rule

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major fight on the rule setting minimum academic standards for athletes was shaping up today at the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention with the elite Ivy League leading the dissenters.

The rule in question was passed last year and became effective Jan. 1, 1966. It requires athletes to have an average of 1.6 on a 4.0 standard, or roughly a C-minus average.

The fight is emerging over extremely complex amendments aimed at strengthening the basic rule. The amendments were scheduled for floor action today.

The eight members of the Ivy League expressed their dissatisfaction with the whole affair in a district meeting Tuesday, largely through Athletic Directors Delaney Kiphuth of Yale and Jerry Ford of Penn.

Their cry is one they've used before—"institutional autonomy." That is, they object to any outside source having any say on their grades or admission standards.

NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers said no Ivy League representatives have approached him or the NCAA council during the convention. He added, however, that the eight Ivy League schools have indicated they will not accept or abide by the legislation.

If the schools follow that course, they would still be allowed to compete in league competition but would be ineligible for national championship events.

Also scheduled for consideration today was a resolution by New Mexico calling for a return to one-platoon football and abolishing unlimited substitution. The plan is expected to have little support.

Helms Poses Problem For Reds' Skipper

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Don Heffner inherits a problem in his first year as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. He must make up his mind what to do with Tommy Helms.

Helms is ithe Reds' prized rookie, a player generally acclaimed as a sure-fire bigleaguer. The rub, however, is that he's a shortstop and the Reds already have perhaps one of the best in the National League in Leo Cardenas.

The 24-year-old newcomer is equally efficient at either second or third but the Reds possess the league's All - Star second baseman in Pete Rose and the runs batted in leader in third baseman Deron Johnson.

It is no secret that Helms is in great demand by other clubs. Charles Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, offered $200,000 for the hard - nosed youngster. Also, the California Angels reportedly topped that offer by $100,000 and were turned down.

Grady Hatton, new manager of the Houston Astros, is one of Helms' biggest boosters.

"Helms is a leader," said Hatton. "He's a great guy on a ball club. Because of his intangibles, he can help a team even when he's not hitting."

Hitting happens to be one of Helms' strong points. The 5-foot-10, 175 pounder batted .319 at San Diego last year after getting off to a very slow start.

Falcons, Toledo Verdicts Feature Ohio Floor Card

By The Associated Press

All of a sudden, from out of the depths in a span of four days, Bowling Green is a surprise contender for Mid-American Conference basketball laurels.

And the Falcons' neighbor, Toledo, also has emerged from near-oblivion.

Bowling Green whipped Kent State 86 - 83 for its second straight MAC road triumph and Toledo dumped independent Marquette 77-71 in highlights of Tuesday night's 10-game Ohio collegiate program.

The Beegees lost seven of nine nonconference outings, then absorbed a 19-point lathering at Toledo in their MAC opener a week ago.

An also ran? Not after upsetting Western Michigan at Kalamazoo Saturday and following up with the success at Kent.

The Rockets, after beating Bowling Green, looked miserable Saturday in losing by 25 points at Miami—then perked up at home with the victory over Marquette.

Nick Aloi scored 19 points for Bowling Green in the second half, sparking the Falcons from a 40-34 deficit incurred while he got only two tallies the first half. The upshot was Kent's third straight MAC loss after an opening triumph.

Toledo Coach Bob Nichols benched erstwhile ace Bill Backensto for poor play and new starter Dennis Perzynski contributed 16 points against Marquette's Warriors. Big Bob Aston got 24 and Jim Cox 17 for the Rockets. Bob Wolf tallied 27 for Marquette.

In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein won at Wittenberg 66-60 and Hiram rode Jim Warstler's 30 points to a 79-74 nod over Heidelberg, which got 29 from Jim Tangeman.

Otterbein-Wittenberg was a crucial match for both since they entered with identical 4-1 OC records and the loser dropped well behind unbeaten pacesetter Akron. Otters' Don Carlos scored 22 points.

Defiance (7-2) knocked Ashland out of a first-place tie in the Mid - Ohio Conference by handing the Eagles their first league loss, 67-65. Defiance won on the strength of 23 free throws — 13 by freshman Dan Terhune who got 23 points—to Ashland's 7.

Wilberforce edged Kentucky State 76-75 on Lonnie Lynn's 27 points and Ray James' tiebreaking layup; Walsh beat winless Cleveland State 69-62; Western Reserve, with Jerry Harbak's 27, defeated Carnegie Tech 81-70; John Carroll routed Case 88-62 in the Presidents' Conference, and Rio Grande clipped Bluefield, W. Va., 92-79.

Cage Career Almost Ended For Buckeye Frosh Player

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The guard with No. 3 on his Buckeye jersey brought the ball up court smoothly despite the pressing tactics of two defenders.

Dennis Meadors, who quarterbacks Ohio State's freshmen basketball team, deftly dribbled across the midcourt line.

It looked easy and not many in the crowd of St. John Arena realized that only nine months ago doctors said this 18-year-old would never play basketball again.

But Meadors had other ideas now he's one of the shining stars on one of the better Buckeye freshmen squads in recent years.

Meadors, who starred at Dayton Stebbins, had a bright future ahead. The 6-foot-1 popular athlete was headed for Ohio State, armed with a $5,400 athletic scholarship.

Then some tragic circumstances shattered his world.

On April 9 of last year, Meadors tried to intervene in a fight at a shopping center and was hit in the left eye with a beer bottle.

His athletic career appeared doomed as doctors felt the eye was destroyed. Meadors probably would be blind in one eye.

But after undergoing surgery twice, once to relieve pressure from adhesions, Meadors' sight slowly returned.

"I've got 20-60 vision now in the left eye and am wearing a contact lense," the fledgling Buckeye basketeer said. "The eye gives me no trouble and does not affect my play."

Meadors admits his outside shooting has been off a bit "but that's more the result of a long layoff and not because of eye trouble."

Rotating Cafe Made Patrons Spacesick

CHICAGO (AP) — The rotating cafe atop an inn on Chicago's Near North Side has been speeded up a bit because patrons were getting spacesick waiting for a complete revolution.

The restaurant is patterned after the one that topped the Space Needle at the Seattle World's fair.

A tiny ½ horsepower motor makes the Pinnacle revolve. At the restaurant's opening, the room turned one complete revolution every 48 minutes. Now it operates at 33 minutes for each revolution.

Manager John Bogardus said he'll try for a happy medium speed of perhaps 40 minutes per revolution.

No. 1 Devils Win In Last 2 Seconds

Duke Sneaks Past Clemson, 87-85; Rice Continues Record In Reverse

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We can't expect any fabulous record," said George Carlisle, coach of the Rice Owls, before the college basketball season opened.

He was so right.

In contrast to the Duke Blue Devils, the country's No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, who edged Clemson 87-85 Tuesday night for their 10th in a row, the Owls lost their 24th straight.

They absorbed a 97-79 defeat at the hands of Texas Christian at Fort Worth to make their current record 0-12. Their carryover string of defeats from last season, when they compiled a 2-22 over-all record, also is 12. Their last victory came against Baylor 59-56 last January.

Actually Rice has lost 25 in a row, but the Owls' defeat by the AAU Phillips Oilers is listed an exhibition by the NCAA and not counted in the official records.

The Owls have one consolation. Even if they lose all of their remaining 11 games this season, they will not break the record for most consecutive losing games by a major college. The Citadel holds the mark at 37.

Steve Vacendak's layup with only two seconds left gave Duke its squeaker win over Clemson. Playing at home, Clemson came from six points back to tie the Blue Devils at 85-85 on Jim Sutherland's jumper from the corner with 50 seconds to go.

Duke called time out and passed the ball around, playing for a final shot. Vacendak took it from five feet out and sank an underhand layup to win the game. Vacendak was high for the Blue Devils with 28 points. Randy Mahaffey's 23 topped the Tigers.

Duke's victory gave the Blue Devils first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 4-1 record.

Illinois regained sole possession of first place in the Big Ten with an 80-64 victory over Wisconsin at Champaign and Texas A&M clung to the lead in the Southwest Conference by holding off Arkansas 75-72 at College Station, Tex.

The sixth-ranked Providence Friars, the only other team in The AP Top Ten to play Tuesday, whipped Rhode Island 86-79 at Kingston, R.I., behind Jimmy Walker's 38 points.

Davidson, playing at home, got a scare from The Citadel, but won 81-77. Stan Felsinger's basket with 16 seconds to go gave Columbia an 67-66 victory over Fordham on the Rams' court while Baylor downed Texas 89-75 for the Bears' first victory over the Longhorns at Austin, Tex., in seven years.

Don Freeman, with 27 points, and sophomore Rich Jones, with 25, paced Illinois over the Wisconsin Badgers. John Beasley's 29 points sparked Texas A&M over Arkansas.

Montgomery Pours In 22 For Westgate

Bill Montgomery poured in 22 points coming within two of breaking his brother's 10-year-old record of 24, as Westgate scored a 53-41 victory over visiting Weirton Madonna Tuesday afternoon.

Following an 11-11 first quarter tie, Westgate went in command 22-17 at halftime and was on top 37-25 at the end of the third frame.

Montgomery hit on 11 field goals for his total while Musuraca and Chambers followed with nine each.

Paolisso paced Weirton with 18 points.

The victory was the second in seven games for Westgate which hosts Steubenville Central Thursday.

WESTGATE—53
Montgomery 11-0-22; Musuraca 3-3-9; Pickin 2-4-8; Chambers 4-1-9; Cunningham 1-0-2; Eckles 0-1-1; Cranston 1-0-2. Totals 22-9-24-53.
WEIRTON MADONNA—41
Paolisso 4-10-18; Krevenbuhl 4-3-11; Cervenak 2-1-5; McCune 3-0-6; Thomasille 0-1-1. Totals 13-15-28-41.

Tiger-Griffith Fight In Making

NEW YORK (AP) — A middleweight title fight between champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and welterweight king Emile Griffith of New York appears in the making for Madison Square Garden in mid-March.

"We've agreed to the fight and I understand Tiger will talk about terms next week," said Griffith's co-manager Howard Albert today.

The 27-year-old Griffith has appeared in a record 12 welterweight title fights. He scored a near shutout in outclassing Texan Manny Gonzalez in a title defense at the Garden last month.

Tiger, 36, regained the middleweight crown by trouncing the man who dethroned him, Joey Giardello, in a 15-rounder at the Garden last Oct. 22.

Alworth Set For AFL Star Tilt Saturday

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League All-Stars brought their two-a-day drills to an end Tuesday amid Coach Sid Gillman's enthusiasm and word that San Diego receiver Lance Alworth will make the game.

"I've just been delighted," Gillman said of the workouts. "The quarterbacks are throwing well, we're catching the ball and we have a lot of snap."

Gillman said Alworth had received the go-ahead from the team physician to play against the Buffalo Bills in the post-season game Saturday at Rice Stadium.

Alworth brings the All-Stars' strength to 40 men.

The All-Stars, which began the week with two-a-day workouts, now will practice once each morning through Friday. The Bills have been going through one-a-days since their first session Monday.

First announcements said Alworth wouldn't play for the All-Stars because of a hairline rib fracture the flashy flankerback sustained in the championship game with Buffalo.

"We'll tape him up real good and protect with extra padding," Gillman said Tuesday.

This year's game boasts a new format. Previously, it matched All-Star teams representing the league's Eastern and Western divisions.

Rangers Lose Chief Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Rangers, mired in fifth place at the half-way mark of the National Hockey League race, have lost scoring flash Rod Gilbert for the remainder of the season.

New York's faint hope of overtaking fourth-place Toronto for the final post-season playoff spot all but evaporated Tuesday with the announcement that Gilbert, who led the club with 25 goals last year, will undergo spinal surgery Feb. 1.

The 24-year-old right wing, who has tallied 70 goals in 3½ seasons with the Rangers, will enter a New York hospital Jan. 24. Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa, the club physician who will perform the operation, said he expects the recovery period will be at least six months.

Gilbert, who was operated on five years ago for a back injury, reinjured his spine last summer. Wearing a steel brace, he played in 34 of the Rangers' first 35 games and scored 10 goals.

Halas Now Eyes Court In Effort To Retain Aide

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — That growl reverberating through the National Football League is from George (Papa Bear) Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

The 70-year-old professional football pioneer is doing a fast burn over the fact that assistant coach George Allen resigned to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams. So much so that the Bears are going to court today in an attempt to keep Allen from departing.

Halas filed a breach of contract suit Tuesday in an attempt to keep Allen, whose three-year contract at $19,000 a year doesn't expire until 1968, from going to Los Angeles.

Almost in the same vein of a key government man defecting, Halas claims Allen has not only taken all the Bear secrets with him to Los Angeles but also is undermining Bear chances for the National Football League title this year.

Not that anyone is ready to concede the Bears the 1966 championship, but Halas maintains that Allen has "special, exceptional and unique knowledge and skill as a coach which cannot be measured in monetary terms and cannot be adequately compensated."

"Unless he (Allen) is restrained," the complaint reads, "he will use this information in coaching the Rams against the Bears."

Allen resigned as a Bear assistant Saturday and signed an undisclosed contract as head coach of the Rams Monday night.

In his resignation letter to Halas, Allen said, "No man ever owed more to another than I do to you for all you have done for me. No one has ever had a more agonizing experience in arriving at a decision than I have had in bringing myself in this final act of resignation.

"The opportunity which has been offered to me to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams is one I feel I must accept. The job of realizing this ambition is marred only by the regret in leaving a team, and an association with you, which has given me the most rewarding years of my life."

Allen's letter had no affect on Halas.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the NFL, told Halas in a statement that "it has been traditional in the NFL and throughout sports that assistant coaches be permitted to take advantage of opportunity for advancement.

"On the basis of this historical precedence, in fact as it is now known, this office finds no cause at this time to interfere with the Los Angeles Rams' signing of George Allen as head coach. It is hoped that the matter can be amicably resolved by the two clubs."

Dan Reeves, president of the Rams, had a terse "no comment" after learning of Halas' action. Reeves maintains the Bears first gave permission for the Rams to approach Allen and then withdrew it. Halas claims he never gave such permission and called the signing of Allen "a flagrant case of tampering."

Allen, who reportedly returned from Los Angeles to Chicago Tuesday, could not be reached.

Thomas Has Own Plan For Stocking Of Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Thomas, who's been through this once before, has his own plan on stocking the American Football League's new Miami Dolphins.

Thomas handled the problem of putting a club together when the Minnesota Vikings were added to the National Football League five years ago and, although he's changed leagues, he hasn't altered his formula.

In New York to review game films of the eight existing AFL clubs who will stock the Dolphins with 32 players, Thomas says he'll pick the best players available from the stocking lists —regardless of position.

"We may wind up overstocked in something like defensive tackles," says Thomas, "but if they're the best available we may be able to trade for a better defensive back than might be on the list we're picking from.

"We're going to take the best football players available and make the necessary adjustments later."

The AFL stocking plan permits the eight existing clubs to freeze 23 players each. The Dolphins then will pick two players from each club before the existing teams freeze one more player and Miami picks two more men from each roster.

Thomas has the player lists but the Dolphins' director of personnel says the job of making choices isn't an easy one.

"I've seen games every weekend, says Thomas "and I know a player's college and pro background, but still it's hard to rate players after you go through the lists and get down to the top five or six."

19 Of Police Force Resign At Massillon

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — More than half of the members of this city's police force have announced they will resign today, protesting council's refusal to consider a pay raise.

The announced resignation of 19 members of the 32-man police force came after a 90-minute meeting of police officers Tuesday. The 19 will remain on their jobs at least two weeks as required by law.

Monday night council voted 6-3 against enlarging pay raises voted Dec. 27. They raised monthly pay for a patrolman with one year's experience from $447 to $474. A spokesman for the Police Department said the men wanted $494.

Mayor William J. Keen had no comment on the announced resignations.

A statement by those resigning said, "We are not leaving for spite, but because we must better outselves. We must think of our families and our futures."

Elkton PTA Maps Future Activities

ELKTON — A general discussion of school activities featured the Monday night meeting of the Elkton Parent-Teacher Association in the school.

Mrs. Richard Rudibaugh, vice president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Clarence Noel, principal, requested that parents visiting the school park in the back so as not to interfere with school bus operations.

It was announced that proceeds from the drumstick sale sponsored by the first grade, taught by Mrs. Foyn Wright, will go into the "Dollars For Scholars" fund of the Beaver Local School District.

Mrs. Jay Eells and Mrs. John Booth served as refreshment co-chairmen for fourth - grade mothers.

The association will meet again Feb. 14.

Newell Crash Hurts Pastor

The Rev. Willis Summers of 517 Grant St., Newell, was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for contusions of the left chest following an auto accident on West Virginia Route 66 in Newell, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

Rev. Summers was making a left turn in the southbound lane at the 8th St. intersection when his car was struck by a vehicle driven by James Reese, 22, of Box 105, New Cumberland, traveling in the same direction, the report said.

Combined damage to the autos was estimated at $500 by sheriff's deputies. The accident was timed shortly before 7:30. No charges were filed.

Rev. Summers is minister of the Newell First Methodist Church.

Reports Given At Meeting Of Legion Group

Forty - seven attended a meeting of American Legion Post 374 Monday at the post home, with various reports heard. John Long, commander, presided.

James Cregar reported on the 10th district winter conference held Sunday at New Philadelphia.

James Wallover reported Floyd Tweed, Earl Stanley and Louis Provost as hospital patients and that Harry Holt remains a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Oakland.

The bowling team representing the post at the 10th District Bowling tournament at New Philadelphia Saturday night finished first with a total of 3,104 pins, Cregar reported.

The membership voted to send Comdr. Long and Bob Milne, adjutant, to the mid - winter conference Jan. 30 at Columbus.

The Army Reserve Unit was granted permission to use the post ballroom for a dinner Jan. 28.

Program Given For Nike Group

Twenty - four members of the NIKE Club of East Liverpool High School met Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. G. McKinnon, chairman of the sponsoring Business and Professional Women's Club's Advisory Committee.

Miss Cindy Croyle, personal development chairman of NIKE, was in charge of the program and presented Miss Darlene Taylor and Mrs. Robert Blatchford in a skit which highlighted the "do's and don't's" of make-up, costume and attitude.

Miss Taylor and Mrs. Blatchford, who are both members of the Personal Development Committee of the BPW, also distributed literature on diet and posture to the NIKE group.

Miss Linda Owens, NIKE vice president, presided during the business session, when it was announced that new members will be admitted following the close of the current school semester and that Senior high school girls interested in making application may obtain forms from any NIKE member.

During the business session, a letter was read from Mrs. George McCullough, chairman of the BPW Club's Child Health Clinic Board, thanking the NIKE members for their assistance in conducting the PBW's annual Christmas party for clinic patients.

Dear Friends,

One thing a family should not expect the funeral director to do is to suggest the cost of the funeral to be selected. His advice may be invited, but the decision rests with the family. The financial aspects must of necessity be candidly discussed, to avoid hardship and to have complete understanding by all concerned.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

NBA's East Five Romps Over West

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics is used to winning, but he likes a little challenge in it.

"There wasn't much of a challenge, was there?" said Auerbach after he coached the East to a lopsided 137-94 victory over the West in the National Basketball Association's 16th All-Star Game Tuesday night.

The only surprise was a second stringer — Adrian Smith of the Cincinnati Royals — winning the Most Valuable Player award. Smith, who at 6-foot-2 is one of the smallest players in the NBA, grabbed scoring honors with 24 points and took home a shiny, red convertible for being voted the MVP by sports writers.

"I told them to go out there and win the ball game, not worry about that car that was up for the most valuable player," said Auerbach, who gained his fourth straight victory as coach of the East squad, which now holds an 11-5 edge over the West in the annual classic.

The East, led by Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia and Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, turned the game into a rout in the first quarter when they built an 18-point margin over the outclassed West team. The East led 63-36 at the half and was ahead by 33 points at the end of the third period, 101-64.

A disappointed Fred Schaus of Los Angeles, coach of the West team, said, "I haven't seen too many All-Star teams with the depth of the East team. They simply had too much personnel."

The East sank 53 of 118 field goal attempts for 45 per cent. The West made only 35 of 120 shots.

The West's hopes faded in the second quarter when high-scoring Jerry West of Los Angeles suffered an eye injury in a collision with three other players and was forced to leave the game. His injury was not believed serious but he was taken to a hospital for an examination. He was released after treatment.

Eddie Miles of Detroit led the West scoring with 17 points.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain thrilled the crowd of 13,653 by stuffing several shots and ended with 21 points. John Havlicek of Boston chipped in with 18 points, Robertson contributed 17 and Willie Reed of New York had 16.

Smith, 29, in his fifth season in the NBA, said being voted the top player "was the biggest thrill of my life. I never thought I would achieve anything like this. I was just happy to be a member of the team."

It was Smith's first All-Star Game. He was one of two players chosen for each team by the coaches. The others were selected by sports writers.

West Suffers Injury To Eye In NBA Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry West, Los Angeles Lakers' guard, suffered an abrasion of the cornea Tuesday night in the National Basketball Association's All-Star Game, but was released after treatment at a hospital.

Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus said it was indefinite whether West would play in the Lakers' game against the Boston Celtics tonight.

Koufax Voted Male Athlete During 1965

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Pitching great Sandy Koufax struck out the opposition in sweeping another national award. He was voted the Male Athlete of the Year for 1965 in the annual poll conducted by The Associated Press.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' star collected 224 first-place votes on 303 ballots cast by sports writers and sportscasters in the year-end poll.

Sandy heard the news in San Diego, where he is following his favorite off-season hobby, golf. He was entered in the pro-amateur event today which precedes the San Diego Open Tournament.

By coincidence, the handsome southpaw was also here to receive another award, that of California Athlete of the Year for 1965 in a state poll conducted each year by The Associated Press.

"I thank everyone for this national honor, but I still must say baseball is a team game and I owe a great deal to my teammates with the Dodgers," Koufax said.

"I was pleased in winning the California award and now it's even greater to be rewarded in The Associated Press' national poll.

"There are so many deserving athletes," Sandy continued, "I am flattered and honored. It's quite a feeling to even be considered, much less win it. Next year I hope one of my teammates wins.

"I want to thank all the writers and sportscasters for their support. They have always been kind and gracious to me throughout my career."

This was a second time around for Koufax. He won the national award in 1963.

Second in the poll for 1965 was Princeton basketball star Bill Bradley. On the basis of three points for first place, two for second and one for third, Sandy received 778 points and Bradley 153.

Koufax had a 26-8 won-lost record, plus two vital victories in the World Series against Minnesota, set a major league strikeout record of 382 and also hurled his fourth no-hitter, a perfect game.

Battle Expected On Academic Rule

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major fight on the rule setting minimum academic standards for athletes was shaping up today at the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention with the elite Ivy League leading the dissenters.

The rule in question was passed last year and became effective Jan. 1, 1966. It requires athletes to have an average of 1.6 on a 4.0 standard, or roughly a C-minus average.

The fight is emerging over extremely complex amendments aimed at strengthening the basic rule. The amendments were scheduled for floor action today.

The eight members of the Ivy League expressed their dissatisfaction with the whole affair in a district meeting Tuesday, largely through Athletic Directors Delaney Kiphuth of Yale and Jerry Ford of Penn.

Their cry is one they've used before—"institutional autonomy." That is, they object to any outside source having any say on their grades or admission standards.

NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers said no Ivy League representatives have approached him or the NCAA council during the convention. He added, however, that the eight Ivy League schools have indicated they will not accept or abide by the legislation.

If the schools follow that course, they would still be allowed to compete in league competition but would be ineligible for national championship events.

Also scheduled for consideration today was a resolution by New Mexico calling for a return to one-platoon football and abolishing unlimited substitution. The plan is expected to have little support.

Helms Poses Problem For Reds' Skipper

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Don Heffner inherits a problem in his first year as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. He must make up his mind what to do with Tommy Helms.

Helms is ithe Reds' prized rookie, a player generally acclaimed as a sure-fire bigleaguer. The rub, however, is that he's a shortstop and the Reds already have perhaps one of the best in the National League in Leo Cardenas.

The 24-year-old newcomer is equally efficient at either second or third but the Reds possess the league's All - Star second baseman in Pete Rose and the runs batted in leader in third baseman Deron Johnson.

It is no secret that Helms is in great demand by other clubs. Charles Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, offered $200,000 for the hard - nosed youngster. Also, the California Angels reportedly topped that offer by $100,000 and were turned down.

Grady Hatton, new manager of the Houston Astros, is one of Helms' biggest boosters.

"Helms is a leader," said Hatton. "He's a great guy on a ball club. Because of his intangibles, he can help a team even when he's not hitting."

Hitting happens to be one of Helms' strong points. The 5-foot-10, 175 pounder batted .319 at San Diego last year after getting off to a very slow start.

Rotating Cafe Made Patrons Spacesick

CHICAGO (AP) — The rotating cafe atop an inn on Chicago's Near North Side has been speeded up a bit because patrons were getting spacesick waiting for a complete revolution.

The restaurant is patterned after the one that topped the Space Needle at the Seattle World's fair.

A tiny ½ horsepower motor makes the Pinnacle revolve. At the restaurant's opening, the room turned one complete revolution every 48 minutes. Now it operates at 33 minutes for each revolution.

Manager John Bogardus said he'll try for a happy medium speed of perhaps 40 minutes per revolution.

Health Figure Dies

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Homer Edgar Wickenden, 75, who set up New York City's Blue Cross plan in 1934, died Mondy of Parkinson's disease. Wickenden was vice president and secretary of the National Health and Welfare Retirement Association from 1944 until his retirement in 1956.

Falcons, Toledo Verdicts Feature Ohio Floor Card

By The Associated Press

All of a sudden, from out of the depths in a span of four days, Bowling Green is a surprise contender for Mid-American Conference basketball laurels.

And the Falcons' neighbor, Toledo, also has emerged from near-oblivion.

Bowling Green whipped Kent State 86 - 83 for its second straight MAC road triumph and Toledo dumped independent Marquette 77-71 in highlights of Tuesday night's 10-game Ohio collegiate program.

The Beegees lost seven of nine nonconference outings, then absorbed a 19-point lathering at Toledo in their MAC opener a week ago.

An also ran? Not after upsetting Western Michigan at Kalamazoo Saturday and following up with the success at Kent.

The Rockets, after beating Bowling Green, looked miserable Saturday in losing by 25 points at Miami—then perked up at home with the victory over Marquette.

Nick Aloi scored 19 points for Bowling Green in the second half, sparking the Falcons from a 40-34 deficit incurred while he got only two tallies the first half. The upshot was Kent's third straight MAC loss after an opening triumph.

Toledo Coach Bob Nichols benched erstwhile ace Bill Backensto for poor play and new starter Dennis Perzynski contributed 16 points against Marquette's Warriors. Big Bob Aston got 24 and Jim Cox 17 for the Rockets. Bob Wolf tallied 27 for Marquette.

In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein won at Wittenberg 66-60 and Hiram rode Jim Warstler's 30 points to a 79-74 nod over Heidelberg, which got 29 from Jim Tangeman.

Otterbein-Wittenberg was a crucial match for both since they entered with identical 4-1 OC records and the loser dropped well behind unbeaten pacesetter Akron. Otters' Don Carlos scored 22 points.

Defiance (7-2) knocked Ashland out of a first-place tie in the Mid - Ohio Conference by handing the Eagles their first league loss, 67-65. Defiance won on the strength of 23 free throws — 13 by freshman Dan Terhune who got 23 points—to Ashland's 7.

Wilberforce edged Kentucky State 76-75 on Lonnie Lynn's 27 points and Ray James' tiebreaking layup; Walsh beat winless Cleveland State 69-62; Western Reserve, with Jerry Harbak's 27, defeated Carnegie Tech 81-70; John Carroll routed Case 88-62 in the Presidents' Conference, and Rio Grande clipped Bluefield, W. Va., 92-79.

Cage Career Almost Ended For Buckeye Frosh Player

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The guard with No. 3 on his Buckeye jersey brought the ball up court smoothly despite the pressing tactics of two defenders.

Dennis Meadors, who quarterbacks Ohio State's freshmen basketball team, deftly dribbled across the midcourt line.

It looked easy and not many in the crowd of St. John Arena realized that only nine months ago doctors said this 18-year-old would never play basketball again.

But Meadors had other ideas now he's one of the shining stars on one of the better Buckeye freshmen squads in recent years.

Meadors, who starred at Dayton Stebbins, had a bright future ahead. The 6-foot-1 popular athlete was headed for Ohio State, armed with a $5,400 athletic scholarship.

Then some tragic circumstances shattered his world.

On April 9 of last year, Meadors tried to intervene in a fight at a shopping center and was hit in the left eye with a beer bottle.

His athletic career appeared doomed as doctors felt the eye was destroyed. Meadors probably would be blind in one eye.

But after undergoing surgery twice, once to relieve pressure from adhesions, Meadors' sight slowly returned.

"I've got 20-60 vision now in the left eye and am wearing a contact lense," the fledgling Buckeye basketeer said. "The eye gives me no trouble and does not affect my play."

Meadors admits his outside shooting has been off a bit "but that's more the result of a long layoff and not because of eye trouble."

10 Indictments Are Returned By Jury In Hancock

NEW CUMBERLAND — Ten indictments, four on felonies and six on misdemeanors, were returned by the January term of the Hancock County grand jury Tuesday at the Courthouse here.

Indicted on felonies were: Kenneth A. Glendenning of Newell, for breaking and entering the home of Ruth Melvin of Pughtown on Nov. 27; Jerry F. Yanda of Weirton, for breaking and entering at the Weir Cigar & Candy Store and for auto theft Nov. 7; Michael J. Hays of Weirton, obtaining an auto under false pretenses and articles from the Marlinn Shoe Store in Weirton under false pretenses on May 15, and Gary L. Eakel, no address listed, an alleged accomplice of Yanda in the auto theft.

Yanda's indictment was separate from a previous indictment brought by the September term of the grand jury for breaking and entering at the Weir Cigar & Candy Store in February 1965.

Eakel's indictment was transferred to juvenile court due to the defendant's age.

Indicted on misdemeanors were: James E. Brown, Richard A. Baldinger, Arthur C. Jones and William P. Dunn, all of Pittsburgh for breaking and entering at Martin's TV & Appliance Store in Weirton on Sept. 26; Robert J. Kallay of Weirton, for involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of two Weirton teen - age girls in an auto accident on Aug. 18, 1965; Robert Ball of Weirton, for obtaining goods under false pretense at Anile's Pharmacy in Weirton.

Kallay's case was transferred to juvenile court.

Judge Ralph Pryor of Wellsburg presided.

Arraignments were set for Jan. 20 before Judge Pryor.

Latest Crisis Seen Easing

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The latest Dominican crisis eased today as six leading rebel officers left the country and Communist labor leaders called off a lagging strike.

The six rebels who left Tuesday were the first to obey President Hector Garcia-Godoy's order naming 30 military officers of both factions in the April rebellion to diplomatic and study posts abroad.

Col. Francis Caamano Deno, the former president of the rebel regime, and his armed forces minister, Col. Manuel Ramon Montes Arache, remained behind. They were expected to leave the country soon, possibly this week.

The Dominican army balked at accepting the president's order last week, but Commodore Francisco River Caminero, the military chief, has said the regulars will consider it as soon as the top rebels leave.

Communist unions, faced with the failure of a two-day "patriotic strike" to protest Garcia-Godoy's order told their followers Tuesday night to return to their jobs. The Communist labor chiefs said the strike had demonstrated the "peoples' support" of the cause.

The strike caused minor disruptions in the capital, but no major industries were affected. A few stores closed, fearing damage from agitators.

Two civilian demonstrators were killed during the work stoppage. One was shot by a U.S. paratrooper of the Inter-American Peace Force. Another died Tuesday when an army and police patrol fired into a group of demonstrators throwing rocks in a suburb.

The departing rebel officers were received by Garcia-Godoy at his residence as he was celebrating his 45th birthday. The group was taken to the International Airport by U.S. Army helicopters and put aboard a jetliner for Puerto Rico.

An official source said the officers — five colonels and lieutenant — were going to Rome, Guatemala, El Salvador, France, Mexico and Uruguay.

Legislators Will Pay Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most Ohio legislators apparently will pay income taxes to Columbus without a fight, under a court ruling that they owe the tax.

About 55 legislators have paid nearly $1,800 in city income taxes so far, D. S. Swisher, head of Columbus' Income Tax Division, said today, and payments are trickling in three or four per day.

Only one man has told the city "we'd have to sue him," said City Auditor John Price. About 270 legislators or former legislators were told they owed the city income tax.

Price and Swisher expect most of these to pay without a fight. But they and City Atty. John Young agree that under a court order the city will have to file suit to collect from any reluctant legislators — even if the costs of going to court to collect might exceed the amount owed.

The Ohio Supreme Court last year held that the lawmakers owed Columbus the 1 per cent tax on their legislative salaries. The 1965 legislature immediate passed a law to exempt lawmakers' salaries from the tax.

That law didn't take effect until November and legislators serving in the last session owe $4,034 for 1965, Swisher said. More than $8,000 is owed by lawmakers who served in the legislature between 1959, the last year for which the tax can be collected under the statute of limitations, and 1965.

A person in the legislature continuously for that period would owe about $80.

The city attorney interprets the court order directing Columbus to collect the tax from lawmakers as requiring the city to go to court if necessary to force payment.

Columbus had never tried to collect the tax from legislators, except those who lived in the city, until a taxpayer, Edwin Miller, filed suit to force such collections.

The city's thinking was that legislators would be able to deduct living expenses, which would amount to more than the tax, Young said, and "I think to this day we were right."

Courts didn't agree, though.

There is some question now about the constitutionality of the 1965 law exempting legislators from the city income tax, Young said, but he has no plans to file suit testing its constitutionality.

Report Cites Pitt As Likely Spot For State University

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A special New York consultant's report pointed to the University of Pittsburgh today as the likely location for a western state university.

At the same time, the report recommended that Pennsylvania State University limit its freshman and sophomore enrollment and place a heavier emphasis on "graduate and professional work."

The report by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc., was presented to the state Board of Education for use in preparing an over-all master plan for higher education in the commonwealth.

With regard to Pitt, the academy said:

"The need for public higher education facilities in western Pennsylvania, particularly in Pittsburgh, cannot be ignored by the University of Pittsburgh as it develops its financing plan for the future."

The academy said there is a need to serve some 25,000 to 30,000 students in western Pennsylvania with a "low tuition university level educational program."

Turning to Penn State the academy called the university the "keystone of public higher education" in the commonwealth and urged the state to "build upon its tremendous investment" in the school.

The academy said, however, the university should concern itself more with accepting transfer students from community college and off campus branches.

19 Of Police Force Resign At Massillon

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — More than half of the members of this city's police force have announced they will resign today, protesting council's refusal to consider a pay raise.

The announced resignation of 19 members of the 32-man police force came after a 90-minute meeting of police officers Tuesday. The 19 will remain on their jobs at least two weeks as required by law.

Monday night council voted 6-3 against enlarging pay raises voted Dec. 27. They raised monthly pay for a patrolman with one year's experience from $447 to $474. A spokesman for the Police Department said the men wanted $494.

Mayor William J. Keen had no comment on the announced resignations.

A statement by those resigning said, "We are not leaving for spite, but because we must better outselves. We must think of our families and our futures."

Elkton PTA Maps Future Activities

ELKTON — A general discussion of school activities featured the Monday night meeting of the Elkton Parent-Teacher Association in the school.

Mrs. Richard Rudibaugh, vice president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Clarence Noel, principal, requested that parents visiting the school park in the back so as not to interfere with school bus operations.

It was announced that proceeds from the drumstick sale sponsored by the first grade, taught by Mrs. Foyn Wright, will go into the "Dollars For Scholars" fund of the Beaver Local School District.

Mrs. Jay Eells and Mrs. John Booth served as refreshment co-chairmen for fourth - grade mothers.

The association will meet again Feb. 14.

Newell Crash Hurts Pastor

The Rev. Willis Summers of 517 Grant St., Newell, was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night for contusions of the left chest following an auto accident on West Virginia Route 66 in Newell, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

Rev. Summers was making a left turn in the southbound lane at the 8th St. intersection when his car was struck by a vehicle driven by James Reese, 22, of Box 105, New Cumberland, traveling in the same direction, the report said.

Combined damage to the autos was estimated at $500 by sheriff's deputies. The accident was timed shortly before 7:30. No charges were filed.

Rev. Summers is minister of the Newell First Methodist Church.

Reports Given At Meeting Of Legion Group

Forty - seven attended a meeting of American Legion Post 374 Monday at the post home, with various reports heard. John Long, commander, presided.

James Cregar reported on the 10th district winter conference held Sunday at New Philadelphia.

James Wallover reported Floyd Tweed, Earl Stanley and Louis Provost as hospital patients and that Harry Holt remains a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Oakland.

The bowling team representing the post at the 10th District Bowling tournament at New Philadelphia Saturday night finished first with a total of 3,104 pins, Cregar reported.

The membership voted to send Comdr. Long and Bob Milne, adjutant, to the mid - winter conference Jan. 30 at Columbus.

The Army Reserve Unit was granted permission to use the post ballroom for a dinner Jan. 28.

Program Given For Nike Group

Twenty - four members of the NIKE Club of East Liverpool High School met Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. G. McKinnon, chairman of the sponsoring Business and Professional Women's Club's Advisory Committee.

Miss Cindy Croyle, personal development chairman of NIKE, was in charge of the program and presented Miss Darlene Taylor and Mrs. Robert Blatchford in a skit which highlighted the "do's and don't's" of make-up, costume and attitude.

Miss Taylor and Mrs. Blatchford, who are both members of the Personal Development Committee of the BPW, also distributed literature on diet and posture to the NIKE group.

Miss Linda Owens, NIKE vice president, presided during the business session, when it was announced that new members will be admitted following the close of the current school semester and that Senior high school girls interested in making application may obtain forms from any NIKE member.

During the business session, a letter was read from Mrs. George McCullough, chairman of the BPW Club's Child Health Clinic Board, thanking the NIKE members for their assistance in conducting the PBW's annual Christmas party for clinic patients.

Dear Friends,

One thing a family should not expect the funeral director to do is to suggest the cost of the funeral to be selected. His advice may be invited, but the decision rests with the family. The financial aspects must of necessity be candidly discussed, to avoid hardship and to have complete understanding by all concerned.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

10 Indictments Are Returned By Jury In Hancock

NEW CUMBERLAND — Ten indictments, four on felonies and six on misdemeanors, were returned by the January term of the Hancock County grand jury Tuesday at the Courthouse here.

Indicted on felonies were: Kenneth A. Glendenning of Newell, for breaking and entering the home of Ruth Melvin of Pughtown on Nov. 27; Jerry F. Yanda of Weirton, for breaking and entering at the Weir Cigar & Candy Store and for auto theft Nov. 7; Michael J. Hays of Weirton, obtaining an auto under false pretenses and articles from the Marlinn Shoe Store in Weirton under false pretenses on May 15, and Gary L. Eakel, no address listed, an alleged accomplice of Yanda in the auto theft.

Yanda's indictment was separate from a previous indictment brought by the September term of the grand jury for breaking and entering at the Weir Cigar & Candy Store in February 1965.

Eakel's indictment was transferred to juvenile court due to the defendant's age.

Indicted on misdemeanors were: James E. Brown, Richard A. Baldinger, Arthur C. Jones and William P. Dunn, all of Pittsburgh for breaking and entering at Martin's TV & Appliance Store in Weirton on Sept. 26; Robert J. Kallay of Weirton, for involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of two Weirton teen - age girls in an auto accident on Aug. 18, 1965; Robert Ball of Weirton, for obtaining goods under false pretense at Anile's Pharmacy in Weirton.

Kallay's case was transferred to juvenile court.

Judge Ralph Pryor of Wellsburg presided.

Arraignments were set for Jan. 20 before Judge Pryor.

Latest Crisis Seen Easing

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The latest Dominican crisis eased today as six leading rebel officers left the country and Communist labor leaders called off a lagging strike.

The six rebels who left Tuesday were the first to obey President Hector Garcia-Godoy's order naming 30 military officers of both factions in the April rebellion to diplomatic and study posts abroad.

Col. Francis Caamano Deno, the former president of the rebel regime, and his armed forces minister, Col. Manuel Ramon Montes Arache, remained behind. They were expected to leave the country soon, possibly this week.

The Dominican army balked at accepting the president's order last week, but Commodore Francisco River Caminero, the military chief, has said the regulars will consider it as soon as the top rebels leave.

Communist unions, faced with the failure of a two-day "patriotic strike" to protest Garcia-Godoy's order told their followers Tuesday night to return to their jobs. The Communist labor chiefs said the strike had demonstrated the "peoples' support" of the cause.

The strike caused minor disruptions in the capital, but no major industries were affected. A few stores closed, fearing damage from agitators.

Two civilian demonstrators were killed during the work stoppage. One was shot by a U.S. paratrooper of the Inter-American Peace Force. Another died Tuesday when an army and police patrol fired into a group of demonstrators throwing rocks in a suburb.

The departing rebel officers were received by Garcia-Godoy at his residence as he was celebrating his 45th birthday. The group was taken to the International Airport by U.S. Army helicopters and put aboard a jetliner for Puerto Rico.

An official source said the officers — five colonels and lieutenant — were going to Rome, Guatemala, El Salvador, France, Mexico and Uruguay.

Legislators Will Pay Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most Ohio legislators apparently will pay income taxes to Columbus without a fight, under a court ruling that they owe the tax.

About 55 legislators have paid nearly $1,800 in city income taxes so far, D. S. Swisher, head of Columbus' Income Tax Division, said today, and payments are trickling in three or four per day.

Only one man has told the city "we'd have to sue him," said City Auditor John Price. About 270 legislators or former legislators were told they owed the city income tax.

Price and Swisher expect most of these to pay without a fight. But they and City Atty. John Young agree that under a court order the city will have to file suit to collect from any reluctant legislators — even if the costs of going to court to collect might exceed the amount owed.

The Ohio Supreme Court last year held that the lawmakers owed Columbus the 1 per cent tax on their legislative salaries. The 1965 legislature immediate passed a law to exempt lawmakers' salaries from the tax.

That law didn't take effect until November and legislators serving in the last session owe $4,034 for 1965, Swisher said. More than $8,000 is owed by lawmakers who served in the legislature between 1959, the last year for which the tax can be collected under the statute of limitations, and 1965.

A person in the legislature continuously for that period would owe about $80.

The city attorney interprets the court order directing Columbus to collect the tax from lawmakers as requiring the city to go to court if necessary to force payment.

Columbus had never tried to collect the tax from legislators, except those who lived in the city, until a taxpayer, Edwin Miller, filed suit to force such collections.

The city's thinking was that legislators would be able to deduct living expenses, which would amount to more than the tax, Young said, and "I think to this day we were right."

Courts didn't agree, though.

There is some question now about the constitutionality of the 1965 law exempting legislators from the city income tax, Young said, but he has no plans to file suit testing its constitutionality.

Report Cites Pitt As Likely Spot For State University

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A special New York consultant's report pointed to the University of Pittsburgh today as the likely location for a western state university.

At the same time, the report recommended that Pennsylvania State University limit its freshman and sophomore enrollment and place a heavier emphasis on "graduate and professional work."

The report by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc., was presented to the state Board of Education for use in preparing an over-all master plan for higher education in the commonwealth.

With regard to Pitt, the academy said:

"The need for public higher education facilities in western Pennsylvania, particularly in Pittsburgh, cannot be ignored by the University of Pittsburgh as it develops its financing plan for the future."

The academy said there is a need to serve some 25,000 to 30,000 students in western Pennsylvania with a "low tuition university level educational program."

Turning to Penn State the academy called the university the "keystone of public higher education" in the commonwealth and urged the state to "build upon its tremendous investment" in the school.

The academy said, however, the university should concern itself more with accepting transfer students from community college and off campus branches.

4 Children Perish, Mother Hurt In Fire

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Four children died early today in a fire at their home in Richville allotment three miles southeast of Massillon.

The children's mother, Mrs. Cecil McCune, 29, was reported in fair condition at Massillon City Hospital with burns and lacerations.

Dead were Vickie Lynn, 9; Gary Lee, 5, Gregory, 3, and Michael McCune, 5 months.

Business Boycott Looms After Fire Bomb Death

By The Associated Press

The fire bomb that ended the life of a Negro civil rights leader in Hattiesburg, Miss., touched off a blazing argument at his memorial service over a possible retaliatory boycott of white merchants.

Negroes in a crowd of 250 to 300 hoed and shouted their resentment Tuesday after a local official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, J.C. Fairley, told them his group "does not anticipate a boycott at this moment."

As the rally boiled up, Charles Evers of Jackson, state NAACP field director, restored order by calling on the crowd to show respect for the 58-year-old victim, Vernon Dahmer.

"If you don't have any more respect for his death than this," he said, "then this man has died in vain already."

City and county leaders launched a fund drive to aid the family of Dahmer, who was fatally burned Monday when his home and store were set ablaze. Mississippi officials pledged an all-out effort to apprehend those responsible.

Dahmer's wife and daughter were burned by flames created by fire bombs. Mrs. Dahmer was not hospitalized, but Betty Dahmer, 10, was hospitalized in fair condition.

In Birmingham, Ala., the Jefferson County courthouse remained the target of civil rights protests today after demonstrations Tuesday aimed at longer hours for open voter registration offices.

About 300 sign-carrying, singing Negroes created traffic snarls Tuesday night as they marched to the courthouse through downtown Birmingham.

Earlier, about 300 Negro high school pupils went on a 90-minute rock-throwing binge when school officials barred them from joining one of the marches.

In Washington, the House Committee on Un-American Activities continued its probe of the Ku Klux Klan.

John H. Gipson, a disillusioned Klansman, became the first KKK member to testify on acts of violence attributed to the secret organization.

Gipson told the committee he turned informer and now felt "my life is not worth two cents."

Gipson, 29, a Slidell, La., logger and lumber mill worker, described the whipping of a white youth and a Klan plot to burn two Negro churches.

In Atlanta, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. waited legal action on the Georgia legislative seating problem of Rep.-elect Julian Bond, who was not sworn in office because of his endorsement of an anti-Viet Nam statement.

The statement came from the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which attacked the war in Viet Nam and called civil rights work a valid alternative to the draft.

King said demonstrations could erupt.

Bond, a Negro, was expected to file suit in federal court forcing his being seated in the General Assembly, which opened its session Monday.

Support Seen Growing For Casey Governor Bid

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)— Support appeared to be growing today for State Sen. Robert P. Casey of Scranton who is seeking the Democratic party's nomination for governor.

Casey's chances for the candidacy got a big boost Tuesday night when Mayor James H. J. Tate of Philadelphia said he will back the 34-year-old senator from Lackawanna County.

"Of those candidates who've announced their availability so far," said Tate, "I'm for Casey. He looks pretty good to me."

A number of local Democratic ward leaders also indicated their preference for Casey. One of them said he was certain that Democratic city committee chairman Francis R. Smith of Philadelphia also will support Casey.

Tate and ward leaders made their comments before and after the second of seven regional meetings of the Democratic State Committee. Some 175 party officials from Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Lancaster, Lehigh, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties attended the closed-door session to plan campaign strategy for the 1966 election.

On Monday night in Scranton Casey won the backing of 11 Northeastern Pennsylvania Democratic Party chairmen in his bid for the nomination.

Casey, in his freshman term as senator, zoomed into the limelight in the 1963 and 1964 sessions. He led the Democratic fight for stronger strip mine legislation and against the GOP legislative reapportionment plan.

Democratic State Chairmen John S. Rice was in charge. Others present were Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and candidates Philip Kalodner, Montgomery County attorney, Milton Shapp, Philadelphia industrialist, and James M. Quigley, assistant secretary of health, education and welfare.

Kalodner, Shapp and Quigley said they were there to seek support for their candidacy, although none has formally announced it.

Rice said the candidates would not be permitted to address the meeting. He said, however, they could attempt to further their candidacies with county officials before and after the session.

Rice said that before the seven regional meetings are over at the end of next week, "some consensus as to the strengths and weaknesses of the candidates should be known.

"Just as soon as it is practical after these meetings, we will call a meeting of the policy committee at which time the candidates will be selected."

Rice said that unlike the manner in which the Republican candidates were chosen, their Democratic counterparts will be selected "after everyone has been sounded out."

He repeated again that the Republican slate of candidates "was handpicked by the bosses."

Sen. Clark told the gathering that the Democrats can win the election only by putting forth positive and constructive programs.

"We can't win simply by saying how lousy the Republicans are," said Clark.

CATV Work's Progress Explained To Councilmen

LISBON — The progress on a project to provide community antenna television service for the community was explained to Council Tuesday night by William Webber of East Liverpool, manager of CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., which holds a franchise for the system.

"Things are progressing very well," Webber told Council, adding that the engineering work has been completed and the firm has received cooperation from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in making pole contacts to carry its lines.

"The details of the project are more time - consuming than the actual construction," Webber said. Although the firm cannot stipulate a definite date on which service might be available to subscribers, the construction probably will begin within 60 days, Webber said.

The concern also holds franchises for systems in East Liverpool and Wellsville.

In other business, Council approved a request from eighth-grade pupils at Lincoln School asking permission to deposit a "time capsule" in the Village Square that would not be opened until January 2006. Council also received a letter from Principal Charles Powell of Lincoln School thanking the body for its cooperation in the project.

In a caucus session prior to the open meeting, Council returned Clyde Pike as its president for a one-year term and reappointed Joseph J. Baronzzi as village solicitor for a two-year term.

Taking their seats were Fayson Miller, Wilbur Mattix and Franklin Rudibaugh, new Council members, and John Ebert, new clerk - treasurer.

Two items were turned over to committees for further study. One is a proposal to have parking taken off one side of Chestnut St. and the other is an offer of land for the extension of the cemetery.

Council also approved repairs to be made to a rescue truck belonging to the village. It was estimated the work would cost between $250 and $300.

Ministers, Elder Selected To Take Part In Meetings

Four local United Presbyterian ministers and an elder were elected commissioners to attend two meetings in February and May during the regular session of the Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday morning at the Bloomingdale United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Sheldon Hastings, minister of the Starkdale Church of Steubenville, assumed his duties as moderator, succeeding the Rev. Robert Neil of Minerva.

Elected to the Ohio Synod meeting in February were the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, co-pastor of the Trinity church, the Rev. Russell Mase, Emmanuel, the Rev. Frank Hare, Larger Parish (Beaver Valley), and E. S. Pittenger, an elder at Trinity.

Commissioners elected to attend the General Assembly meeting in Boston in May were the Rev. H. Gene Toot, co-pastor of the Trinity church, and the Rev. James McCollam, Oak Ridge church.

Two ministerial changes were approved by the Presbytery—pastoral relationship of the Rev. Thomas Clyde and the Calcutta church, effective May 31. He also was granted permission for one year to work with the Youth for Christ movement in France, beginning this summer.

The Presbytery approved a call of the Glenmoor church for James Hobson, former student pastor of the Irondale church, who will be coming to the local church after being ordained a minister by the Huron Presbytery in Michigan. He is expected to assume his duties some time in February.

The next meeting will be March 8 at the Amsterdam church, of which the Rev. Philip Gillis is pastor.

Officers Are Installed By Chester Kiwanians

Albert Kell was installed as president of the Chester Kiwanis Club along with other newly-elected officers during a dinner meeting and "Ladies' Night" Tuesday in the First Christian Church.

Dr. R. R. Weimer of Bethany, first lieutenant governor of Division I of Kiwanis Clubs, conducted the installation ceremony.

The meeting was opened by R. O. Stevens, retiring president, who presented the gavel to Kell.

Group singing of "America" was accompanied by Mrs. Harry Shaw. The pledge to the flag was repeated. Invocation was given by the Rev. C. Donald Vogel.

Dinner was served to 45 by the United Workers Class of the church.

The following guests were introduced: Dr. Weimer; the Rev. Donald Bell, pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church; Walter Bortz of Bethany; Harry West, sponsor of the Oak Glen Key Club, and Mrs. West, and Bill McKnight of Chester and Ivan Howell of Newell, Oak Glen Key Club members.

West presented Kell with a "traveling visitation key" denoting an exchange of visits between the Kiwanis Club and Key Club.

Dr. Weimer spoke on "Kiwanis Objectives". William Harper screened color slides of Kiwanis members' families, homes and places of business.

Three members were named to Division I committees: Stevens, boys and girls work; Thayer Allison, vocational guidance, and Rev. Vogel, program and music.

The next meeting will be Tuesday.

Pennsylvania Charts New Higher Education Course

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A $100,000 consultant's report charting a new course for higher education in Pennsylvania, to be traveled in a spirit of cooperation, was unveiled today by the State Board of Education.

The report, prepared by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc., of New York, officially was titled "Elements of a Master Plan for Higher Education for Pennsylvania."

However, it is expected to form the base the official master plan to be drafted the boards council of higher education for presentation, with the full board approval, to Gov. Scranton and the general assembly.

The master plan itself is expected to be ready for formal submittal by six months.

A five-man panel of consultants wrote in the 220-page document:

"The broadening role which higher education has been assigned in our society suggests that a stated public policy in respect to higher education is definitely needed in Pennsylvania."

For a "clear, comprehensive and coordinated public policy to be truly effective, the consultants said, it first must be agreed upon by the parties concerned.

This would include:

—The establishment of a "clear line of relationship between the commonwealth and various types of institutions of higher education in the state."

—The development of a clearly defined "rationale" in providing state aid to colleges and universities and the students themselves.

The academy forecast a 255,000 increase in student enrollment at all types of state institutions of higher learning by 1975, almost double the 295,000 present enrollment figure.

For this reason, the consultants concluded:

"Pennsylvania can no longer afford the burden of a largely uncoordinated, unplanned development of higher education."

The five panel members looked to a new trend to ease the burden posed by the projected enrollment surge — "encouraging large numbers of students to spend their first two college years in their home communities" attending community colleges or branch centers.

Without this prospect, they wrote, such universities as Penn State and Temple "would grow so large within a few years—say to 75,000 students each—as to become virtual cities within cities."

For GOP Governor Nomination

Pennsylvania's Executive Committee Backs Shafer

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Republican leadership in Pennsylvania presented a united front today as it prepared for the months of campaigning that lie ahead for its 1966 statewide ticket.

The party's state executive committee Tuesday gave its unanimous endorsement to the slate headed by Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer for governor.

Unanimity was assured when U.S. Rep. Richard S. Schweiker of Montgomery County told the 30-member committee that he was withdrawing from contention for the gubernatorial nomination.

Slated by the committee to run with Shafer were:

Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni for lieutenant governor.

John K. Tabor, secretary of commerce, for secretary of internal affairs.

Judge Theodore O. Spaulding of Philadelphia for a vacancy on the Superior Court.

Judge G. Harold Watkins for re-election to the same court.

The executive committee's recommendations will be placed before the full 113-member state committee in the near future, according to Republican State Chairman Craig Truax.

Gov. Scranton called the slate a "dream ticket."

"They are without doubt one of the finest teams that has ever been presented by any party to the voters," he said. "They do comprise, indeed, a 'dream ticket.'"

As the meeting was breaking up, Scranton left hurriedly to board a plane for New Haven, Conn., where his 18-year-old son, Bill, had suffered a back injury in a fall earlier in the day.

Shafer thanked the executive committee "for the confidence they have expressed in their recommendation of me to be the republican gubernatorial candidate."

Alessandroni, Tabor, Schweiker and Secretary of Welfare Arlin M. Adams, had been considered contenders for the gubernatorial nomination.

Schweiker said at a news conference after the meeting that he naturally was disappointed but added in "politics you take these things in stride." He then announced he would seek re-election to a fourth term in Congress.

Alessandroni said, "This is the spot in which I could best serve the party and I am happy to do so."

Tabor declined comment on his own gubernatorial ambitions and said he would try his best to recapture the Democratic-held department of internal affairs for the Republican Party.

The entire ticket will go on the May 17 primary ballot for approval by Republican voters.

Despite the unanimity of top Republicans, Shafer may have some opposition on the ballot.

Former Superior Court Judge Blair F. Gunther said in Pittsburgh he is still considering placing his own name on the ballot.

Computers Tax Efforts For 'Beating The Rap'

Anyone hoping to "beat the rap" got discouraging news when Richard R. Crable, business service accountant, addressed the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

He discussed "Income Tax Preparation by the Computer System."

The program of automatic data processing (ADP) instituted by the federal government last January, mainly in the southeastern states, will be extended this year through the Midwest and parts of the West, he pointed out.

"FIGURES ON the tax return will be placed on punch cards and then transferred to a magnetic tape. These tapes will be sent to the computer center. The information that you file not only will be recorded, but your return will be cross - checked with information that has been supplied about you from other sources," the accountant stated.

"Under the old manual system, the government could check only a small proportion of the returns due to its limited manpower, but the computer has no limits. It will make thousands of calculations a second and every return can be examined for errors in unreported income. The machine also can ferret out people who fail to file a return or those who file duplicate returns," Crable continued.

However, the machines have limitations, he went on to explain. "The ADP system will not complete your return, nor will any refunds be made unless all the correct information is supplied to all questions. And even the computer system can make mistakes."

CRABLE introduced a guest, Ron Wilson of the First National Bank.

Two guests from Youngstown were introduced by Charles Lang — Tony Radich, executive director of the Eastern Ohio Heart Association, and Ken Taafe, association member and part-time student.

Burton Kerr was welcomed back following his illness.

E. R. Chandler presided.

Various Reports Are Given At Meeting Of Quota Club

Several international reports were heard during the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Ila Shingler, corresponding secretary, read communications concerning the public relations committee, the community service group and the annual essay contest.

Mrs. Marie Hays, president, announced there are more small fruit cakes to be sold and pointed out annual dues are payable.

The work of the Youngstown Hearing and Speech Clinic and the Columbiana County Cancer Detection Clinic was reviewed.

A letter was read from Mrs. Kathryn Mericle, retiring governor of the 6th District, concerning her term of office.

Tentative plans were made to entertain the present governor, Mrs. Madge Ritzinger, whose official visit is scheduled at a dinner session Feb. 22 at the hotel. The committee in charge of arrangements will be Mrs. Wilma Mason, chairman, Mrs. Mildred Dawson, Miss Judy Kozar, Mrs. Dorothy Manypenns and Mrs. Veda Rochette.

Members were reminded to turn in "talent money" and proceeds from pecans and fruit cakes to Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, chairman of the ways and means committee.

Miss Ethelyn Exley, secretary, read the minutes and the financial report in the absence of the treasurer, Miss Gladys DeHoff.

The next session will be Jan. 25 when Mrs. Ethel Webb will entertain at Mary Patterson Memorial. Mrs. Marguerite Sayre, program chairman, will present Don Eckert, who will discuss the City Planning Commission.

Ex-Local Resident Honored At Bethany

Theodore V. Boyd, a former East Liverpool resident, is one of the six students at Bethany College elected to Kalon, an honor society, Robert A. Sandercox, dean of students, has announced.

Boyd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boyd of 2320 Woodlawn Rd., Portsmouth, Ohio.

Kalon recognizes students who have demonstrated competent and unselfish leadership in student activities, have been constructive citizens in the college community and have maintained high standards of personal character.

CATV Work's Progress Explained To Councilmen

LISBON — The progress on a project to provide community antenna television service for the community was explained to Council Tuesday night by William Webber of East Liverpool, manager of CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., which holds a franchise for the system.

"Things are progressing very well," Webber told Council, adding that the engineering work has been completed and the firm has received cooperation from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in making pole contacts to carry its lines.

"The details of the project are more time - consuming than the actual construction," Webber said. Although the firm cannot stipulate a definite date on which service might be available to subscribers, the construction probably will begin within 60 days, Webber said.

The concern also holds franchises for systems in East Liverpool and Wellsville.

In other business, Council approved a request from eighth-grade pupils at Lincoln School asking permission to deposit a "time capsule" in the Village Square that would not be opened until January 2996. Council also received a letter from Principal Charles Powell of Lincoln School thanking the body for its cooperation in the project.

In a caucus session prior to the open meeting, Council returned Clyde Pike as its president for a one-year term and reappointed Joseph J. Baronzi as village solicitor for a two-year term.

Taking their seats were Fayon Miller, Wilbur Mattix and Franklin Rudibaugh, new Council members, and John Ebert, new clerk - treasurer.

Two items were turned over to committees for further study. One is a proposal to have parking taken off one side of Chestnut St. and the other is an offer of land for the extension of the cemetery.

Council also approved repairs to be made to a rescue truck belonging to the village. It was estimated the work would cost between $250 and $300.

Ministers, Elder Selected To Take Part In Meetings

Four local United Presbyterian ministers and an elder were elected commissioners to attend two meetings in February and May during the regular session of the Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday morning at the Bloomingdale United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Sheldon Hastings, minister of the Starkdale Church of Steubenville, assumed his duties as moderator, succeeding the Rev. Robert Neil of Minerva.

Elected to the Ohio Synod meeting in February were the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, co-pastor of the Trinity church, the Rev. Russell Mase, Emmanuel, the Rev. Frank Hare, Larger Parish (Beaver Valley), and E. S. Pittenger, an elder at Trinity.

Commissioners elected to attend the General Assembly meeting at Boston in May were the Rev. H. Gene Toot, co-pastor of the Trinity church, and the Rev. James McCollam, Oak Ridge church.

Two ministerial changes were approved by the Presbytery: pastoral relationship of the Rev. Thomas Clyde and the Calcutta church, effective May 31. He also was granted permission for one year to work with the Youth for Christ movement in France, beginning this summer.

The Presbytery approved a call of the Glenmoor church for James Hobson, former student pastor of the Irondale church, who will be coming to the local church after being ordained a minister by the Huron Presbytery in Michigan. He is expected to assume his duties some time in February.

The next meeting will be March 8 at the Amsterdam church, of which the Rev. Phillip Gillis is pastor.

Officers Are Installed By Chester Kiwanians

Albert Kell was installed as president of the Chester Kiwanis Club along with other newly-elected officers during a dinner meeting and "Ladies' Night" Tuesday in the First Christian Church.

Dr. B. R. Weimer of Bethany, first lieutenant governor of Division I of Kiwanis Clubs, conducted the installation ceremony.

The meeting was opened by R. O. Stevens, retiring president, who presented the gavel to Kell.

Group singing of "America" was accompanied by Mrs. Harry Shaw. The pledge to the flag was repeated. Invocation was given by the Rev. C. Donald Vogel.

Dinner was served to 45 by the United Workers Class of the church.

The following guests were introduced: Dr. Weimer; the Rev. Donald Bell, pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church; Walter Bortz of Bethany; Harry West, sponsor of the Oak Glen Key Club, and Mrs. West, and Bill McKnight of Chester and Ivan Howell of Newell, Oak Glen Key Club members.

West presented Kell with a "traveling visitation key" denoting an exchange of visits between the Kiwanis Club and Key Club.

Dr. Weimer spoke on "Kiwanis Objectives". William Harper screened color slides of Kiwanis members' families, homes and places of business.

Three members were named to Division I committees: Stevens, boys and girls work; Thayer Allison, vocational guidance, and Rev. Vogel, program and music.

The next meeting will be Tuesday.

Pennsylvania Charts New Higher Education Course

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A $100,000 consultant's report charting a new course for higher education in Pennsylvania, to be traveled in a spirit of cooperation, was unveiled today by the State Board of Education.

The report prepared by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc., of New York, officially was titled "Elements of a Master Plan for Higher Education for Pennsylvania."

However, it is expected to form the base the official master plan to be drafted the boards council of higher education for presentation, with the full board approval, to Gov. Scranton and the general assembly.

"The master plan itself is expected to be ready for formal submittal by six months.

A five-man panel of consultants wrote in the 220-page document:

"The broadening role which higher education has been assigned in our society suggests that a stated public policy in respect to higher education is definitely needed in Pennsylvania."

For a "clear, comprehensive and coordinated public policy to be truly effective, the consultants said, it first must be agreed upon by the parties concerned.

This would include:

—The establishment of a "clear line of relationship between the commonwealth and various types of institutions of higher education in the state."

—The development of a clearly defined "rationale" in providing state aid to colleges and universities and the students themselves.

The academy forecast a 255,000 increase in student enrollment at all types of state institutions of higher learning by 1975, almost double the 295,000 present enrollment figure.

For this reason, the consultants concluded:

"Pennsylvania can no longer afford the burden of a largely uncoordinated, unplanned development of higher education."

The five panel members looked to a new trend to ease the burden posed by the projected enrollment surge — "encouraging large numbers of students to spend their first two college years in their home communities" attending community colleges or branch centers.

Without this prospect, they wrote, such universities as Penn State and Temple "would grow so large within a few years — say to 75,000 students each — as to become virtual cities within cities."

2 Promotions Announced By Crucible At Midland

Adam J. Hodnick of Midland and Edward T. Madjaric of Industry R. D. 1, have been promoted at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Hodnick, who has been a substitute turn foreman in the Cold Strip Department last five years, has been promoted to turn foreman of the Annealing and Pickling Lines in that department.

He joined the Midland Works in 1941 as a kickoff operator at the Blooming Mill. After five years in the Marine Corps, he rejoined the plant in 1947 as a laborer briefly in the Cold Strip. From 1948 to 1960, he was employed in various jobs on the anealing and pickling lines and became sub - foreman in 1960.

He is a native of Rochester, Pa., and a graduate of Rochester High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodnick and their two daughters, Paula and Donna, reside at 426 Midland Ave., Midland.

Madjaric has been promoted to supervisor-metallurgical control for the Electric Furnace Department. A Metallurgist II in the Claims Department since 1964, he joined the Midland Works in 1963 as a metallurgical trainee.

Mr. and Mrs. Madjaric reside at 105 Forrest - Dale Dr., Industry R. D. 1.

Seize 3 In Raids

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Allegheny County detectives seized three men on lottery charges Tuesday in raids in Braddock and McKeesport. One place, a newsstand in Braddock, was hit for the second time in a week.

Ohio Surgeon, Wife, Daughter Hurt In Wreck

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. George Crile Jr., a Cleveland surgeon, and his wife Helga, daughter of poet Carl Sandburg, were injured early today in a Washington auto accident.

They were taken to Washington Hospital Center where Crile, 58, underwent surgery. His wife, 48, was in undetermined condition.

Police said they were passengers in a taxi which collided with another vehicle.

Crile is head of the Department of General Surgery at Cleveland Clinic, and author of several medical books.

His wife wrote "Wheel of Earth" and "Sweet Music."

Postal Examination Dates Set This Month

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said he has been advised that the examination for a substitute clerk-carrier will be given Jan. 17, 18, 19 and 20 at Steubenville.

Applicants must have a card which they will receive from the Civil Service Board at Cleveland to admit them to the examination room on the day for which the card calls.

Those who cannot make the date set for them should get in touch with the postmaster at Steubenville, who will endeavor to arrange another date, Brown said. He emphasized such action should be taken at once.

West Virginia Education Given Priority By Smith

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. Hulett C. Smith told the opening meeting of the 1966 West Virginia Legislature today that "education is still the priority problem for this administration and for this state."

He also labeled health and housing as "critical fields" among the state's problems. He announced plans to appoint special "governor's task forces" this week on health and housing.

Smith addressed a Senate - House joint meeting after the two chambers, in separate sessions which began at noon, completed the formalities of opening their 30-day stand.

On the basis of its record last year, Smith called the 57th Legislature "one of the most liberal and humane" in the history of the state. But he indicated he thinks there is still much it should do.

He noted the budget recommended to the lawmakers by the Board of Public Works — a budget which he stressed "can be met without new taxes" — contains more than $132 million for education.

As to steps this session in education, Smith called for "legislation which would establish preschool summer programs for the children of this state, to be operated in connection with Project Head Start." He said such a program "would be the important first step toward the eventual establishment of a public kindergarten system in the state."

Smith said he also was asking approval of "measures to improve working conditions for public school personnel, for bettering sick leave and retirement laws, and to improve supplemental retirement plans for university and college personnel."

The governor noted that a year ago, when he unsuccessfully backed a bill to create a state housing authority, he pointed out "that we live in a region where fewer than half the homes meet all standards of adequacy, and where one home out of seven is so run down that it actually endangers the health and safety of its occupants.

"This situation has not improved, but the methods for meeting the problem have. The Federal Housing Act of 1965 is one of the best programs conceived to deal with the basic human problem of decent shelter. . .

"I hope to provide you with a well-reasoned plan for implementing a greater program for housing development. This program would assist the needy tenant, the home-owner of limited means, the elderly citizen, the builder and the mortgage banker alike."

The speech contained no major surprises. Smith discussed numerous legislative proposals which already were known from his proclamation setting the agenda for the session.

Among these were some bills which failed in the 1965 session, like legislation to authorize establishment of state - aided "family planning and child spacing" clinics and a proposed state minimum wage law.

In addition to the "family planning and child spacing" clinics measure, other bills introduced with the interim committee's support would:

— Set up procedure under which the state general school fund could capture unclaimed personal property such as bank deposits after specified periods of abandonment. At least 18 other states have similar abandoned property laws.

— Make state law provide that the act of driving a motor vehicle implies consent to undergo a blood o. breath test for alcohol in case of arrest for drunken driving. This is another bill that failed to pass last year.

— Permit convicted and sentenced prisoners who claim their constitutional rights were violated to obtain review of their cases in the courts which convicted them. The bill aims at reducing the heavy load of prisoners' habeas corpus petitions to federal district courts and the State Supreme Court.

Finance Chairman Ivor F. Boiarsky and Del. J. F. Bedell, both D-Kanawha, sponsored the family planning bill in the House.

It would create a family planning and child spacing section in the maternal and child health division of the State Health Department.

The section would have authority to "provide printed material, guidance, advice, financial assistance, appliances, devices, drugs, approved methods, and medicines to local boards of health requesting the same for use in the operation of family planning and child spacing clinics."

Supervision of each clinic by a licensed physician would be required.

Employes of health, mental health and welfare agencies who work with indigent families would be required to advise them of the availability of the clinic services.

But the proposed law would forbid these employes to compel anyone to "accept or practice family planning" as a condition of receiving any other government service or benefit.

Local Delegation Will Attend BPW Board's Meeting

The local Business and Professional Women's Club will be represented at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Jan. 22-23 at the Neil House in Columbus.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, second vice president of the Ohio BPW federation, will participate in the board meetings and Miss Joan Witt, president of the local club, will attend as an observer. Additional reservations are expected at tonight's regular meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Ohio's lieutenant governor, John W. Brown, will be the featured speaker at the Board of Directors meeting in Columbus.

He will discuss "Women's Part In Ohio's Economic Development" at the Saturday luncheon.

Mrs. Jeanne Squire, president of the Ohio BPW federation, has announced that the policy of a closed Board of Directors meeting has been changed to permit the attendance of any Ohio BPW member as an observer at business sessions and to attend the featured luncheon.

Program Set Up For Ex-Navy Men

The Navy recruiting service has announced a new program available to men who were discharged in pay grades E-3, E-4 or E-5.

Termed the "Rescore" program, its purpose is to enable ex-Navy men to retain the rate they held at time of discharge.

"Rescore" is a retraining program whereby an ex-sailor in a non-critical rate may reenlist in his former rating for training in one of the Navy's critical career fields.

A four - year re-enlistment guarantees the applicant a class "A" school. A six - year enlistment guarantees the ex-sailor both a class "A" and "B" school, thereby changing his rate to one in a critical field.

Further information may be obtained from the Navy recruiter at City Hall or by phoning 386-4502.

County Treasurer, 56, Dies In Pennsylvania

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (AP)— Teresa T. Burns, in her third year of a four-year term as Fayette County treasurer, is dead at 56.

Miss Burns died in a hospital Tuesday. She had been hospitalized since Saturday with a respiratory ailment.

Two sisters survive.

Clears Record Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court cleared a record 357 merit cases from its review docket in 1965, Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft reports. The previous high for final disposition of such cases was 275 in 1964.

Middletown Set For New Police Training Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The head of the Ohio Peace Officer Training Council says Middletown will be the first Ohio city to begin a new police training session under a new state law.

Col. Anson B. Cook said Tuesday that Middletown's next training class would begin Jan. 25. Cook retired recently as Highway Patrol superintendent to head the new council.

He said Middletown is one of six cities with training programs already approved by the council under a new law requiring minimum instruction for all policemen, deputy sheriffs and similar law enforcement officers.

Cook indicated that three more schools would be notified within 30 days that they have met the council's minimum requirements but he declined to name them.

Other cities with programs already in excess of minimum requirements are Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton and Toledo.

Two Liquor Permits Suspended In Beaver

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board announced Tuesday the suspension of the following licenses, effective Jan. 27, for the reasons it cited:

Beaver — Peter DeCarlo, 7th Ave. Bar., Beaver Falls, 40 days; sales after hours; permitted gambling (restaurant liquor license.)

Morgan E. and Mildred T. Sterling, Orbit Inn, Ambridge, 15 days; violation of bar maid act. (restaurant liquor license.)

Distribution Of Food Scheduled At Midland

Surplus food will be distributed Monday at the United Steelworkers Building in Midland from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The distribution will be for those registered in Midland, Industry, Smiths Ferry and Ohio Township.

Each recipient must have an identification card in order to receive the food. Each also must bring a container, Benedict Zupi, surplus food administrator, said.

Deaths and Funerals

Jesse T. Densmore

Jesse T. Densmore, 56, of the Y. & O. Rd., a former lockman at the Montgomery Dam, died this morning at 4:10 at City Hospital after an illness of two years.

A World War II veteran, he was born in East Liverpool and lived here his lifetime. He retired May 11, 1965. He was a member of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church, the Glenmoor Volunteer Fire Department for about 12 years and American Legion Post 374.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen Lafferre Densmore, at home; a son, Russell A. Densmore of East Liverpool; four brothers, Donald D. Densmore and Lloyd J. Densmore, both of East Liverppol, and Carl W. Densmore and Russell L. Densmore, both of Sandusky; two sisters, Mrs. Wilbur (Emma) Hamilton of Salem and Mrs. Brady (Betty) Thompson of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Martin Funeral Home by Dr. A. K. Davison of the First United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday night.

All activities of the department have been canceled for the balance of the week because of Mr. Densmore's death, Chief Kenneth Mills said today. He requested all firemen to meet at the station at 7 p. m. Thursday to go in a group to pay final respects.

Mrs. Leopold Guyaux

Services for Mrs. Amy M. Todd Guyaux, 80, of Ottawa, Ill., a former resident of this area, were held Saturday at the First Methodist Church there by the Rev. Carl Hearn. Burial was in Oakwood Memorial Park at Ottawa.

Mrs. Guyaux died Thursday at her home after a long illness.

Clinton Man's Trial Planned

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Thursday morning for Robert W. Everly, 62, of Clinton, arrested Tuesday at 11:15 p. m. on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Everly's appearance bond was set at $500. Patrolman Paul C. Blevins reported he cited the defendant on the Diamond after noting that he was driving the wrong direction on the one-way section of E. 6th St.

At the request of the two parties, Judge Chertoff today dismissed charges of reckless driving which Wellsville and East Liverpool drivers filed against each other as a result of a traffic mishap Dec. 21 in the wide intersection of Broadway, St. Clair Ave. and Lincoln Ave.

The crash involved the autos of Robert E. Powell of 636½ Henry Ave., Wellsville, and John E. Scritchfield of 843 Pennsylvania Ave. Each had charged the other with reckless driving. The cases were due to be heard today following several continuances.

John Thomas Hubbard of 808 Washington Ave., Wellsville, was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic light at Broadway and E. 5th St. He was cited Tuesday at 9:20 p. m.

Despite Poking At Fringe In Viet

No U.S. Troops Expected To Be Moved Into Delta

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. combat forces have been poking at the northern fringe of the Mekong River delta, sloshing waist-deep through muddy expanses west of Saigon in search of the Viet Cong.

American paratroopers this month launched an operation that carried to the Plain of Reeds, the sometimes swamp, sometimes dust bowl, that pushes into Cambodia. It was wet and they got a taste of what it would be like to be fighting in the delta proper.

Despite this sampling, there is no indication of plans to move U.S. ground units into the delta itself at this time.

The delta is part of South Viet Nam's 4th Corps, the only part of the country where U.S. fighting forces are not based. Vietnamese troops, and their American advisers, wage war there against the Viet Cong.

U.S. officials repeatedly have said that the decision not to station American troops in the delta is based entirely on the military situation. They say politics has not entered into it, and that if there is a need for U.S. forces in the delta, they will be sent.

Even so, some informed speculation has persisted that it was considered politically wise to leave one of the four corps areas to the Vietnamese themselves. The Vietnamese often can be sensitive about their role in the war, and most American officials are eager to emphasize that this is a Vietnamese war with Vietnamese soldiers still doing the larger part of the fighting and dying.

By whatever reasoning, the delta still is the place where the war goes on much as it has for years.

There have been innovations brought by the wider use of helicopters that quickly lift troops in and out of prospective battle areas; heavy artillery and Navy gunfire support, and air pwer that has included attacks by B52s.

These have not, however, brought sudden or dramatic changes.

The delta, about 26,000 square miles of flat land criss-crossed by myriad rivers, streams and canals, once was almost entirely Viet Cong country. Some of the bloodiest fighting of the war has taken place there, and government forces have suffered costly defeats along the waterways and in the mangrove swamps south of Saigon.

Over the past year there were some changes. The pendulum marking the intensity of the fighting swung North to the 1st and 2nd Corps areas, where bigger battles took place and where U.S. troops were committed.

There was a feeling, challenged in some quarters, that things were improved somehwat in the delta. Rumors that elite Viet Cong units had been moved out to fight in the central highlands or other areas in the North were not confirmed. The Viet Cong in the delta may have been biding their time. At almost regular intervals, they demonstrated they could strike quickly and savagely at government units and they still held the redoubts they had always held.

Some qualified U.S. officials believe government forces are at least holding their own, and perhaps have made a little progress in spots. This is one of the practical and psychological reasons it seems unlikely that American troops will move into the delta soon.

Should the situation deteriorate suddenly, there probably would be no hesitance to rush in Americans. The importance of the delta could not be ignored.

Though much of it is swampland or watery forest, it is the rice bowl of the Mekong. More than a third of South Viet Nam's 15 million people live there in only one-quarter of the country's land space.

The Viet Cong are believed to have about 45,000 men operating in the delta, about 7,000 of them hard-core troops well-armed and well-trained.

The Saigon regime maintains three divisions there. Some of the bloodiest clashes have involved Vietnamese ranger battalions, moved in by helicopters.

The delta is vastly different from other parts of South Viet Nam, but the war there is much the same as the war over the rest of the countryside — a standoff without the prospect of decisive military victory.

Seize 3 In Raids

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Allegheny County detectives seized three men on lottery charges Tuesday in raids in Braddock and McKeesport. One place, a newsstand in Braddock, was hit for the second time in a week.

Ohio Surgeon, Wife, Daughter Hurt In Wreck

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. George Crile Jr., a Cleveland surgeon, and his wife Helga, daughter of poet Carl Sandburg, were injured early today in a Washington auto accident.

They were taken to Washington Hospital Center where Crile, 58, underwent surgery. His wife, 48, was in undetermined condition.

Police said they were passengers in a taxi which collided with another vehicle.

Crile is head of the Department of General Surgery at Cleveland Clinic, and author of several medical books.

His wife wrote "Wheel of Earth" and "Sweet Music."

Postal Examination Dates Set This Month

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said he has been advised that the examination for a substitute clerk-carrier will be given Jan. 17, 18, 19 and 20 at Steubenville.

Applicants must have a card which they will receive from the Civil Service Board at Cleveland to admit them to the examination room on the day for which the card calls.

Those who cannot make the date set for them should get in touch with the postmaster at Steubenville, who will endeavor to arrange another date, Brown said. He emphasized such action should be taken at once.

West Virginia Education Given Priority By Smith

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. Hulett C. Smith told the opening meeting of the 1966 West Virginia Legislature today that "education is still the priority problem for this administration and for this state."

He also labeled health and housing as "critical fields" among the state's problems. He announced plans to appoint special "governor's task forces" this week on health and housing.

Smith addressed a Senate - House joint meeting after the two chambers, in separate sessions which began at noon, completed the formalities of opening their 30-day stand.

On the basis of its record last year, Smith called the 57th Legislature "one of the most liberal and humane" in the history of the state. But he indicated he thinks there is still much it should do.

He noted the budget recommended to the lawmakers by the Board of Public Works — a budget which he stressed "can be met without new taxes" — contains more than $132 million for education.

As to steps this session in education, Smith called for "legislation which would establish preschool summer programs for the children of this state, to be operated in connection with Project Head Start." He said such a program "would be the important first step toward the eventual establishment of a public kindergarten system in the state."

Smith said he also was asking approval of "measures to improve working conditions for public school personnel, for bettering sick leave and retirement laws, and to improve supplemental retirement plans for university and college personnel."

The governor noted that a year ago, when he unsuccessfully backed a bill to create a state housing authority, he pointed out "that we live in a region where fewer than half the homes meet all standards of adequacy, and where one home out of seven is so run down that it actually endangers the health and safety of its occupants.

"This situation has not improved, but the methods for meeting the problem have. The Federal Housing Act of 1965 is one of the best programs conceived to deal with the basic human problem of decent shelter. . .

"I hope to provide you with a well-reasoned plan for implementing a greater program for housing development. This program would assist the needy tenant, the home-owner of limited means, the elderly citizen, the builder and the mortgage banker alike."

The speech contained no major surprises. Smith discussed numerous legislative proposals which already were known from his proclamation setting the agenda for the session.

Among these were some bills which failed in the 1965 session, like legislation to authorize establishment of state - aided "family planning and child spacing" clinics and a proposed state minimum wage law.

In addition to the "family planning and child spacing" clinics measure, other bills introduced with the interim committee's support would:

— Set up procedure under which the state general school fund could capture unclaimed personal property such as bank deposits after specified periods of abandonment. At least 18 other states have similar abandoned property laws.

— Make state law provide that the act of driving a motor vehicle implies consent to undergo a blood or breath test for alcohol in case of arrest for drunken driving. This is another bill that failed to pass last year.

— Permit convicted and sentenced prisoners who claim their constitutional rights were violated to obtain review of their cases in the courts which convicted them. The bill aims at reducing the heavy load of prisoners' habeas corpus petitions to federal district courts and the State Supreme Court.

Finance Chairman Ivor F. Boiarsky and Del. J. F. Bedell, both D-Kanawha, sponsored the family planning bill in the House.

It would create a family planning and child spacing section in the maternal and child health division of the State Health Department.

The section would have authority to "provide printed material, guidance, advice, financial assistance, appliances, devices, drugs, approved methods, and medicines to local boards of health requesting the same for use in the operation of family planning and child spacing clinics."

Supervision of each clinic by a licensed physician would be required.

Employes of health, mental health and welfare agencies who work with indigent families would be required to advise them of the availability of the clinic services.

But the proposed law would forbid these employes to compel anyone to "accept or practice family planning" as a condition of receiving any other government service or benefit.

Local Delegation Will Attend BPW Board's Meeting

The local Business and Professional Women's Club will be represented at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Jan. 22-23 at the Neil House in Columbus.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, second vice president of the Ohio BPW federation, will participate in the board meetings and Miss Joan Witt, president of the local club, will attend as an observer. Additional reservations are expected at tonight's regular meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Ohio's lieutenant governor, John W. Brown, will be the featured speaker at the Board of Directors meeting in Columbus.

He will discuss "Women's Part In Ohio's Economic Development" at the Saturday luncheon.

Mrs. Jeanne Squire, president of the Ohio BPW federation, has announced that the policy of a closed Board of Directors meeting has been changed to permit the attendance of any Ohio BPW member as an observer at business sessions and to attend the featured luncheon.

Program Set Up For Ex-Navy Men

The Navy recruiting service has announced a new program available to men who were discharged in pay grades E-3, E-4 or E-5.

Termed the "Rescore" program, its purpose is to enable ex-Navy men to retain the rate they held at time of discharge.

"Rescore" is a retraining program whereby an ex-sailor in a non-critical rate may reenlist in his former rating for training in one of the Navy's critical career fields.

A four - year re-enlistment guarantees the applicant a class "A" school. A six - year enlistment guarantees the ex-sailor both a class "A" and "B" school, thereby changing his rate to one in a critical field.

Further information may be obtained from the Navy recruiter at City Hall or by phoning 386-4502.

Clears Record Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court cleared a record 357 merit cases from its review docket in 1965, Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft reports. The previous high for final disposition of such cases was 275 in 1964.

Middletown Set For New Police Training Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The head of the Ohio Peace Officer Training Council says Middletown will be the first Ohio city to begin a new police training session under a new state law.

Col. Anson B. Cook said Tuesday that Middletown's next training class would begin Jan. 25. Cook retired recently as Highway Patrol superintendent to head the new council.

He said Middletown is one of six cities with training programs already approved by the council under a new law requiring minimum instruction for all policemen, deputy sheriffs and similar law enforcement officers.

Cook indicated that three more schools would be notified within 30 days that they have met the council's minimum requirements but he declined to name them.

Other cities with programs already in excess of minimum requirements are Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton and Toledo.

Soviet Envoy Silent Over Hanoi Talks

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet envoy Alexander N. Shelepin hasn't given the slightest public hint since he arrived in Hanoi last Friday that he is putting any pressure on the North Vietnamese to agree to peace talks with the United States.

This does not necessarily mean that the Russians have been inactive in this direction.

The Communists have an advantage in their secret diplomacy which the governments of Western nations may sometimes envy. They do not feel constrained to keep their public informed of what they are doing. And they are able to force their controlled press and radio to say what they want them to.

If the Russians begin talking peace, the "leak" is more likely to come from Communist China.

The Chinese spent much time prior to Shelepin's visit warning President Ho Chi Minh and his Vietnamese associates against being taken in by Soviet aid. They charged that Shelepin's mission was to get the North Vietnamese so heavily indebted to Moscow that it could later dictate peace terms favorable to the United States.

Peking coupled these accusations with contemptuous references to Soviet assistance as second-rate, ineffective and inadequate.

The North Vietnamese, who find themselves in the position of poor relations who want help from all members of the Communist family, have bent over backward to show that they love both the Russians and the Chinese.

To keep the Russians happy, Premier Pham Van Dong and other leaders have praised Soviet help to the skies, calling it valuable, effective and welcome. They also have noted the important assistance of the Chinese and other Communist countries.

Since Shelepin's arrival in Hanoi, the Chinese have remained silent on his mission. But it can be taken for granted that they are watching every step he makes.

If there is a move toward peace in Hanoi, the Chinese — who view such a possibility with alarm — probably will be the first to disclose it.

2 New TB Cases Listed In Report

LISBON — Two new cases of tuberculosis were reported in Columbiana County, a TB clinic report for December shows.

The report also disclosed that the clinic gave 64 chest X-rays and 142 Mantoux tuberculin tests last month. In addition, nurses made 133 home visits.

Dr. F. G. Kravec, clinic director, had one consultation with a patient. Three patients were started on medication, bringing to 163 the total on drug therapy at home.

Columbiana County has 16 TB patients in hospitals, 12 of them at county expense. Six of the hospital patients are from the general health district outside the cities, five are from Salem, three from Wellsville and two from East Liverpool.

Real Depot Houses Railroad Museum

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Bob Echols family has everything it needs to run a railroad except a train. In fact, their home is known as Echols Junction, where a real depot houses a growing railroad museum.

Echols' father, two uncles and grandfather had been railroaders, and he himself worked for a railroad during high school days. A collection that started out as a few mementos became so large that a special place was needed for display. They found just the right place — a 17 by 20-foot depot that had been abandoned after 40 years' use as a station in Maricopa, Ariz. A housemoving firm transported it to the Echols' back yard.

In the depot's bay window is an authentic telegraph desk, complete with half a dozen chattering dot - dash instruments. There are more than 50 kerosene lanterns hanging from the ceiling. Markers, emblems and hundreds of other items from 200 American railroads are displayed. Outside are two steel-wheeled baggage wagons and a section crew's hand car, as well as a railroad crossing sign that came from an abandoned track in New Mexico.

9 Arrested In Dope Raids At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus police raided three apartments in the Ohio State University district Tuesday, arresting eight persons and confiscating quantities of marijuana after receiving information from Akron authorities. A ninth person was arrested late Tuesday night.

The action here, Sgt. Tom Waters of the Columbus narcotics squad said, stemmed directly from Monday's raid in which two Akron men were arrested there with marijuana allegedly in their possession.

Akron police had hinted Tuesday the arrest of Ralph Reimenschneider, 26, a salesman, and Richard Dally, 24, could lead to further arrests.

These developed here when Ohio State student Sterling F. Wagner, 23, was picked up and allegedly implicated others nabbed at three other addresses.

Reimenschneider, according to Sgt. Waters, had involved Wagner.

John Dale Cowan III, 22 was arrested alone at his apartment, and six others were apprehended at another residence. One is a regular Ohio State student, another an off-and-on enrollee not currently in school. The others are nonstudents.

Waters said perhaps a dozen more arrests may be made before the investigation is over.

Akron police said Tuesday they had evidence that large quantities of marijuana have been shipped into their area recently from Mexico.

They confiscated about 25 pounds of the drug in the Monday raids. Columbus police said they found about a pound, in several bottles, and several pipes in their raids.

The six arrested in one swoop were Miss Carol L. Stecher, 21, a student; Sylvia A. Mills, 23; Gary H. Flanders, 25; Vernon T. Bost, 22, Harry D. Shea, 22, and William W. Inskeep, 22.

All six gave Columbus addresses.

John T. Drake, 25, was arrested just before midnight at his apartment.

All nine were to be arraigned in municipal court today on various charges including conspiracy to violate federal narcotics laws, keeping a house where narcotics are sold, and illegal sale and possession of drugs.

People In News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Dorothy Malone, who underwent 7½ hours of surgery for removal of blood clots in her lungs, says she is going to devote much of her energy to promoting heart research.

"Aside from the care and alertness of the doctors, it was research that saved my life — and so much of the Heart Fund is for research," says Miss Malone, 40, the star of television's "Peyton Place."

CHICAGO (AP) — When he was a boy, Archbishop John Patrick Cody wanted to be a fireman, just like his father, a one-time deputy fire marshal of St. Louis.

He changed his mind along the way, but Tuesday Archbishop Cody, head of the Chicago Roman Catholic archdiocese, dropped into a fire station for a visit.

The firemen showed him round the station and invited him to lunch. Then the fire alarm sounded and the company was called to a fire a few blocks away.

Archbishop Cody sat beside a deputy fire marshal and pressed the siren button with his foot all the way to the fire.

He watched as firemen brought a mother and child down safely from their second-floor apartment.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Republican Winthrop Rockefeller is ready for another try at the governorship of Arkansas.

He filed his papers as a candidate, promising better schools, more jobs and improved highways if elected.

Rockefeller ran in 1964, but lost to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a Democrat. Faubus has not said if he will seek a seventh term.

Winthrop is the brother of Nelson A. Rockefeller, governor of New York.

Board To Air Cruiser Bids

The Board of Control, comprised of Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, took under advisement three bids received early Tuesday afternoon on purchase of a new auto for use as a police cruiser.

The apparent low offer of $2,360 was filed by Mike Turk, Inc., of E. 6th and Walnut Sts., which offered a 1966 model Chevrolet Biscayne sedan.

The specifications call for a four-door sedan with an automatic transmission and a motor developing at least 275 horsepower. Each of the bidders offered a V-8 power plant.

The other bidders were:

Mackall Motors of Pennsylvania Ave., a 1966 Ford Custom model for $2,429.07.

Bob White Ford, Inc., of Wellsville, also a 1966 Ford Custom, for $2,395.

In addition to the mayor and director, the bid-opening session in the mayor's office was attended by Engineer George S. Bloomgren, who is clerk of the board, and Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

After the sealed offers were opened and read, Willshaw moved to take the bids under advisement, seconded by Vodrey.

The city will have no trade-in on the new auto. An insurance settlement has been received on a 1964 model cruiser which was wrecked when hit by a private car in December on St. Clair Ave. The old police car probably will be disposed of at private sale, "as is."

Clinton Man's Trial Planned

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Thursday morning for Robert W. Everly, 62, of Clinton, arrested Tuesday at 11:15 p. m. on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Everly's appearance bond was set at $500. Patrolman Paul C. Blevins reported he cited the defendant on the Diamond after noting that he was driving the wrong direction on the one-way section of E. 6th St.

At the request of the two parties, Judge Chertoff today dismissed charges of reckless driving which Wellsville and East Liverpool drivers filed against each other as a result of a traffic mishap Dec. 21 in the wide intersection of Broadway, St. Clair Ave. and Lincoln Ave.

The crash involved the autos of Robert E. Powell of 636½ Henry Ave., Wellsville, and John E. Scritchfield of 843 Pennsylvania Ave. Each had charged the other with reckless driving. The cases were due to be heard today following several continuances.

John Thomas Hubbard of 808 Washington Ave., Wellsville, was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic light at Broadway and E. 5th St. He was cited Tuesday at 9:20 p. m.

Despite Poking At Fringe In Viet

No U.S. Troops Expected To Be Moved Into Delta

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. combat forces have been poking at the northern fringe of the Mekong River delta, sloshing waist-deep through muddy expanses west of Saigon in search of the Viet Cong.

American paratroopers this month launched an operation that carried to the Plain of Reeds, the sometimes swamp, sometimes dust bowl, that pushes into Cambodia. It was wet and they got a taste of what it would be like to be fighting in the delta proper.

Despite this sampling, there is no indication of plans to move U.S. ground units into the delta itself at this time.

The delta is part of South Viet Nam's 4th Corps, the only part of the country where U.S. fighting forces are not based. Vietnamese troops, and their American advisers, wage war there against the Viet Cong.

U.S. officials repeatedly have said that the decision not to station American troops in the delta is based entirely on the military situation. They say politics has not entered into it, and that if there is a need for U.S. forces in the delta, they will be sent.

Even so, some informed speculation has persisted that it was considered politically wise to leave one of the four corps areas to the Vietnamese themselves. The Vietnamese often can be sensitive about their role in the war, and most American officials are eager to emphasize that this is a Vietnamese war with Vietnamese soldiers still doing the larger part of the fighting and dying.

By whatever reasoning, the delta still is the place where the war goes on much as it has for years.

There have been innovations brought by the wider use of helicopters that quickly lift troops in and out of prospective battle areas; heavy artillery and Navy gunfire support, and air pwer that has included attacks by B52s.

These have not, however, brought sudden or dramatic changes.

The delta, about 26,000 square miles of flat land criss-crossed by myriad rivers, streams and canals, once was almost entirely Viet Cong country. Some of the bloodiest fighting of the war has taken place there, and government forces have suffered costly defeats along the waterways and in the mangrove swamps south of Saigon.

Over the past year there were some changes. The pendulum marking the intensity of the fighting swung North to the 1st and 2nd Corps areas, where bigger battles took place and where U.S. troops were committed.

There was a feeling, challenged in some quarters, that things were improved somehwat in the delta. Rumors that elite Viet Cong units had been moved out to fight in the central highlands or other areas in the North were not confirmed. The Viet Cong in the delta may have been biding their time. At almost regular intervals, they demonstrated they could strike quickly and savagely at government units and they still held the redoubts they had always held.

Some qualified U.S. officials believe government forces are at least holding their own, and perhaps have made a little progress in spots. This is one of the practical and psychological reasons it seems unlikely that American troops will move into the delta soon.

Should the situation deteriorate suddenly, there probably would be no hesitance to rush in Americans. The importance of the delta could not be ignored.

Though much of it is swampland or watery forest, it is the rice bowl of the Mekong. More than a third of South Viet Nam's 15 million people live there in only one-quarter of the country's land space.

The Viet Cong are believed to have about 45,000 men operating in the delta, about 7,000 of them hard-core troops well-armed and well-trained.

The Saigon regime maintains three divisions there. Some of the bloodiest clashes have involved Vietnamese ranger battalions, moved in by helicopters.

The delta is vastly different from other parts of South Viet Nam, but the war there is much the same as the war over the rest of the countryside — a standoff without the prospect of decisive military victory.

Soviet Envoy Silent Over Hanoi Talks

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet envoy Alexander N. Shelepin hasn't given the slightest public hint since he arrived in Hanoi last Friday that he is putting any pressure on the North Vietnamese to agree to peace talks with the United States.

This does not necessarily mean that the Russians have been inactive in this direction.

The Communists have an advantage in their secret diplomacy which the governments of Western nations may sometimes envy. They do not feel constrained to keep their public informed of what they are doing. And they are able to force their controlled press and radio to say what they want them to.

If the Russians begin talking peace, the "leak" is more likely to come from Communist China.

The Chinese spent much time prior to Shelepin's visit warning President Ho Chi Minh and his Vietnamese associates against being taken in by Soviet aid. They charged that Shelepin's mission was to get the North Vietnamese so heavily indebted to Moscow that it could later dictate peace terms favorable to the United States.

Peking coupled these accusations with contemptuous references to Soviet assistance as second-rate, ineffective and inadequate.

The North Vietnamese, who find themselves in the position of poor relations who want help from all members of the Communist family, have bent over backward to show that they love both the Russians and the Chinese.

To keep the Russians happy, Premier Pham Van Dong and other leaders have praised Soviet help to the skies, calling it valuable, effective and welcome. They also have noted the important assistance of the Chinese and other Communist countries.

Since Shelepin's arrival in Hanoi, the Chinese have remained silent on his mission. But it can be taken for granted that they are watching every step he makes.

If there is a move toward peace in Hanoi, the Chinese — who view such a possibility with alarm — probably will be the first to disclose it.

2 New TB Cases Listed In Report

LISBON — Two new cases of tuberculosis were reported in Columbiana County, a TB clinic report for December shows.

The report also disclosed that the clinic gave 64 chest X-rays and 142 Mantoux tuberculin tests last month. In addition, nurses made 133 home visits.

Dr. F. G. Kravec, clinic director, had one consultation with a patient. Three patients were started on medication, bringing to 163 the total on drug therapy at home.

Columbiana County has 16 TB patients in hospitals, 12 of them at county expense. Six of the hospital patients are from the general health district outside the cities, five are from Salem, three from Wellsville and two from East Liverpool.

Robert Parkins presided.

Lunch was served 21 by Mrs. Marie Pugh and the committee.

The next meeting will be Jan. 25 at the Grange Hall.

Real Depot Houses Railroad Museum

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Bob Echols family has everything it needs to run a railroad except a train. In fact, their home is known as Echols Junction, where a real depot houses a growing railroad museum.

Echols' father, two uncles and grandfather had been railroaders, and he himself worked for a railroad during high school days. A collection that started out as a few mementos became so large that a special place was needed for display. They found just the right place — a 17 by 20-foot depot that had been abandoned after 40 years' use as a station in Maricopa, Ariz. A housemoving firm transported it to the Echols' back yard.

In the depot's bay window is an authentic telegraph desk, complete with half a dozen chattering dot - dash instruments. There are more than 50 kerosene lanterns hanging from the ceiling. Markers, emblems and hundreds of other items from 200 American railroads are displayed. Outside are two steel-wheeled baggage wagons and a section crew's hand car, as well as a railroad crossing sign that came from an abandoned track in New Mexico.

9 Arrested In Dope Raids At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus police raided three apartments in the Ohio State University district Tuesday, arresting eight persons and confiscating quantities of marijuana after receiving information from Akron authorities. A ninth person was arrested late Tuesday night.

The action here, Sgt. Tom Waters of the Columbus narcotics squad said, stemmed directly from Monday's raid in which two Akron men were arrested there with marijuana allegedly in their possession.

Akron police had hinted Tuesday the arrest of Ralph Reimenschneider, 26, a salesman, and Richard Dally, 24, could lead to further arrests.

These developed here when Ohio State student Sterling F. Wagner, 23, was picked up and allegedly implicated others nabbed at three other addresses.

Reimenschneider, according to Sgt. Waters, had involved Wagner.

John Dale Cowan III, 22 was arrested alone at his apartment, and six others were apprehended at another residence. One is a regular Ohio State student, another an off-and-on enrollee not currently in school. The others are nonstudents.

Waters said perhaps a dozen more arrests may be made before the investigation is over.

Akron police said Tuesday they had evidence that large quantities of marijuana have been shipped into their area recently from Mexico.

They confiscated about 25 pounds of the drug in the Monday raids. Columbus police said they found about a pound, in several bottles, and several pipes in their raids.

The six arrested in one swoop were Miss Carol L. Stecher, 21, a student; Sylvia A. Mills, 23; Gary H. Flanders, 25; Vernon T. Bost, 22, Harry D. Shea, 22, and William W. Inskeep, 22.

All six gave Columbus addresses.

John T. Drake, 25, was arrested just before midnight at his apartment.

All nine were to be arraigned in municipal court today on various charges including conspiracy to violate federal narcotics laws, keeping a house where narcotics are sold, and illegal sale and possession of drugs.

People In News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Dorothy Malone, who underwent 7½ hours of surgery for removal of blood clots in her lungs, says she is going to devote much of her energy to promoting heart research.

"Aside from the care and alertness of the doctors, it was research that saved my life — and so much of the Heart Fund is for research," says Miss Malone, 40, the star of television's "Peyton Place."

CHICAGO (AP) — When he was a boy, Archbishop John Patrick Cody wanted to be a fireman, just like his father, a one-time deputy fire marshal of St. Louis.

He changed his mind along the way, but Tuesday Archbishop Cody, head of the Chicago Roman Catholic archdiocese, dropped into a fire station for a visit.

The firemen showed him round the station and invited him to lunch. Then the fire alarm sounded and the company was called to a fire a few blocks away.

Archbishop Cody sat beside a deputy fire marshal and pressed the siren button with his foot all the way to the fire.

He watched as firemen brought a mother and child down safely from their second-floor apartment.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Republican Winthrop Rockefeller is ready for another try at the governorship of Arkansas.

He filed his papers as a candidate, promising better schools, more jobs and improved highways if elected.

Rockefeller ran in 1964, but lost to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a Democrat. Faubus has not said if he will seek a seventh term.

Winthrop is the brother of Nelson A. Rockefeller, governor of New York.

Board To Air Cruiser Bids

The Board of Control, comprised of Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, took under advisement three bids received early Tuesday afternoon on purchase of a new auto for use as a police cruiser.

The apparent low offer of $2,360 was filed by Mike Turk, Inc., of E. 6th and Walnut Sts., which offered a 1966 model Chevrolet Biscayne sedan.

The specifications call for a four-door sedan with an automatic transmission and a motor developing at least 275 horsepower. Each of the bidders offered a V-8 power plant.

The other bidders were:

Mackall Motors of Pennsylvania Ave., a 1966 Ford Custom model for $2,429.07.

Bob White Ford, Inc., of Wellsville, also a 1966 Ford Custom, for $2,395.

In addition to the mayor and director, the bid-opening session in the mayor's office was attended by Engineer George S. Bloomgren, who is clerk of the board, and Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

After the sealed offers were opened and read, Willshaw moved to take the bids under advisement, seconded by Vodrey.

The city will have no trade-in on the new auto. An insurance settlement has been received on a 1964 model cruiser which was wrecked when hit by a private car in December on St. Clair Ave. The old police car probably will be disposed of at private sale, "as is."

West Point PTA Holds Meeting

WEST POINT — A summary of school activities by Standish Miller, elementary supervisor of the Beaver Local School District, featured Monday night's meeting of the West Point Parent-Teacher Association.

His topic was "Where Have We Been? What Are We Doing? And Where Are We Going?"

Mrs. James White, association president, conducted business and names Mrs. T. W. Roberts, chairman, Doyle Gilkinson and Mrs. Marjorie Stiles to a nominating committee.

James Fryman, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, announced plans are being made for a dance in February and a festival in April.

The first grade, taught by Mrs. Lucille Snyder, received the attendance banner and the room mothers served the refreshments.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Francis Grier.

The next meeting will be Feb. 14, with Mrs. Ruth Jenkins, patient service chairman of the Columbiana County chapter of muscular dystrophy, as guest speaker.

Films Screened For Newell PTA

Two films, "Your Child and Discipline" and "A Child's I.Q.," were screened by Miss Karen Lahr, teacher, during the meeting of the Wells Junior High Parent - Teacher Association of Newell Tuesday night at the school.

Devotions were conducted by the Rev. Walter Speece.

Reports of the secretary, treasurer and membership chairman were presented.

Harry Edmond, president, appointed Mrs. Caroline Mountford, Mrs. Robert Carnahan and Mrs. Kenneth Dunlevy as a nominating committee and Mrs. Curtis P. Smith, Mrs. Donald Thornberry and Mrs. Leonard Copestick as an auditing committee.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Copestick, Mrs. Carnahan and Mrs. Ray Bailey from a buffet table centered with yellow button mums and ferns flanked with lighted tapers.

New Collection Made To Order

By KELLY SMITH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If the girl loves to be girlish — sophisticated during the day and flirtatious after dark — James Galanos' new collection of chiffons and color are made to order.

There's more bosom, more leg, more movement and more swishing skirts than ever before. At his showing Tuesday, Galanos termed it a "young collection for women over 30."

Daytime hemlines are above the knee. Shoes are low-heeled sandles and the hats look like big Japanese coolie hats, sometimes at an angle, sometimes set straight on the head.

For evening, Galanos utilizes the fabric he says denotes femininity: chiffon, layers of it. Gowns are a basic dress of silk, covered by long-sleeved smocks of printed chiffons.

The huge Japanese kimono sleeve shows up in short as well as evening dresses, as do flying panels, pleats from the bust to the floor and flounces below the torso.

The waistline wanders, if it shows up at all.

Galanos crepe evening gowns have tiny straps and peek-a-boo cutouts around the waist, under the arms and down the front and back.

Equally seductive is the covcrup look of a high neck, long loose sleeves and a button-down back — with several bottom buttons left unfastened.

The dress-coat combinations are slender silhouettes made mobile by deep pleats either down the back or front. Coats are sometimes collarless, sometimes not, occasionally double-breasted, and all are cut with narrow shoulders.

Galanos stuck with more conservative, soft colors — grays, beige, navy and black — for daytime and saved the apricots, limes, yellow, oranges, red and greens for nighttime.

"Clothes are younger, more wearable nowadays," says Galanos. "I can't expect the older ladies to wear skirts above their knees, but hems can be changed. New? Everything is new. This is our best."

New Officers Elected By Young Democrats

Officers were elected and installed during a meeting of the East Liverpool Young People's Democratic Club Tuesday night at the offices of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Named were Carol Lonkert, president; Barbara Fitch, vice president; Carolyn Morrison, treasurer, and Jim Hissom, secretary.

The members plan to attend a meeting of the Women's Democratic Club Thursday night. The next meeting will be Feb. 8.

Stokes Eyes 3rd Term In Ohio House

CLEVELAND (AP) — State Rep. Carl B. Stokes says he will seek a third term in the Ohio House.

Making the announcement at a news conference Tuesday, Stokes repeated his assertion of last week that he could not support Cleveland Council President James V. Stanton if Stanton seeks the Democratic nomination for governor this year.

"I doubt very much if we have the time and can afford the privilege of in-service training for young Stanton," said Stokes. He said the Democratic nominee for governor must be someone "known once he gets beyond Parmatown."

Stokes, 38, a Democrat, lost by only 2,143 votes to incumbent Ralph S. Locher in last November's mayoralty election. His candidacy for the Ohio House is the first to be announced in the 44th District.

He told newsmen he chose to return to the House because "reapportionment gives the state's urban population its first chance in 50 years to attack problems which have become an albatross around the neck of metropolitan centers."

Stokes had said last week that he was giving consideration to seeking the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor of Ohio.

Chamber Told Of 'Aircade' Planned For Toledo Feb. 17

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce was advised Tuesday afternoon of a regional "Aircade" program planned at Toledo by the U. S. Chamber Thursday, Feb. 17.

Representatives of the U. S. Chamber will explain pending Congressional legislation to officers and other representatives of local Chambers throughout the region.

The "Aircade" programs are held annually, taking their name from the fact the U. S. Chamber representatives travel from city to city by air.

Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., president, conducted the Tuesday meeting here, the first of 1966 for the trustees.

A representative of a Junior Chamber of Commerce committee explained to the board a brochure which the Jaycees intend to publish, citing the advantages of the community and the area as a way of encouraging new business and industry and promoting tourism.

The Jaycee project was explained by William Kozel Jr.

Arthur Doak, reporting for the civic affairs committee, discussed a 19-point program for municipal improvements which Mayor George E. Willshaw presented to Council at its meeting Jan. 3.

He said the committee plans to meet soon with the mayor and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to discuss the mayor's program and other suggestions for municipal improvement and to decide upon ways of supporting the administration in its objectives.

George A. Shaw reported on activities of the Community Improvement Corp. since the board's last meeting. He also announced that the CIC Board of Trustees will meet Thursday at the Chamber office.

Dayton Allen, chairman, reported on activities of the East Liverpool Merchants Association. Don Eckert discussed progress on preparation of a "master plan" for the city. He is chairman of the City Planning Commission.

The board also discussed the status of an investigation relative to a site for a county airport. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 8.

Hair-Raising Exploit; Thief Flees With Wig

Police theft files recorded a real hair-raising exploit Tuesday afternoon. A thief escaped with a wig from a downtown millinery.

Employes at Ash Millinery at E. 6th and Market Sts. reported the theft at 1:30 p. m. They said a man walked out of the shop with a wig made of auburn-colored hair. Police, armed with a description of the thief, combed the area unsuccessfully. They refused to admit the man made a hair-breadth escape.

Police said the thief was a male, about 6 feet, of slender build, with a goatee on his chin. He was wearing a gray topcoat with a black turban wound around his head, officers were told.

New Director Named By Bank In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Terry W. Nash, president of the L. W. Nash Co., was elected a new director of the First National Bank Monday.

Lester E. Hart, president, was returned at the meeting, during which directors voted a regular 75 cent per share dividend plus an additional 75-cent dividend.

Jack H. Cohen was named chairman of the board.

Airmail Note Bares Ouster Of U.S. Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic channels stood idle when the little kingdom of Burundi decided to give the boot to the American ambassador.

It sent a letter — an airmail letter — to notify Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The letter arrived at the State Department in one of the big fat mailbags that are delivered daily.

"We get tons of mail," a State Department official said today. "It's hard to tell on the face of it whether an ordinary letter in open mail demands priority attention.

"That's not the way to transmit diplomatic notes."

Donald A. Dumont, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the kingdom of Burundi, was ousted Monday from Bujumbura.

He arrived Tuesday at Leopoldville, the Congo, with two aides and a puzzled air.

Why were the three kicked out of the central African nation?

"That's a $64 question," Dumont said.

In Washington, the State Department denied as "wholly without foundation" a Bujumbura charge that the American diplomats had maintained contacts with "conspirators" in Burundi.

The Burundi allegations and expulsion demand were made by Foreign Minister Marc Manirakiza in the airmail letter to Rusk.

The foreign minister's letter from Bujumbura was dated Dec. 29. It showed up in the State Department's African Affairs Bureau Jan. 10, the same day Dumont was being called to the Burundian Foreign Ministry and given 24 hours to get out.

Just when the letter got to Washington was part of the puzzle.

Tuesday the State Department ordered the expulsion of Burundi's ambassador here. That accomplished Washington's first such tit-for-tat in the 1966 diplomatic season.

Ashbrook And Devine Urge Hanoi Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — "This is not a pink tea; this is not table tennis," said Rep. John M. Ashbrook, one of two Ohio congressmen among six House Republicans calling Tuesday for an embargo on all Allied shipments to the Hanoi regime. "Free world shipments to North Viet Nam and Cuba endanger the flower of our manhood in one case and our security as a nation in the other," Ashbrook said.

Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Columbus remarked that British ships carried almost 60 per cent of 1965 shipments into North Viet Nam ports—"yet we are assisting the British-led blockade against Rhodesia. This would be hilarious if it were not so tragic."

Dallas Firm Has Low Bid On Ohio Project

CHICAGO (AP)—The Sam P. Wallace Co., Inc., of Dallas, Tex., has submitted the apparent low bid for improving the U.S. Post Office terminal annex building in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The General Services Administration said Tuesday the Wallace bid was $5,398,700.

New Collection Made To Order

By KELLY SMITH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If the girl loves to be girlish — sophisticated during the day and flirtatious after dark — James Galanos' new collection of chiffons and color are made to order.

There's more bosom, more leg, more movement and more swishing skirts than ever before. At his showing Tuesday, Galanos termed it a "young collection for women over 30."

Daytime hemlines are above the knee. Shoes are low-heeled sandles and the hats look like big Japanese coolie hats, sometimes at an angle, sometimes set straight on the head.

For evening, Galanos utilizes the fabric he says denotes femininity: chiffon, layers of it. Gowns are a basic dress of silk, covered by long-sleeved smocks of printed chiffons.

The huge Japanese kimono sleeve shows up in short as well as evening dresses, as do flying panels, pleats from the bust to the floor and flounces below the torso.

The waistline wanders, if it shows up at all.

Galanos crepe evening gowns have tiny straps and peek-a-boo cutouts around the waist, under the arms and down the front and back.

Equally seductive is the cover-up look of a high neck, long loose sleeves and a button-down back — with several bottom buttons left unfastened.

The dress-coat combinations are slender silhouettes made mobile by deep pleats either down the back or front. Coats are sometimes collarless, sometimes not, occasionally double-breasted, and all are cut with narrow shoulders.

Galanos stuck with more conservative, soft colors — grays, beige, navy and black — for daytime and saved the apricots, limes, yellow, oranges, red and greens for nighttime.

"Clothes are younger, more wearable nowadays," says Galanos. "I can't expect the older ladies to wear skirts above their knees, but hems can be changed. New? Everything is new. This is our best."

Chamber Told Of 'Aircade' Planned For Toledo Feb. 17

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce was advised Tuesday afternoon of a regional "Aircade" program planned at Toledo by the U. S. Chamber Thursday, Feb. 17.

Representatives of the U. S. Chamber will explain pending Congressional legislation to officers and other representatives of local Chambers throughout the region.

The "Aircade" programs are held annually, taking their name from the fact the U. S. Chamber representatives travel from city to city by air.

Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., president, conducted the Tuesday meeting here, the first of 1966 for the trustees.

A representative of a Junior Chamber of Commerce committee explained to the board a brochure which the Jaycees intend to publish, citing the advantages of the community and the area as a way of encouraging new business and industry and promoting tourism.

The Jaycee project was explained by William Kozel Jr.

Arthur Doak, reporting for the civic affairs committee, discussed a 19-point program for municipal improvements which Mayor George E. Willshaw presented to Council at its meeting Jan. 3.

He said the committee plans to meet soon with the mayor and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to discuss the mayor's program and other suggestions for municipal improvement and to decide upon ways of supporting the administration in its objectives.

George A. Shaw reported on activities of the Community Improvement Corp. since the board's last meeting. He also announced that the CIC Board of Trustees will meet Thursday at the Chamber office.

Dayton Allen, chairman, reported on activities of the East Liverpool Merchants Association. Don Eckert discussed progress on preparation of a "master plan" for the city. He is chairman of the City Planning Commission.

The board also discussed the status of an investigation relative to a site for a county airport. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 8.

Hair-Raising Exploit; Thief Flees With Wig

Police theft files recorded a real hair-raising exploit Tuesday afternoon. A thief escaped with a wig from a downtown millinery.

Employes at Ash Millinery at E. 6th and Market Sts. reported the theft at 1:30 p. m. They said a man walked out of the shop with a wig made of auburn-colored hair. Police, armed with a description of the thief, combed the area unsuccessfully. They refused to admit the man made a hair-breadth escape.

Police said the thief was a male, about 6 feet, of slender build, with a goatee on his chin. He was wearing a gray topcoat with a black turban wound around his head, officers were told.

New Director Named By Bank In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Terry W. Nash, president of the L. W. Nash Co., was elected a new director of the First National Bank Monday.

Lester E. Hart, president, was returned at the meeting, during which directors voted a regular 75 cent per share dividend plus an additional 75-cent dividend.

Jack H. Cohen was named chairman of the board.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 21-year-old girl who is going with a 23-year-old graduate student. We plan to be engaged on Valentine's Day. I hope you won't think my "problem" is too silly to bother with. It's serious to me.

Frank is very handsome but his eyebrows are extremely bushy. They grow together in the middle instead of separating, the way most people's do. He looks as if he has one eyebrow over both eyes.

The other evening I asked Frank if he'd let me tweeze a few hairs out of the middle. He laughed and said, "You'll make me look like a pansy. I'd be in a fight every 30 minutes."

Please understand I don't want to shape his eyebrows or anything like that. I just want to pull out a few hairs and improve his looks. What do you think? — FRANK'S GIRL.

Dear Girl: Your idea is good but your approach is wrong. Most well-groomed men ask their barbers to do those little chores. Barbers use scissors, not tweezers. Suggest this to Frank and let's hope he goes for the "Great Divide."

Understanding Folks

Dear Ann: My story is not new, but it might sound different coming from a mother. Our 16 - year - old daughter couldn't say "no" and became pregnant.

No girl can imagine what a mother goes through when she gets such news — not until she hears it from her own daughter, God forbid.

Her father and I stood by. We never belittled her or shed a tear in her presence. But we cried plenty at night behind closed doors. With the help of a wonderful family doctor we made arrangements to send her to a home for unwed mothers.

Two days before she was to leave she had a normal miscarriage. Now several months later, things are quiet and she is dating several nice young men.

I hope all young girls who read this letter will ask themselves: "How would my mother and father react to an announcement that I'm pregnant?" — A MOTHER STILL IN SHOCK.

Dear Mother: Thanks for a powerful letter. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mutual Disagreement

Dear Ann: I disagree violently with your advice that the father should tell his young children whose mother committed suicide that "Mommy took the wrong medicine and it made her very sick and God called her to heaven."

This is a perfect example of telling children a lie that might scar them for life.

A child who is given such ideas will be terrified every time he has to take medicine or be vaccinated. He will live in fear that he is taking the wrong medicine or that the doctor may be making a mistake.

I'm 33 years old and I'm still trying to overcome some of the fears instilled in me during childhood by parents who thought it best not to tell the truth. — ETHEL.

Dear Ethel: Sorry, but we still disagree. I think it's better to tell a child that "Mommy took the wrong medicine" than to say "Mommy killed herself."

Sometimes young children of suicide victims feel it was their fault, that they failed the parent. This can be far more damaging than the fear of taking the wrong medicine.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

City Share Of Court Income Climbs Slightly During 1965

Municipal Court turned over $43,100 of its 1965 income to the city treasury, a gain of $883 from the $42,217 which the city received out of the 1964 receipts, it was shown today in the annual report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The court's overall revenue in 1965 was $48,374, which also included $1,974 paid to the county treasury, $2,199 turned over to the state treasury and $1,099 paid to the Law Library Association.

The receipts included $39,676 in fines, costs and forfeitures from city criminal cases, as compared with $38,256 in 1964. Costs in civil cases hit $3,423 last year, against $3,961 in 1964.

The overall amount handled by the court last year was $89,670, down $17,641 from the $107,312 handled in 1964. The sums handled last year included $36,193 in civil cases and $53,477 in criminal cases.

City criminal fines and costs, by months, were: January, $1,941; February, $3,850; March, $3,264; April, $2,383; May, $2,176; June, $4,413; July, $5,357; August, $4,036; September, $3,296; October, $2,415; November, $3,427, and December, $3,114.

Receipts in civil cases by months were: January, $354; February, $360; March, $366; April, $259; May, $338; June, $312; July, $180; August, $309; September, $221; October, $307; November, $246, and December, $163.

The report showed 423 civil cases were filed during the year, 370 were disposed of and 213 were left pending; 790 city criminal cases were filed, 734 were disposed of and 111 were left pending, and 707 state criminal cases were filed, 683 were disposed of and 151 were left pending.

The year also saw filing of 423 civil cases, with 780 disposed of and 707 left pending.

OSU Vice President May Get Missouri Job

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri is reported near naming a new president, and Ohio State University Vice President John C. Weaver is rumored a leading possibility.

Retiring President Elmer Ellis declined to say Tuesday night if a successor had been chosen. He suggested that the board of trustees might have an announcement soon — possibly today.

Much Credit Goes To Hamburger

British Couple Millionth Visitor To U.S. In 1965

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States made two new friends today, and much of the credit has to go to a hamburger.

Last Dec. 17, Anthony and Elizabeth Howard of St. Margaret's Bay, Kent, England, were just a young British couple with a love for travel and three weeks to spend vacationing in the United States.

By Dec. 18, the Howards were celebrities.

Computers at the U.S. Travel Service of the Department of Commerce designated Mrs. Howard the one-millionth tourist to enter the United States in 1965.

That distinction brought two expense-paid days in New York and two more in Washington.

They leave for home today with some classic opinions about life in the United States and with gourmet tastes for American hamburgers.

The Howards visited New York, Washington, Los Angeles and Tucson, Ariz., going west for a friend's wedding.

It included the usual sightseeing ("We did the National Gallery in 15 minutes"), horseback riding ("Riding western saddle is like sitting in an arm chair"), attendance at the Rose Bowl game ("We sat in the Michigan State section and shouted for UCLA") and a look at a basement nightclub ("Sort of a subpavement folk singing cellar").

The Howards had these observations on life in "The Colonies":

Mr. Howard, who plays rugby, on football:

"It makes me laugh. I think it's funny that it is called exercise. I enjoy watching it, but in rugby, one keeps playing all the time — one just keeps going. You don't stand around resting in a circle deciding what to do next or sit at the side for 10 minutes. And if a player breaks a leg, the team just plays short one man."

Mr. Howard on modern living:

"In England when one pushes a button, one expects it not to work. In America when a button doesn't work, it disrupts the entire way of life."

Mrs. Howard on dishwashers:

"Where we stayed in Tucson, there were two. We wouldn't think of having one at home. Dishwashing is a social event — everyone helps."

Mrs. Howard on American meals:

"When one goes out they put on your plate more than one could possibly eat. In England, one feels very ill-mannered when leaving something on one's plate. In America one is obliged to feel ill mannered."

Both of them on American hamburgers:

"They're wonderful. In England, they're dry, tasteless and artificial. Hamburgers here are a delicious way of life. In England, they are an unpleasant necessity. Weiners are the same in both countries — not very good."

The Howards were the first millionth visitors to the United States since the federal government and the travel industry launched its joint Visit USA program in 1961.

With Mrs. Howard the millionth visitor of 1965, Mr. Howard said:

"I guess that would make me the million and first. I was a gentleman and let her get off the plane ahead of me."

Airmail Note Bares Ouster Of U.S. Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic channels stood idle when the little kingdom of Burundi decided to give the boot to the American ambassador.

It sent a letter — an airmail letter — to notify Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The letter arrived at the State Department in one of the big fat mailbags that are delivered daily.

"We get tons of mail," a State Department official said today. "It's hard to tell on the face of it whether an ordinary letter in open mail demands priority attention.

"That's not the way to transmit diplomatic notes."

Donald A. Dumont, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the kingdom of Burundi, was ousted Monday from Bujumbura.

He arrived Tuesday at Leopoldville, the Congo, with two aides and a puzzled air.

Why were the three kicked out of the central African nation?

"That's a $64 question," Dumont said.

In Washington, the State Department denied as "wholly without foundation" a Bujumbura charge that the American diplomats had maintained contacts with "conspirators" in Burundi.

The Burundi allegations and expulsion demand were made by Foreign Minister Marc Manirakiza in the airmail letter to Rusk.

The foreign minister's letter from Bujumbura was dated Dec. 29. It showed up in the State Department's African Affairs Bureau Jan. 10, the same day Dumont was being called to the Burundian Foreign Ministry and given 24 hours to get out.

Just when the letter got to Washington was part of the puzzle.

Tuesday the State Department ordered the expulsion of Burundi's ambassador here. That accomplished Washington's first such tit-for-tat in the 1966 diplomatic season.

Ashbrook And Devine Urge Hanoi Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — "This is not a pink tea; this is not table tennis," said Rep. John M. Ashbrook, one of two Ohio congressmen among six House Republicans calling Tuesday for an embargo on all Allied shipments to the Hanoi regime. "Free world shipments to North Viet Nam and Cuba endanger the flower of our manhood in one case and our security as a nation in the other," Ashbrook said.

Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Columbus remarked that British ships carried almost 60 per cent of 1965 shipments into North Viet Nam ports—"yet we are assisting the British-led blockade against Rhodesia. This would be hilarious if it were not so tragic."

Dallas Firm Has Low Bid On Ohio Project

CHICAGO (AP)—The Sam P. Wallace Co., Inc., of Dallas, Tex., has submitted the apparent low bid for improving the U.S. Post Office terminal annex building in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The General Services Administration said Tuesday the Wallace bid was $5,398,700.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Stays Pure And Anemic

One of the season's new TV series which revealed signs of being more than just another ordinary mom-and-pop situation comedy was "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." The initial Tuesday night episode lived up to NBC's "sophisticated half-hour comedy" tag, and it appeared that the producers were going to do more than merely use the title of Jean Kerr's best seller to flavor a TV version.

Hal Humphrey

But hardening of the arteries set in fast, as it seems to now with most TV situation comedy, and by the time two or three more episodes had been aired, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" was hardly distinguishable from most of the other family series on TV now or in the past.

-:-

JOAN AND JAMES NASH (played by Pat Crowley and Mark Miller) lost their identity as a mature man and woman living together and were turned by the writers into comedy traffic cops for their four kids and a sheep dog.

Nobody involved in a TV series such as this ever seems to know exactly why pernicious anemia sets in so rapidly. Fear of the word "sophistication" may have something to do with it.

Several years ago CBS obtained the rights to author-lecturer Emily Kimbrough's book, "It Gives Me Great Pleasure," which was about a female lecturer and her problems with raising twin girls between lecture tours, and turned it into a series starring Eve Arden.

The network billed the role as "somewhat more sophisticated" than Miss Arden's earlier hit series, "Our Miss Brooks."

WITHIN 26 WEEKS the new Eve Arden Show was canceled. Miss Arden blamed it on a skittish sponsor worried over imaginary implications in a plot with just a mother and two girls not under the strictest of supervision.

A kindly grandmother was brought in to cope with the girls, but, as Miss Kimbrough observed later, this left the mother with no parental problem and ultimately no show.

Barry Nelson and Joan Caulfield turned up a decade ago in about the most adult situation comedy yet seen on TV.

In "My Favorite Husband" they appeared the first season as a bright couple involved in some fairly mature byplay not particularly geared to a kid audience. But again there were network (CBS again) fears that the series might not be attracting the maximum audience, and by the second season "My Favorite Husband" lost its class and wasn't around for a third season.

-:-

"I DON'T BELIEVE we grab the whole audience by involving the kids on our show all the time," says Mark Miller, the husband in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies."

He and Pat Crowley have held many unilateral confabs on the direction of their series and have argued for a return to some honest-to-goodness situations wherein the two of them can act like real people.

Miller, probably more hopeful than realistic, thinks upcoming shows are better and that even more wit and cleverness and provocative plots can be employed without alienating the kid audience or the senior citizens.

He even might go further by pointing out to the producer how "Daisies" steadily has wilted as far as the ratings are concerned, so what is there to lose by borrowing more pages from author Kerr's original book—at least in spirit?

TV BEING the conservative animal it is, however, there isn't much chance that "Daisies" will be allowed to grow up any more than "My Favorite Husband" or Eve Arden's series did.

The only family-type comedy series on the air when even smacks of adult humor is the Dick Van Dyke show. When it winds up its tenure on CBS-TV at the end of this season, the most sophisticated thing left on TV may be "Gomer Pyle."

It's a cinch that the only reason Eva Gabor was allowed on TV finally was her acquiescence to appear in the bucolic background afforded in the "Green Acres" series. In other words, she needed some kind of Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval.

The really funny thing about all of this is that the executives running TV are urbane and cynical and generally men-about-town.

Cornpicker Accident Fatal To Ohio Farmer

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — A farmer helping out on a neighbor's farm Tuesday near Hamden was caught in a cornpicker and killed.

The victim, Earl Cade, 58, was a one-time unsuccessful Republican candidate for Vinton County clerk of courts.

Two Ohioans Claimed In Viet Nam Action

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The war in South Viet Nam this week claimed the lives of two Butler Countians.

Pfc. Charles C. Swartz, 23, LeSourdsville was fatally wounded in a Viet Cong ambush while on a patrol with the 1st Infantry Division.

The other war victim was Navy Storekeeper Thomas F. Bruck, 30, whose parents said they had been notified he was killed Sunday when his jeep hit a mine or was fired upon near De Nang.

Complaint By Armco Results In Injunction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A complaint by Armco Steel Co. resulted Tuesday in a permanent federal court injunction against another firm using "Interarmco" as a trade name or corporation name.

U. S. District Judge Joseph Jackson issued the injunction against International Armament Corp. and Interarmco, Ltd. He ordered them not to use any "imitation" of the name of Armco, a Middletown, Ohio, company.

Pentagon Says News Media Abide By Request On Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon believes most of the nation's newspapers, radio and television stations are going along with its recent request to withhold news about troop unit deployments until official announcements are made.

This form of voluntary censorship was proposed in a memorandum issued Oct. 30 by Arthur Sylvester, public information chief.

His memorandum said press corps members covering Viet Nam had agreed voluntarily to delay news stories or publication of photographs on movements of troops, ships or aircraft until officially announced by U.S. headquarters in Saigon. He requested media in the United States to do the same.

Advance disclosure that particular units or ships have been ordered to Southeast Asia or were en route, Sylvester said, "can assist the Viet Cong."

When the Pentagon was asked today about reaction to the request, a spokesman said: "The Defense Department has conducted no survey on this matter, nor does it intend to.

"However, since there have been moves under way in recent weeks that normally would be obvious to the press and since we have noted no accounts of these moves, we must assume that the large majority of U.S. news media are cooperating with our request.

"This, of course, is a continuation of previous cooperation."

Pass Bond Issue

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Voters in the Pioneer Joint Vocational School District narrowly passed a $1,995,000 bond issue and also approved a one-mlil operating levy Tuesday to assure construction and operation of the planned school. It will serve parts of Ashland, Richland, Crawford, Huron and Morrow counties.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 21-year-old girl who is going with a 23-year-old graduate student. We plan to be engaged on Valentine's Day. I hope you won't think my "problem" is too silly to bother with. It's serious to me.

Frank is very handsome but his eyebrows are extremely bushy. They grow together in the middle instead of separating, the way most people's do. He looks as if he has one eyebrow over both eyes.

The other evening I asked Frank if he'd let me tweeze a few hairs out of the middle. He laughed and said, "You'll make me look like a pansy. I'd be in a fight every 30 minutes."

Please understand I don't want to shape his eyebrows or anything like that. I just want to pull out a few hairs and improve his looks. What do you think? — FRANK'S GIRL

Dear Girl: Your idea is good but your approach is wrong. Most well-groomed men ask their barbers to do those little chores. Barbers use scissors, not tweezers. Suggest this to Frank and let's hope he goes for the "Great Divide."

Understanding Folks

Dear Ann: My story is not new, but it might sound different coming from a mother. Our 16-year-old daughter couldn't say "no" and became pregnant.

No girl can imagine what a mother goes through when she gets such news — not until she hears it from her own daughter, God forbid.

Her father and I stood by. We never belittled her or shed a tear in her presence. But we cried plenty at night behind closed doors. With the help of a wonderful family doctor we made arrangements to send her to a home for unwed mothers.

Two days before she was to leave she had a normal miscarriage. Now several months later, things are quiet and she is dating several nice young men.

I hope all young girls who read this letter will ask themselves: "How would my mother and father react to an announcement that I'm pregnant?" — A MOTHER STILL IN SHOCK.

Dear Mother: Thanks for a powerful letter. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mutual Disagreement

Dear Ann: I disagree violently with your advice that the father should tell his young children whose mother committed suicide that "Mommy took the wrong medicine and it made her very sick and God called her to heaven."

This is a perfect example of telling children a lie that might scar them for life.

A child who is given such ideas will be terrified every time he has to take medicine or be vaccinated. He will live in fear that he is taking the wrong medicine or that the doctor may be making a mistake.

I'm 33 years old and I'm still trying to overcome some of the fears instilled in me during childhood by parents who thought it best not to tell the truth. — ETHEL.

Dear Ethel: Sorry, but we still disagree. I think it's better to tell a child that "Mommy took the wrong medicine" than to say "Mommy killed herself."

Sometimes young children of suicide victims feel it was their fault, that they failed the parent. This can be far more damaging than the fear of taking the wrong medicine.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

City Share Of Court Income Climbs Slightly During 1965

Municipal Court turned over $43,100 of its 1965 income to the city treasury, a gain of $883 from the $42,217 which the city received out of the 1964 receipts, it was shown today in the annual report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The court's overall revenue in 1965 was $48,374, which also included $1,974 paid to the county treasury, $2,199 turned over to the state treasury and $1,099 paid to the Law Library Association.

The receipts included $39,676 in fines, costs and forfeitures from city criminal cases, as compared with $38,256 in 1964. Costs in civil cases hit $3,423 last year, against $3,961 in 1964.

The overall amount handled by the court last year was $89,670, down $17,641 from the $107,312 handled in 1964. The sums handled last year included $36,193 in civil cases and $53,477 in criminal cases.

City criminal fines and costs, by months, were: January, $1,941; February, $3,850; March, $3,264; April, $2,383; May, $2,176; June, $4,413; July, $5,357; August, $4,036; September, $3,296; October, $2,415; November, $3,427, and December, $3,114.

Receipts in civil cases by months were: January, $354; February, $360; March, $366; April, $259; May, $338; June, $312; July, $180; August, $309; September, $22t; October, $307; November, $246, and December, $163.

The report showed 423 civil cases were filed during the year, 370 were disposed of and 213 were left pending; 790 city criminal cases were filed, 734 were disposed of and 111 were left pending, and 707 state criminal cases were filed, 683 were disposed of and 151 were left pending.

The year also saw filing of 423 civil cases, with 780 disposed of and 707 left pending.

OSU Vice President May Get Missouri Job

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri is reported near naming a new president, and Ohio State University Vice President John C. Weaver is rumored a leading possibility.

Retiring President Elmer Ellis declined to say Tuesday night if a successor had been chosen. He suggested that the board of trustees might have an announcement soon — possibly today.

Much Credit Goes To Hamburger

British Couple Millionth Visitor To U.S. In 1965

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States made two new friends today, and much of the credit has to go to a hamburger.

Last Dec. 17, Anthony and Elizabeth Howard of St. Margaret's Bay, Kent, England, were just a young British couple with a love for travel and three weeks to spend vacationing in the United States.

By Dec. 18, the Howards were celebrities.

Computers at the U.S. Travel Service of the Department of Commerce designated Mrs. Howard the one-millionth tourist to enter the United States in 1965.

That distinction brought two expense-paid days in New York and two more in Washington.

They leave for home today with some classic opinions about life in the United States and with gourmet tastes for American hamburgers.

The Howards visited New York, Washington, Los Angeles and Tucson, Ariz., going west for a friend's wedding.

It included the usual sightseeing ("We did the National Gallery in 15 minutes"), horseback riding ("Riding western saddle is like sitting in an arm chair"), attendance at the Rose Bowl game ("We sat in the Michigan State section and shouted for UCLA") and a look at a basement nightclub ("Sort of a subpavement folk singing cellar").

The Howards had these observations on life in "The Colonies":

Mr. Howard, who plays rugby, on football:

"It makes me laugh. I think it's funny that it is called exercise. I enjoy watching it, but in rugby, one keeps playing all the time — one just keeps going. You don't stand around resting in a circle deciding what to do next or sit at the side for 10 minutes. And if a player breaks a leg, the team just plays short one man."

Mr. Howard on modern living:

"In England when one pushes a button, one expects it not to work. In America when a button doesn't work, it disrupts the entire way of life."

Mrs. Howard on dishwashers:

"Where we stayed in Tucson, there were two. We wouldn't think of having one at home. Dishwashing is a social event — everyone helps."

Mrs. Howard on American meals:

"When one goes out they put on your plate more than one could possibly eat. In England, one feels very ill-mannered when leaving something on one's plate. In America one is obliged to feel ill mannered."

Both of them on American hamburgers:

"They're wonderful. In England, they're dry, tasteless and artificial. Hamburgers here are a delicious way of life. In England, they are an unpleasant necessity. Weiners are the same in both countries — not very good."

The Howards were the first millionth visitors to the United States since the federal government and the travel industry launched its joint Visit USA program in 1961.

With Mrs. Howard the millionth visitor of 1965, Mr. Howard said:

"I guess that would make me the million and first. I was a gentleman and let her get off the plane ahead of me."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruso —

Dear Folks: Many of us are now using stainless steel skillets.

One precious "doll" allowed me to experiment on her stainless steel skillet that was l-o-a-d-e-d with black carbon on the bottom. For two months she had tried to get this off with soapfilled steel wool pads. Ugh!

All I did was dampen the bottom of the skillet and sprinkle it quite thickly with some electric dishwashing compound (this is ordinarily used in electric dishwashers, and we found that the brand made no difference when used for this purpose), then covered it with a paper napkin (a thin rag will do), and poured a little water over the napkin.

I let this set at least 30 minutes — overnight won't hurt.

So help me, when I removed the napkin, I took my dishrag and wiped off the skillet, and nearly all of the carbon was removed!

Imagine!

It just came off like magic. I don't even know why.

-:-

THERE WERE only a few spots remaining where I hadn't put enough of the compound, or the black goop was so thick on the skillet that it took another treatment.

Now . . . all you little honeys who keep house should try to remember that carbon (that's the black stuff from grease spatters, etc., on the bottom of our pots and pans) accumulates one coat at a time.

Heretofore, we have been told that it must be removed one coat at a time. But, this method removes coats and coats of it within an hour.

-:-

JUST KEEP in mind: If you scour the bottoms of your pots and pans each time you use 'em, the soil will not accumulate.

The dirt on the bottoms of cooking utensils will rub off on our stove grates and soil our clean-bottomed pans.

So, while you are about it, remove the grates from the stove (you can bet they have particles of carbon on them, too), and soak them overnight in a gallon of hot water, to which you have added at least a half cup of electric dishwasher compound.

HELOISE

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: After reading in your column about the daughter-in-law who keeps her mother-in-law from telling her how to do things, by saying, "Heloise said do-it-so-and-so"...

Thinking it would help, I tried it on my mother-in-law today, only to have her reply, "Don't try that on me. I read Heloise every day!"

ANOTHER DAUGHTER - IN - LAW.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: To store my packaged mixes, I use a loaf pan wide enough for the packages, and long enough to fit on my cupboard shelf.

This resembles a sort of filing system.

Any long, narrow, washable container would do. Sure keeps them neat.

MRS. W. A. WALSINGHAM.

DEAR HELOISE: IF you use wooden kitchen matches and have trouble with the striker strip wearing out before the matches are all used, get a package of sandpaper at the dime store, and either staple a strip of it over the side of the match box, or cut it to fit in the match holder (just the size of the side of the box).

This usually will outlast a box of matches.

I'm assuming you have the matches in an old-fashioned tin, or other metal match box where the box of matches stands on end, and the striker strip shows through an opening in the side of the metal box.

OLIVE C.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When I was ironing a huge piece of nylon net, it took off all the starch, and other things that had accumulated on the bottom of the iron!

C. L.
13 YEARS OLD

DEAR HELOISE: The suggestion of giving the children cans from the shelf to play grocery store . . . . is a great idea —but Mom ends up putting away all the cans, boxes, etc., in their proper places!

I save empty cans that I have opened with an opener—which leaves no rough edges. I supply them with empty toothpaste boxes, brown bags, grocery receipts, etc.

When their play is over, all of this is picked up by them and placed in a cardboard box in their closet.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Whining Child Needs Peace, Quiet

The child of any age who often cries and whines is hard to live with. Besides, he often is very unhappy himself. Such behavior is bad enough when the child is two, three or four. But it can be worse to endure as this child continues to cry and whine often as he grows older. A mother writes from California describing her whining child, eight:

Dr. Garry Myers

"How may we better cope with our third - grade daughter who, when she has homework or is doing anything involving parental help, or sometimes by herself, is impatient; or not knowing or understanding something, immediately whines and cries instead of saying so in normal tones.

"Sometimes we wish we could let her go without help, it is so irritating. How can we help her to improve her attitude? She says she wants to improve but doesn't."

MY REPLY in part.

From your letter one can't easily get at the causes of her chronic crying and whining. Nor do we know for how many years she has done so because of small or larger frustrations. Neither do we know whether there are some physical causes requiring medical care; nor how much your own irritation over her whining, betrayed perhaps by your own whining, are contributing causes.

You should, of course, have her checked by her physician and explain her ways to him. You made no reference to brothers or sisters. If there are some, she might feel she is not loved as much as they are. Even as an only child, she could be starving for affection. Do what you can to help her feel secure and wanted.

I'm sure there's not much sense in talking with her about the problem. You need to try to figure out what your parents may do in hundreds of everyday situations to help her.

MY GUESS is that this child is very high - strung and nervous. Limit her TV viewing and forbid programs of violence. I hope you protect her from undue frustrations, excitement and fatigue and provide her with a cheerful, serene family atmosphere.

Do try you and your husband, to speak in quiet, companionable tones in her presence. Try to help her cultivate playmates of her age and to have wholesome fun with them. I just wonder if you and Dad are able to keep very, very calm and patient while helping her to learn anything.

If you are angry then and let your voice rise you will surely make the problem worse. If you feel the least bit vexed with her when trying to help her with her lessons, or any stirring in your insides, walk speechless away as unfit to be in her presence. It could be wiser to have a stranger work with her at her lessons.

At other times try to find periods when you can be wholly relaxed with her, when you can fully enjoy each other. Aim to find times uninterrupted when she will want to talk to you about her experiences, tell you of some of her sorrows and her joys, her failures and successes, especially at play.

AT SUCH times she may welcome your putting your arm around her and talking tenderly to her. If she does not care for that, she will like to hear affection in your voice and to feel assured of your enthusiastic interest in what she is interested. I'm sure she is a very precious person.

My bulletins "The Nervous Child," "A Parent's Prayer," "The Nervous, Jittery Mother," "When the Child Cries," and "Helping Child With Lessons at Home" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Three Wounded In Holdup Plot In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police say an apparent attempted holdup at a home in Pittsburgh's Squirrel Hill section erupted into a gun battle Tuesday night. Three men were wounded, one critically.

Police gave this account:

Arnold Roth, 51, owner of taverns in the Glenwood and Homewood sections, entered his home at about 7 p.m.

Two men, who apparently had been waiting for him, tried to rob Roth. Roth went for a gun and shots were exchanged.

Police, summoned by a young girl neighbor who heard the shots, found Roth critically wounded in the abdomen. Also found in the home was Harry Holden, 36, of Pittsburgh's East End, who had a neck wound.

Daniel Kerston, 32, also of the East End turned up an hour later at a doctor's office seeking treatment for a hip wound.

Kersten and Holden were charged with attempted robbery, felonious assault with intent to kill and violation of the Uniform Firearms Act.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Stays Pure And Anemic

One of the season's new TV series which revealed signs of being more than just another ordinary mom-and-pop situation comedy was "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." The initial Tuesday night episode lived up to NBC's "sophisticated half-hour comedy" tag, and it appeared that the producers were going to do more than merely use the title of Jean Kerr's best seller to flavor a TV version.

Hal Humphrey

But hardening of the arteries set in fast, as it seems to now with most TV situation comedy, and by the time two or three more episodes had been aired, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" was hardly distinguishable from most of the other family series on TV now or in the past.

JOAN AND JAMES NASH (played by Pat Crowley and Mark Miller) lost their identity as a mature man and woman living together and were turned by the writers into comedy traffic cops for their four kids and a sheep dog.

Nobody involved in a TV series such as this ever seems to know exactly why pernicious anemia sets in so rapidly. Fear of the word "sophistication" may have something to do with it.

Several years ago CBS obtained the rights to author-lecturer Emily Kimbrough's book, "It Gives Me Great Pleasure," which was about a female lecturer and her problems with raising twin girls between lecture tours, and turned it into a series starring Eve Arden.

The network billed the role as "somewhat more sophisticated" than Miss Arden's earlier hit series, "Our Miss Brooks."

WITHIN 26 WEEKS the new Eve Arden Show was canceled. Miss Arden blamed it on a skittish sponsor worried over imaginary implications in a plot with just a mother and two girls not under the strictest of supervision.

A kindly grandmother was brought in to cope with the girls, but, as Miss Kimbrough observed later, this left the mother with no parental problem and ultimately no show.

Barry Nelson and Joan Caulfield turned up a decade ago in about the most adult situation comedy yet seen on TV.

In "My Favorite Husband" they appeared the first season as a bright couple involved in some fairly mature byplay not particularly geared to a kid audience. But again there were network (CBS again) fears that the series might not be attracting the maximum audience, and by the second season "My Favorite Husband" lost its class and wasn't around for a third season.

"I DON'T BELIEVE we grab the whole audience by involving the kids on our show all the time," says Mark Miller, the husband in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies."

He and Pat Crowley have held many unilateral confabs on the direction of their series and have argued for a return to some honest-to-goodness situations wherein the two of them can act like real people.

Miller, probably more hopeful than realistic, thinks upcoming shows are better and that even more wit and cleverness and provocative plots can be employed without alienating the kid audience or the senior citizens.

He even might go further by pointing out to the producer how "Daisies" steadily has wilted as far as the ratings are concerned, so what is there to lose by borrowing more pages from author Kerr's original book—at least in spirit?

TV BEING the conservative animal it is, however, there isn't much chance that "Daisies" will be allowed to grow up any more than "My Favorite Husband" or Eve Arden's series did.

The only family-type comedy series on the air when even smacks of adult humor is the Dick Van Dyke show. When it winds up its tenure on CBS-TV at the end of this season, the most sophisticated thing left on TV may be "Gomer Pyle."

It's a cinch that the only reason Eva Gabor was allowed on TV finally was her acquiescence to appear in the bucolic background afforded in the "Green Acres" series. In other words, she needed some kind of Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval.

The really funny thing about all of this is that the executives running TV are urbane and cynical and generally men-about-town.

Cornpicker Accident Fatal To Ohio Farmer

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — A farmer helping out on a neighbor's farm Tuesday near Hamden was caught in a cornpicker and killed.

The victim, Earl Cade, 58, was a one-time unsuccessful Republican candidate for Vinton County clerk of courts.

Two Ohioans Claimed In Viet Nam Action

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The war in South Viet Nam this week claimed the lives of two Butler Countians.

Pfc. Charles C. Swartz, 23, LeSourdsville was fatally wounded in a Viet Cong ambush while on a patrol with the 1st Infantry Division.

The other war victim was Navy Storekeeper Thomas F. Bruck, 30, whose parents said they had been notified he was killed Sunday when his jeep hit a mine or was fired upon near De Nang.

Complaint By Armco Results In Injunction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A complaint by Armco Steel Co. resulted Tuesday in a permanent federal court injunction against another firm using "Interarmco" as a trade name or corporation name.

U. S. District Judge Joseph Jackson issued the injunction against International Armament Corp. and Interarmco, Ltd. He ordered them not to use any "imitation" of the name of Armco, a Middletown, Ohio, company.

Pentagon Says News Media Abide By Request On Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon believes most of the nation's newspapers, radio and television stations are going along with its recent request to withhold news about troop unit deployments until official announcements are made.

This form of voluntary censorship was proposed in a memorandum issued Oct. 30 by Arthur Sylvester, public information chief.

His memorandum said press corps members covering Viet Nam had agreed voluntarily to delay news stories or publication of photographs on movements of troops, ships or aircraft until officially announced by U.S. headquarters in Saigon. He requested media in the United States to do the same.

Advance disclosure that particular units or ships have been ordered to Southeast Asia or were en route, Sylvester said, "can assist the Viet Cong."

When the Pentagon was asked today about reaction to the request, a spokesman said: "The Defense Department has conducted no survey on this matter, nor does it intend to.

"However, since there have been moves under way in recent weeks that normally would be obvious to the press and since we have noted no accounts of these moves, we must assume that the large majority of U.S. news media are cooperating with our request.

"This, of course, is a continuation of previous cooperation."

Pass Bond Issue

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Voters in the Pioneer Joint Vocational School District narrowly passed a $1,995,000 bond issue and also approved a one-mill operating levy Tuesday to assure construction and operation of the planned school. It will serve parts of Ashland, Richland, Crawford, Huron and Morrow counties.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruso —

Dear Folks: Many of us are now using stainless steel skillets.

One precious "doll" allowed me to experiment on her stainless steel skillet that was l-o-a-d-e-d with black carbon on the bottom. For two months she had tried to get this off with soapfilled steel wool pads. Ugh!

All I did was dampen the bottom of the skillet and sprinkle it quite thickly with some electric dishwashing compound (this is ordinarily used in electric dishwashers, and we found that the brand made no difference when used for this purpose), then covered it with a paper napkin (a thin rag will do), and poured a little water over the napkin.

I let this set at least 30 minutes — overnight won't hurt.

So help me, when I removed the napkin, I took my dishrag and wiped off the skillet, and nearly all of the carbon was removed!

Imagine!

It just came off like magic. I don't even know why.

-:-

THERE WERE only a few spots remaining where I hadn't put enough of the compound, or the black goop was so thick on the skillet that it took another treatment.

Now . . . all you little honeys who keep house should try to remember that carbon (that's the black stuff from grease spatters, etc., on the bottom of our pots and pans) accumulates one coat at a time.

Heretofore, we have been told that it must be removed one coat at a time. But, this method removes coats and coats of it within an hour.

-:-

JUST KEEP in mind: If you scour the bottoms of your pots and pans each time you use 'em, the soil will not accumulate.

The dirt on the bottoms of cooking utensils will rub off on our stove grates and soil our clean-bottomed pans.

So, while you are about it, remove the grates from the stove (you can bet they have particles of carbon on them, too), and soak them overnight in a gallon of hot water, to which you have added at least a half cup of electric dishwasher compound.

HELOISE

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: After reading in your column about the daughter-in-law who keeps her mother-in-law from telling her how to do things, by saying, "Heloise said do-it-so-and-so".

Thinking it would help, I tried it on my mother-in-law today, only to have her reply, "Don't try that on me. I read Heloise every day!"

ANOTHER DAUGHTER - IN - LAW.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: To store my packaged mixes, I use a loaf pan wide enough for the packages, and long enough to fit on my cupboard shelf.

This resembles a sort of filing system.

Any long, narrow, washable container would do. Sure keeps them neat.

MRS. W. A. WALSINGHAM.

DEAR HELOISE: IF you use wooden kitchen matches and have trouble with the striker strip wearing out before the matches are all used, get a package of sandpaper at the dime store, and either staple a strip of it over the side of the match box, or cut it to fit in the match holder (just the size of the side of the box).

This usually will outlast a box of matches.

I'm assuming you have the matches in an old-fashioned tin, or other metal match box where the box of matches stands on end, and the striker strip shows through an opening in the side of the metal box.

OLIVE C.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When I was ironing a huge piece of nylon net, it took off all the starch, and other things that had accumulated on the bottom of the iron!

C. L.
13 YEARS OLD

DEAR HELOISE: The suggestion of giving the children cans from the shelf to play grocery store . . . . is a great idea —but Mom ends up putting away all the cans, boxes, etc., in their proper places!

I save empty cans that I have opened with an opener—which leaves no rough edges. I supply them with empty toothpaste boxes, brown bags, grocery receipts, etc.

When their play is over, all of this is picked up by them and placed in a cardboard box in their closet.

M. A. C.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Whining Child Needs Peace, Quiet

The child of any age who often cries and whines is hard to live with. Besides, he often is very unhappy himself. Such behavior is bad enough when the child is two, three or four. But it can be worse to endure as this child continues to cry and whine often as he grows older. A mother writes from California describing her whining child, eight:

Dr. Garry Myers

"How may we better cope with our third - grade daughter who, when she has homework or is doing anything involving parental help, or sometimes by herself, is impatient; or not knowing or understanding something, immediately whines and cries instead of saying so in normal tones.

"Sometimes we wish we could let her go without help, it is so irritating. How can we help her to improve her attitude? She says she wants to improve but doesn't."

MY REPLY in part.

From your letter one can't easily get at the causes of her chronic crying and whining. Nor do we know for how many years she has done so because of small or larger frustrations. Neither do we know whether there are some physical causes requiring medical care; nor how much your own irritation over her whining, betrayed perhaps by your own whining, are contributing causes.

You should, of course, have her checked by her physician and explain her ways to him. You made no reference to brothers or sisters. If there are some, she might feel she is not loved as much as they are. Even as an only child, she could be starving for affection. Do what you can to help her feel secure and wanted.

I'm sure there's not much sense in talking with her about the problem. You need to try to figure out what your parents may do in hundreds of everyday situations to help her.

MY GUESS is that this child is very high - strung and nervous. Limit her TV viewing and forbid programs of violence. I hope you protect her from undue frustrations, excitement and fatigue and provide her with a cheerful, serene family atmosphere.

Do try you and your husband, to speak in quiet, companionable tones in her presence. Try to help her cultivate playmates of her age and to have wholesome fun with them. I just wonder if you and Dad are able to keep very, very calm and patient while helping her to learn anything.

If you are angry then and let your voice rise you will surely make the problem worse. If you feel the least bit vexed with her when trying to help her with her lessons, or any stirring in your insides, walk speechless away as unfit to be in her presence. It could be wiser to have a stranger work with her at her lessons.

At other times try to find periods when you can be wholly relaxed with her, when you can fully enjoy each other. Aim to find times uninterrupted when she will want to talk to you about her experiences, tell you of some of her sorrows and her joys, her failures and successes, especially at play.

AT SUCH times she may welcome your putting your arm around her and talking tenderly to her. If she does not care for that, she will like to hear affection in your voice and to feel assured of your enthusiastic interest in what she is interested. I'm sure she is a very precious person.

My bulletins "The Nervous Child," "A Parent's Prayer," "The Nervous, Jittery Mother," "When the Child Cries," and "Helping Child With Lessons at Home" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Three Wounded In Holdup Plot In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police say an apparent attempted holdup at a home in Pittsburgh's Squirrel Hill section erupted into a gun battle Tuesday night. Three men were wounded, one critically.

Police gave this account:

Arnold Roth, 51, owner of taverns in the Glenwood and Homewood sections, entered his home at about 7 p.m.

Two men, who apparently had been waiting for him, tried to rob Roth. Roth went for a gun and shots were exchanged.

Police, summoned by a young girl neighbor who heard the shots, found Roth critically wounded in the abdomen. Also found in the home was Harry Holden, 36, of Pittsburgh's East End, who had a neck wound.

Daniel Kerston, 32, also of the East End turned up an hour later at a doctor's office seeking treatment for a hip wound.

Kersten and Holden were charged with attempted robbery, felonious assault with intent to kill and violation of the Uniform Firearms Act.

Junior Editors Quiz on MINOTAURS

QUESTION: Why did the ancient dream up such monsters as minotaurs?

ANSWER: The story tellers of the ancient days of Greece and Rome seemed to enjoy stretching their imaginations and creating mythical gods, goddesses and animals. They would frequently take the qualities of two creatures and join them, making such colorful new creations as Pegasus, the beautiful horse with enormous white wings. Such imaginary animals were part of ancient mythology, which was probably created as an attempt to explain the wonders of life without a knowledge of scientific facts such as we possess today.

The minotaur was such a mythical monster, having the head of a bull and the body of a man. He was supposed to have have been kept by King Minos of Crete inside a maze of labyrinth, from which it was thought impossible to escape. Then Theseus, son of the king of Athens, penetrated the labyrinth and slew the minotaur, finding his way out again by use of a string he had laid down as he worked his way in. The ball of string had been given to him by Ariadne, a Cretan princess. Together with Ariadne, Theseus escaped from Crete.

★ ★ ★

FOR YO UTO DO: This is only part of the strange story of Theseus, who became the king of Greece. Go to your library and try to find out the whole story.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 12, the 12th day of 1966. There are 353 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1643, a band of colonists led by Samuel Gorton settled Warick, R.I., calling it Shawomet. It was one of four towns which in 1644 united to form the Colony of Rhode Island.

On this date

In 1737, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence, John Hancock, was born.

In 1920, the Women's Federal Suffrage Amendment was approved by the State of Oregon.

In 1911, President William Howard Taft asked Congress for funds to fortify the Panama Canal.

In 1946, the 82nd Airborne Division marched on New York's Fifth Avenue, in the first military parade of the kind since 1919.

Ten years ago — The FBI arrested six men in Boston suspected of complicity in the Brink's Express Company robbery.

Five years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower accounted for his eight years in the White House in his final message on the State of the Union.

One year ago — Dean Burch announced he would resign April 1 as Republican national chairman.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 12, the 12th day of 1966. There are 353 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1643, a band of colonists led by Samuel Gorton settled Warick, R.I., calling it Shawomet. It was one of four towns which in 1644 united to form the Colony of Rhode Island.

On this date

In 1737, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence, John Hancock, was born.

In 1920, the Women's Federal Suffrage Amendment was approved by the State of Oregon.

In 1911, President William Howard Taft asked Congress for funds to fortify the Panama Canal.

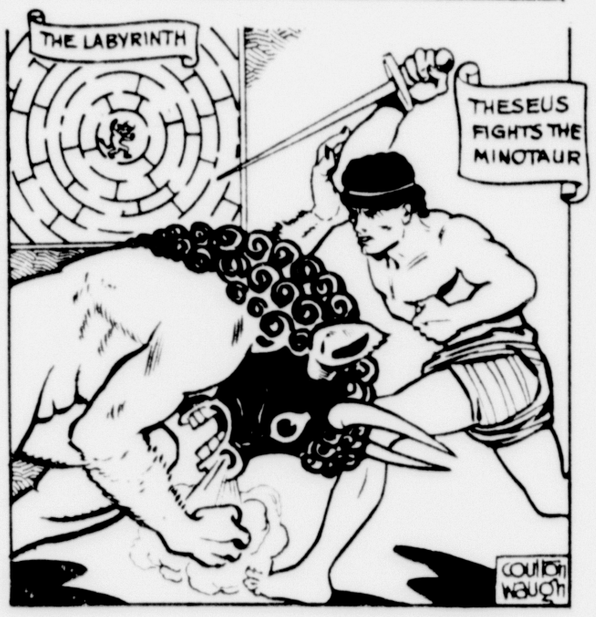
In 1946, the 82nd Airborne Division marched on New York's Fifth Avenue, in the first military parade of the kind since 1919.

Ten years ago — The FBI arrested six men in Boston suspected of complicity in the Brink's Express Company robbery.

Five years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower accounted for his eight years in the White House in his final message on the State of the Union.

One year ago — Dean Burch announced he would resign April 1 as Republican national chairman.

Junior Editors Quiz on MINOTAURS



QUESTION: Why did the ancient dream up such monsters as minotaurs?

ANSWER: The story tellers of the ancient days of Greece and Rome seemed to enjoy stretching their imaginations and creating mythical gods, goddesses and animals. They would frequently take the qualities of two creatures and join them, making such colorful new creations as Pegasus, the beautiful horse with enormous white wings. Such imaginary animals were part of ancient mythology, which was probably created as an attempt to explain the wonders of life without a knowledge of scientific facts such as we possess today.

The minotaur was such a mythical monster, having the head of a bull and the body of a man. He was supposed to have been kept by King Minos of Crete inside a maze of labyrinth, from which it was thought impossible to escape. Then Theseus, son of the king of Athens, penetrated the labyrinth and slew the minotaur, finding his way out again by use of a string he had laid down as he worked his way in. The ball of string had been given to him by Ariadne, a Cretan princess. Together with Ariadne, Theseus escaped from Crete.

FOR YO UTO DO: This is only part of the strange story of Theseus, who became the king of Greece. Go to your library and try to find out the whole story.
